Evaluation in Social Research Jonathan A. Morell, 2016-06-06 Program Evaluation in Social Research presents a plan for developing evaluation into a form of applied social research that is methodologically sound relevant to the problems of society and built on a technological as opposed to a scientific model Evaluation as applied relevant social research and as social technology is described along with its validity and usefulness This book is comprised of eight chapters and opens with a discussion on the consequences of program evaluation for the conduct of social research and for society at large and how evaluation can be made into a method of generating practical and powerful suggestions for planning successful social programs The concept of outcome evaluation is also organized into meaningful categories which can be used for the intelligent planning of appropriate evaluation activities The following chapters consider the types of evaluation that are carried out the relative merits of each type and how to optimize the validity and utility of each type Evaluation as a technological rather than a scientific pursuit is also discussed The remaining chapters focus on the frictions that arise during the implementation of program evaluation program evaluation as a profession and how evaluation can be developed into a relevant and powerful method of guiding the course of social innovations This monograph will appeal to sociologists social scientists and social researchers Can the Social Sciences Solve the Problem of Unemployment? Henry M. Levin,1983

Evaluating with Validity Ernest R. House,2010-11-01 This reissued book is one of the key works that influenced and shaped the contemporary evaluation field The book developed a new expanded conception of the validity of evaluation studies based on broad criteria of truth beauty and justice It also presented a widely used typology of evaluation approaches and critiqued these approaches with the validity criteria Its long term influence is demonstrated by the book published in 1980 and criteria being prominently featured in the overall theme for the forthcoming American Evaluation Association s annual conference in November 2010 Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis ,1980 Income Maintenance Experiments United States. General Accounting Office,1981 Treatment of Child and Adult Survivors Byrgen P. Finkelmann,2013-08-06 First published in 1995 This is Volume five of a series that looks at the developmental stages in addressing the complex and social problem of child abuse The articles in this volume address the treatment of child victims and adult survivors of childhood sexual physical and emotional abuse and neglect Where physical abuse is concerned treatment of victims and survivors lagged far behind the treatment of sexual abuse victims and survivors This may be due in part to the fact that in cases of physical abuse with its physical manifestations that heal more attention is paid to the immediate physical safety of children than to their short and long term emotional needs Thereafter the focus of treatment tended to be on parents in hopes of preventing further abuse rather than on the abused children Policy and Action Susan Barrett,Colin Fudge,2025-08-01 It is widely appreciated that policies however carefully formulated too often fall down at the implementation stage This collection originally published in 1981 and which includes a number of case studies illustrating the roles and workings of the agencies involved focuses on implementation in public policy Part 1 reviews the literature on implementation and provides a theoretical context for examining the ten case studies in Part 2 which cover such policy areas as public expenditure employment housing social services health planning and land The editors also examine the main issues raised by the case studies and suggest a way of reconstructing an understanding of the implementation of public policy
