The Paradigm of Missionary Identity In the past we have focused on the why of missions in terms of motives the what of missions in terms of the content of the message and the how of missions in terms of methodologies and strategies but the where question in terms of where we send cross cultural workers has simply been assumed it has meant crossing a geographic boundary In Apostolic Function in 21st Century Missions Alan R Johnson introduces the idea of apostolic function as the paradigm of missionary self identity that reminds us to focus our efforts on where Christ is not named He then examines in detail the where paradigm in missions frontier mission missiology with a sympathetic critique and a review of the major contributions of unreached people group thinking Johnson concludes by illustrating his notion of seeking to integrate missions paradigms and discussing of issues that relate specifically to the where questions of missions today      Christian-Muslim Dialogue in the Twentieth Century A. Ecumenism in postwar Asia institutionalized in the Christian Conference of Asia displayed a remarkable this worldliness from its inception in the 1940s This tendency was in contrast to the tension between the church centric and world centric approaches to Christian mission that marked conciliar mission thinking in the West This work examines the development of such this worldly holiness in Asian ecumenism focusing on M M Thomas of India and C S Song from Taiwan Special attention is drawn to the idea of God s this worldly presence that considers God as redemptively at work in world history apart from the church The study first compares the development of this worldly holiness in the West and Asia and then examines the thinking of Thomas and Song The chapters on these two theologians discuss their backgrounds the basic concerns motivating their intellectual searches and responses to the questions arising from such concerns These chapters also try to understand how these theologians view the relationship between God and the world In so doing the study highlights the significance of the idea of God's this worldly presence shared by Thomas and Song in spite of differences in their backgrounds approaches and theological formulations Having compared Thomas and Song the study concludes that the idea of God's this worldly presence became central to Asian ecumenism because it offered a common unifying vision to Asian Christians who come from a region characterized by tremendous diversity The idea helped them to see the diverse peoples cultures and religions in Asia under one God who transcends the diversity and still takes it seriously
