Effective Development Co-operation Debapriya Bhattacharya,Towfiqul Islam Khan,Najeeba Mohammed Altaf,2025-08-28 This book considers how development cooperation principles and practices can be made more inclusive and impactful Amplifying voices from across the global south the book combines key thematic discussions with new case studies spanning three continents and three key sectors agriculture education and social protection Global governance is at a crossroads and modalities of foreign aid delivery are under stress as international development cooperation continues to lose political traction in provider countries Presenting a novel and nuanced understanding of the dynamics shaping the global development landscape this book considers the strategic issues influencing development partnerships and outcomes It consolidates cross country policy insights from the global south based on sectoral experiences shaped by contextual realities The authors adapt the Moderator Mediator framework as a means of examining the contextual factors shaping development partnerships and consequently leading to successful development outcomes in a specific sector at the country level This book holds special relevance in the current political climate where the future of development financing is increasingly contested Global development researchers and students will benefit from the book s ingenious blending of sector specific insights and broader discussions of the themes underpinning contemporary development cooperation debates

Self-Assessment In Managing For Results Rosalía Rodríguez-García,Elizabeth M. White, Netherlands Annual Review of Military Studies 2015 Jörg Noll,Daan van den Wollenberg,Frans Osinga,Georg Frerks,Irene van Kemenade,2015-07-27 This book seeks to bridge the gap between academic political and military thinking concerning the success and failure of peacekeeping operations and their termination Exit strategies have recently gained attention in political military academic and public debates due to the Western engagement in international and intrastate conflicts since the end of the Cold War Yet many of those debates took place separately This volume which is predominantly a joint product of academics and the military of the Faculty of Military Sciences of the Netherlands Defence Academy shows new venues by bridging the putative political military divide Drawing on theory empirics and personal experiences the authors address exits at political strategic operational and tactical levels of current and past military missions and interventions ranging from decolonisation wars to

Afghanistan and Iraq Although some of those conflicts are still ongoing valid inferences can be drawn An important one is that exit forms a problem for those who leave and for those who stay While political and military objectives might not have been reached and many of those involved have the feeling that the job is still not yet done the termination of the entire mission or transitions at operational level necessitate both departures and handovers takeovers and are thereby characterised by discontinuities and continuities at the same time It is these dynamics between unfulfilled end states and end dates that in the end lead to the dilemma of leaving All the editors except van den Wollenberg are affiliated with the Faculty of Military Sciences of the Netherlands Defence Academy in Breda the Netherlands J rg Noll is Associate Professor of International Conflict Studies First Lieutenant Air Commodore Frans Osinga is Professor of Military Operational Art and Sciences Georg Frerks is Professor International Security Studies and Irene van Kemenade runs the Research Office of the Faculty Daan van den Wollenberg is Commander of a mechanized artillery platoon of the Netherlands armed forces

National Research Initiative Competitive Grants Program, 1996, 1996 Impact of Science on African Agriculture and Food Security P. Anandajayasekeram, M. Rukani, S. Babu, 2007 The need for agricultural research resources in the developing world cannot be underestimated but the availability of such resources is often poor due to lack of funding and investment In order for Africa and other such developing countries to achieve productivity in agriculture vital to food security poverty reduction and sustainable management of natural resources investment and policy development needs to be assessed This book a joint effort from IFPRI ILRI and the Kellogg Foundation explores the importance of impact assessment studies in Africa and assembles important evidence to pave the way for further much needed investment in agricultural research all over the developing world Integrating Quantitative and Qualitative Research in Development Projects Michael Bamberger, 2000 A report based on a workshop held in 1998 at which outside research specialists and World Bank staff discussed the importance of integrating quantitative and qualitative research methods and reviewed experiences in the use of mixed method approaches in Bank research and project design Public Policy Studies Stuart S. Nagel, 2002 Covers the methods substance and process of public policy Handbook of Research in Pediatric and Clinical Child Psychology Dennis Drotar, 2013-11-11 The professional development of researchers is critical for the future development of the fields of pediatric and clinical child psychology In order to conduct research in pediatric and clinical child psychology researchers need to work with a wide range of populations and master an increasingly wide range of skills many of which are either not formally taught or considered in sufficient depth in clinical training Such skills include the development of resources for research by writing grants to government agencies and foundations skills in preparing research for publications concerning original research review articles or case reports scientific presentation skills the ability to review and edit scientific manuscripts and to implement and manage research in applied settings Moreover the increasing complexity of research in pediatric and clinical child psychology requires successful researchers in these fields to develop their expertise with a wide range of new specialized methodologies data analytic methods models of data analysis and methods of assessment Finally to enhance the relevance of their research to practice researchers in pediatric and clinical child psychology need to integrate their work with clinical service delivery programs that are based on empirical research The necessity to train researchers in pediatric and clinical child psychology in such multifaceted knowledge and skills places extraordinary burdens on professional training programs Professional researchers in pediatric and clinical child psychology also are challenged to develop new knowledge and skills through continuing education and faculty development programs
