Feinstein, 2017-07-28 Climate change has become one of the most important global issues of our time with far reaching natural socio economic and political effects To address climate change and development issues from the perspective of evaluation an international conference was held in Alexandria Egypt This book distills the essence of that timely conference building on the experiences of more than 400 reports and studies presented Developing countries may be particularly vulnerable to the expected onslaught of higher temperatures rising sea levels changing waterfall patterns and increasing natural disasters All societies will have to reduce their vulnerability to these changes and this book describes how vulnerabilities may be addressed in a systematic manner so that governments and local communities may better understand what is happening Different approaches are also discussed including the use of human security as a criterion for evaluation as well as ways to deal with risk and uncertainty Evaluating Climate Change and Development presents a rich variety of methods to assess adaptation through monitoring and evaluation The volume deals with climate change development and evaluation challenges and lessons learned from evaluations mitigation of climate change adaptation to climate change vulnerability risks and climate change and presents a concluding chapter on the road ahead Collectively the authors offer a set of approaches and techniques for the monitoring and evaluation of climate change The Drive to Partnership John R. Foreign Aid and Development Finn Tarp,Peter Hjertholm,2000 Aid has worked in the past but can be made to work better in the future This book offers important new research and will appeal to those working in economics politics and development studies as well as to governmental and aid professionals Evaluating a Decade of World Bank Gender Policy, 1990-99 ,2005-01-01 Annotation As part of the Bank s poverty reduction mandate the Bank s 1994 Operational Policy on Gender Dimensions of Development aimed to reduce gender disparity and increase the participation of women in the economic development of their countries This evaluation examines the relevance and results of this policy Jordan Fareed M. A. Hassan,Djelloul Al-Saci,2004-01-01 This evaluation prepared in collaboration with the Islamic Development Bank looks at the effectiveness of World Bank assistance to Jordan during the 1990s from three perspectives an analysis of the World Bank s services and products development impact and the contribution of the Bank and its development partners to development outcomes The World Bank s strategy since 1990 based on wide ranging and influential analytic and advisory activities was to support macroeconomic stabilization and pro market structural reforms to foster growth The increased focus on the social sectors was aligned with the Millennium Development Goals MDGs The strategy was relevant to the government s priorities outlined in a series of five year economic and social development plans The Bank s programs in particular were successful in promoting policy reforms Substantial tariff trade and financial sector reforms together with the removal of disincentives for investment and the privatization of government enterprises were achieved Bank assistance also contributed to significant progress in the agriculture water and social sectors With Bank support Jordan made excellent progress in almost all areas covered by the MDGs and is likely to meet the target levels by 2015 However these gains have been achieved in an inefficient manner and the cost in terms of public expenditures has been relatively high Recommendations outline much needed public sector reform for despite some public expenditures being curtailed the country s vulnerability to external shocks remains high and the potential for regional instability is also considerable Future Bank assistance should focus on public expenditure restructuring enhanced water management and conservation and poverty reduction The World Bank's Experience with Post-conflict Reconstruction ,1998-01-01 Clearing landmines rehabilitating and integrating of excombatants rebuilding the infrastructure coordinating aid sources these are just some of the issues confronting the Bank in post conflict reconstruction The explosion of civil conflicts in the post Cold War world has tested the World Bank s ability to address unprecedented devastation of human and social capital This study covers post conflict reconstruction in nine countries assessing relevant recent Bank experience It also presents case studies for ongoing and future operations which analyze 1 the Bank s main strengths or comparative advantages 2 its partnership with other donors international organizations and NGOs 3 its role in reconstruction strategy and damage and needs assessment 4 its role in rebuilding the economy and institutions of governance 5 its management of resources and processes 6 implications for monitoring and evaluation

The World Bank Forest Strategy ,2000-01-01 This report assesses progress since the World Bank first issued its comprehensive Forest Strategy in 1991 It finds that the effectiveness of the strategy has been modest and the sustainability of its impact is uncertain The Report identifies seven factors that would make the World Bank forest strategy more pertinent to current circumstances as well as strengthening its ability to achieve its strategic objectives in the forest sector It recommends that the World Bank use its global reach to address mechanisms for mobilisation of concessional international resources outside its normal lending activities It also advises the World Bank to be proactive in establishing partnerships with all relevant stakeholders governments the private sector and civil society to meet both its country and global roles The focus on primary tropical moist forests should be broadened to include all types of natural forests of national and global value The report suggests that illegal logging needs to be reduced through the promotion of improved governance and enforcement Other recommendations are to give consideration to forest issues in all relevant sector activity and macroeconomic work address the employment needs of all poor people while continuing to protect the rights of indigenous people and to realign the World Bank resources with their objectives in the forest sector Philippines Gianni

Mind the Gap Jos Vaessen,Frans L. Leeuw,2011-12-31 Over the past twenty to thirty years evaluation has become increasingly important to the field of public policy The number of people involved and specializing in evaluation has also increased markedly Evidence of this trend can be found in the International Atlas of Evaluation the establishment of new journals and evaluation societies and the increase in systems of evaluation Increasingly the main reference point has become an assessment of the merit and value of interventions as such rather than the evaluator s disciplinary background This growing importance of evaluation as an activity has also led to an increasing demand for the type of competencies evaluators should have Evaluation began as a niche area within the social and behavioral sciences It subsequently became linked to policy research and analysis and has more recently become trans disciplinary This volume demonstrates an association between the evaluation tradition in a particular country or policy field and the nature of the relationship between social and behavioral science research and evaluative practice This book seeks to offer comprehensive data which lead to conclusions about patterns that transcend the gap between evaluation and the social scientific disciplines Mind the Gap has a twofold aim The first is to highlight and characterize the gap between evaluation practices and debates and the substantive knowledge debates within the social and behavioral sciences The second is to show why this gap is problematic for the practice of evaluation while at the same time illustrating possible ways to build bridges The book is centered on the value of producing useful evaluations grounded in social science theory and research 2000 Annual Review of Development Effectiveness

William Battaille, 2001-01-01 This Annual Review of Development Effectiveness ARDE builds on previous reviews i e the 1998 review released in a hostile environment of financial crisis concluded that improvements in project performance cannot be enough that improvements at a higher plane of program and country performance should also be present and the 1999 review inscribed within the Comprehensive Development Framework dilemmas and challenges identified practices for dealing with those challenges namely to be based on country commitments to poverty reduction and sustainable growth The ARDE 2000 finds that progress was solid on a broad front but that further progress is likely Portfolio performance is likely to exceed the Strategic Compact target of seventy five percent satisfactory outcomes and sustainability and institutional development ratings reflect improvements Though progress is commendable this review examines four tensions the Bank faces learning to reconcile client and corporate priorities adapting global prescriptions to local conditions balancing country performance and poverty incidence in allocating its resources and achieving efficiency selectivity seeking to implement a holistic vision of development Bank strategies should acknowledge client needs judicious adaptation to institutional social and political fronts should be pursued and an approach to poor performing countries should be addressed Evaluating Development Effectiveness George Keith Pitman, Osvaldo NÃ©stor Feinstein, Gregory K. Ingram, Practitioners give insights on building and satisfying demand for evaluation in developing countries and on the use of evaluation findings to improve decision making on development policies and programs This volume offers useful insights into methods for evaluating the effectiveness of development and assessing the performance of development aid and aid agencies BOOK JACKET

Institutional Dimensions of Regional Development G. scientific and technical capacities As they do the quality and content of academic endeavors and research agendas become critical in organizing and investing in knowledge This volume is a compilation of the topics raised at the conference which was assembled to pursue the important task of organizing knowledge that can help address key issues facing people around the world Issues in the book concern survival of the species and the environment and the well being of the world s children
