order to further promote cultural diversity      Turkish Immigrants in the European Union Refik Erzan,Kemal Kirisci,2013-09-13 This book provides an analytical contribution to the contested issues marking Turkish membership to the European Union On October 2005 Turkey started the accession process towards EU membership Currently many Europeans fear that large numbers of Turkish nationals will flood member countries if Turkey were to become a member highlighting that many Turkish immigrants have failed to integrate into their host societies due to cultural difference Yet others argue that Turkey is a dynamic society with a growing educated population that could help address the dilemmas faced by most member countries emphasizing that accession would assist the integration of current immigrants in Europe Turkish Immigrants in the European Union addresses the following What are the demographic trends in Turkey compared to the member countries What is the potential scope and driving forces of immigration from Turkey to the EU How will these trends affect Turkish immigrants in Europe What is the integration problem of Turkish immigrants and how can it be resolved This book was previously published as a special issue of Turkish Studies and will be of interest to students and scholars of European studies and European integration      Understanding Ethnic Media Matthew D. Matsaganis,Vikki S. Katz,Sandra J. Ball-Rokeach,2011 At present the picture of the ethnic media is an incomplete one While there is significant material on the portrayal of ethnic minorities in the mainstream media and on how these representations affect ethnic perceptions there is very little material research on how the media produced by ethnic communities for ethnic communities affect 1 the perceptions of self and of the ethnic community and 2 how the production and consumption of ethnic media affects the character of the larger media landscape Understanding Ethnic Media approaches the ethnic media from the consumers point of view AND the producers vantage point as changes that occur in the ethnic community affect the media and vice versa This accessible textbook strives to bridge the gap between the consumer and the production centered research as it examines the relationships a between the ethnic media available in particular markets and b between the ethnic and mainstream media

Anti-racism and Multiculturalism Mark Alleyne, 2017-09-08 All scholarly books are engagements with the existing literature often the published scholarly work of one established discipline This book originated with modest objectives to produce a work that would be in conversation with the literature of international relations even though not of relevance only to that field The professed goal of international relations is international peace The ethical lens of pondering the best means to achieve world peace is used to filter media content in the field of multiculturalism and anti racism Although there has been little work on the impact of racial difference on the contours of contemporary international order there has been a sizeable body of research intended to abolish the credibility of pseudo scientific racism Such racism has provided the ideological foundation and justification for imperialism colonialism the holocaust and apartheid Race has been debunked as a myth Because of this racism the ideology bred of human classification according to racial difference has been found to be intellectually and morally barren But the need to communicate egalitarian and scientific sentiments remains The contributors to this volume consider five questions How does the literature on antiracism improve our understanding of conflict resolution How does the analysis of the media s role in racist and anti racist discourses improve the process of theorizing on hate and war propaganda How can research on anti racist discourse improve UN peacekeeping What implications does this subject have for theory building and cultural diversity How and why should the literature on anti racism expand research in international relations This is a unique worthwhile framework for cross disciplinary research in race and intellectual consensus and conflict

Media and Cultural Policy in the European Union, 2015-06-29 The areas of media and cultural policy offer a unique prism through which to understand wider processes of European integration Questions of European identity citizenship and community or polity building clearly resolve themselves as questions of the non emergence of a European communicative space At the same time as a more specific area of policy study the role which has or may be played by the European institutions themselves in the fostering of such a communicative space raises questions as to both the effectiveness and the legitimacy of their interventions This volume in the European Studies series brings fresh interdisciplinary insight into this relatively understudied area making the case for a renewed look at the trajectory of cultural and media policies in the EU Distinctively the collection offers a historical and socio political analysis of major media policies in the European Union allowing for the contextualisation of recent developments turns its attention to areas largely neglected by scholarly publishing such as the press the culture of the newsroom and the role of media in an enlarged Europe and addresses media and cultural policies as an interrelated part of EU construction through questions of identity and political representation Media and Cultural Policy in the European Union will be of interest to scholars and students of Cultural and Media Studies European Studies and European Integration as well as appealing to broader Social Science audiences concerned with the politics and policy of cultural diversity

Making the News Paschal Preston, 2008-10-27 Making the News provides a cross national perspective on key features of journalism and news making cultures and the changing media landscape in contemporary Europe Focusing on the key trends practices and issues in contemporary journalism and news cultures Paschal Preston maps the major contours of change as well as the broader industrial organizational institutional and cultural factors shaping journalism practices over the past two decades Moving beyond the tendency to focus on journalism trends and newsmaking practices within a single country Making the News draws on unique cross national research examining current journalism practices and related newsmaking cultures in eleven West Central and East European countries including in depth interviews with almost 100 senior journalists and subsequent workshop discussions with other interest groups Making the News links reviews and discussions of the existing literature to original research engaging with the views and experiences of journalists working at the coal face of contemporary newsmaking practices to provide an original study and useful student text Debating Immigrants and Refugees in Central Europe Jan Kovář,2023-08-01 This book investigates the politicisation and framing of immigration in the media and political arena in Central Europe examining two countries Czechia and Slovakia in the period surrounding the European migrant crisis Following years of immigration being practically invisible as an issue in the socio political debates in most Central and Eastern European countries it became a key concern because of the crisis Analyzing news media items and plenary speeches this book reveals how securitisation eclipses humanitarian considerations dominating the discourse around immigration and that media and politicians are the two most important intermediaries from which citizens take cues on issues they rarely experience directly themselves Finally it also shows how the media and political arena portray immigration differently based on the origin religious background and legal status of immigrants This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of migration studies global governance international organisations security studies and media studies as well as more broadly for public law comparative politics and East Central European politics Audience Transformations Nico Carpentier,Kim Christian Schröder,Lawrie Hallett,2013-07-31 The concept of the audience is changing In the twenty first century there are novel configurations of user practices and technological capabilities that are altering the way we understand and trust media organizations and representations how we participate in society and how we construct our social relations This book embeds these transformations in a societal cultural technological ideological economic and historical context avoiding a naive privileging of technology as the main societal driving force but also avoiding the media centric reduction of society to the audiences that are situated within Audience Transformations provides a platform for a nuanced and careful analysis of the main changes in European communicational practices and their social cultural and technological affordances Solidarity in the Media and Public Contention over Refugees in Europe Manlio Cinalli,Hans-Jörg Trenz,Verena Brändle,Olga Eisele,Christian Lahusen,2021-04-13 This book examines the European refugee crisis offering an in depth comparative analysis of how public attitudes towards refugees and humanitarian dispositions are shaped by political news coverage An international team of authors address the role of the media in contesting solidarity towards refugees from a variety of disciplinary perspectives Focusing on the public sphere the book follows the assumption that solidarity is a social value political concept and legal principle that is discursively constructed in public contentions The analysis refers systematically and comparatively to eight European countries namely Denmark France Germany Greece Italy Poland Switzerland and the United Kingdom Treatment of data is also original in the way it deals with variations of public spheres by combining a news media claims making analysis with a social media reception analysis In particular the book highlights the prominent role of the mass media in shaping national and transnational solidarity while exploring the readiness of the mass media to extend thick conceptions of solidarity to non members It proposes a research design for the comparative analysis of online news reception and considers the innovative potential of this method in relation to established public opinion research The book is of particular interest for scholars who are interested in the fields of European solidarity migration and refugees contentious politics while providing an approach that talks to scholars of journalism and political communication studies as well as digital journalism and online news reception

The Handbook of European Communication History Klaus Arnold, Paschal Preston, Susanne Kinnebrock, 2019-08-08 A groundbreaking handbook that takes a cross national approach to the media history of Europe of the past 100 years The Handbook of European Communication History is a definitive and authoritative handbook that fills a gap in the literature to provide a coherent and chronological history of mass media public communication and journalism in Europe from 1900 to the late 20th century With contributions from teams of scholars and members of the European Communication Research and Education Association the Handbook explores media innovations major changes and developments in the media systems that affected public communication as well as societies and culture The contributors also examine the general trends of communication history and review debates related to media development To ensure a transnational approach to the topic the majority of chapters are written not by a single author but by international teams formed around one or more lead authors The Handbook goes beyond national perspectives and provides a basis for more cross national treatments of historical developments in the field of mediated communication Indeed this important Handbook Offers fresh insights on the development of media alongside key differences between countries regions or media systems over the past century Takes a fresh cross national approach to European media history Contains contributions from leading international scholars in this rapidly evolving area of study Explores the major innovations key developments differing trends and the important debates concerning the media in the European setting Written for students and academics of communication and media studies as well as media professionals The Handbook of European Communication History covers European media from 1900 with the emergence of the popular press to the professionalization of journalists and the first wave of multimedia with the advent of film and radio broadcasting through the rapid growth of the Internet and digital media since the late 20th century
