Manufacturing of Medicines Magdalena Krekora, 2008-01-01 Taking advantage of liberal regulations under the current world trade regime that permit the separation of manufacturing from marketing many pharmaceutical companies like other companies outsource the actual manufacture of their products However because the quality of medicines is crucial to public health the pharmaceutical industry is perhaps the most regulated of all industries In most countries medicines are controlled prior to their marketing and their manufacture is carried out under strict supervision Necessarily numerous international initiatives have led to elaboration of standards relating to the manufacture and marketing of medicines These standards impose stringent rules on all parties to pharmaceutical manufacturing contracts This very useful book provides a comprehensive global guide to the legal issues and procedures involved in outsourcing the manufacture of medicines It describes the legal requirements relating to the manufacture and distribution of medicines emphasising the impact of regulatory supervision on the rights and obligations of persons who outsource manufacturing of medicines and on those who provide the manufacturing services The author provides detailed coverage of such pertinent topics as the following and definition of and medicine and in different jurisdictions and categories of medicines and manufacturing and importation regulation in numerous jurisdictions worldwide and inspection regimes and good manufacturing practice GMP and marketing authorization and manufacturing documentation and complaints and product recall and liability insurance and protection of trade secrets and data exclusivity and data protection and deficiencies and delays and and recognition and enforcement of judgements A significant part of the book is devoted to cross border problems arising from such matters as conflict of laws or taxation Indispensable to counsel for pharmaceutical companies of any size Contract Manufacturing of Medicines will also be of great value to practitioners and academics concerned with international trade for its precise in depth delineation of the inner workings of a complex and highly significant trade regime EU External Relations Law Stefan Lorenzmeier, Roman Petrov, Christoph Vedder, 2021-01-26 The book covers contributions from 18 authors from different countries and analyses the recent case law of the ECJ on the external competences of the European Union It deals with the impact of EU values on its relations with the Eastern neighbouring countries The first part focuses on the evolution and current challenges of the external actions of the European Union while the second part presents the EU cooperation with its Eastern neighbourhood and Eurasia The book addresses the Association Agreements with the countries of the Eastern Partnership with its Eastern neighbourhood and Eurasia the enhanced Partnership Agreements in the Eastern neighbourhood and post Soviet area and the current and future contractual relations with Eurasian Economic Union and its member states European Union Law

The Development of International Investment Law Yusuf Caliskan,2008 This dissertation analyses developments in the international regulation of foreign direct investment FDI The international legal framework of investment encompasses numerous binding or non binding legal instruments including customary international law bilateral investment treaties and international organizations decisions and resolutions The rules established by the international legal framework become effective and significant when they are able to be adapted by appropriate and compatible domestic law frameworks Through analyzing the Turkish foreign investment regulations and policies this study concludes that there is a successful and complex interaction between international rules and domestic rules on FDI Like many developing countries since the 1980s Turkey has revamped its FDI regulations in response to changes and developments in international investment law This interaction will reach its culmination if there is a comprehensive multilateral agreement on investment This dissertation examines failures of the OECD MAI draft treaty since there are lessons to be learned from the MAI negotiations Thus it makes some recommendations both in relation to the substance and the procedure for a possible future negotiation of multilateral investment agreement Oxford Principles of European Union Law Robert Schütze,Takis Tridimas,2018-02-23 Since the 1957 Rome Treaty the European Union has changed dramatically in terms of its composition scope and depth Originally established by six Western European States the EU today has 28 Members and covers almost the entire European continent and while initially confined to establishing a common market the EU has come to influence all areas of political economic and social life In parallel with this enormous geographic and thematic expansion the constitutional and legislative principles underpinning the European Union have constantly evolved This three volume study aims to provide an authoritative academic treatment of European Union law Written by leading scholars and practitioners each chapter offers a comprehensive and critical assessment of the state of the law Doctrinal in presentation each volume nonetheless tries to present a broader historical and comparative perspective Volume I provides an analysis of the constitutional principles governing the European Union It covers the history of the EU the constitutional foundations the institutional framework legislative and executive governance judicial protection and external relations Volume II explores the structure of the internal market while Volume III finally analyses the internal and external substantive policies of the EU

Regulating Artificial Intelligence Thomas Wischmeyer, Timo Rademacher, 2019-11-29 This book assesses the normative and practical challenges for artificial intelligence AI regulation offers comprehensive information on the laws that currently shape or restrict the design or use of AI and develops policy recommendations for those areas in which regulation is most urgently needed By gathering contributions from scholars who are experts in their respective fields of legal research it demonstrates that AI regulation is not a specialized sub discipline but affects the entire legal system and thus concerns all lawyers Machine learning based technology which lies at the heart of what is commonly referred to as AI is increasingly being employed to make policy and business decisions with broad social impacts and therefore runs the risk of causing wide scale damage At the same time AI technology is becoming more and more complex and difficult to understand making it harder to determine whether or not it is being used in accordance with the law In light of this situation even tech enthusiasts are calling for stricter regulation of AI Legislators too are stepping in and have begun to pass AI laws including the prohibition of automated decision making systems in Article 22 of the General Data Protection Regulation the New York City AI transparency bill and the 2017 amendments to the German Cartel Act and German Administrative Procedure Act While the belief that something needs to be done is widely shared there is far less clarity about what exactly can or should be done or what effective regulation might look like The book is divided into two major parts the first of which focuses on features common to most AI systems and explores how they relate to the legal framework for data driven technologies which already exists in the form of national and supra national constitutional law EU data protection and competition law and anti discrimination law In the second part the book examines in detail a number of relevant sectors in which AI is increasingly shaping decision making processes ranging from the notorious social media and the legal financial and healthcare industries to fields like law enforcement and tax law in which we can observe how regulation by AI is becoming a reality
