Evangelical Theology Of Preaching:

An Evangelical Theology of Preaching Donald English, 1996 This book focuses on why we communicate the gospel and helps the communicator to clarify what should be communicated to God's people and to the secular people that communicators are trying to reach

Paul's Theology of Preaching Duane Litfin, 2015-05-22 Duane Litfin former president of Wheaton College explores how Paul's theology of preaching can inform the church's preaching today Through a detailed study of 1 Corinthians 1-4 Litfin shows how Paul's method of proclamation differed from Greco-Roman rhetoric and how Pauline preaching can be a model for the contemporary preaching task

Christian Preaching Michael Pasquarello III, 2011-06-28 Michael Pasquarello has written a must-read book articulating a Trinitarian vision for preaching His compelling argument is richly informed by traditional biblical hermeneutics creedal history understood as storied attestation of the witness of Scripture and liturgical theology and practice considered as embodied performance of the Bible's divine narrative Here is a clear summons to the church to abandon all lesser homiletic aims and to prayerfully and faithfully proclaim the holy gospel to the glory of God

Charles L. Bartow Princeton Theological Seminary Like all of Michael Pasquarello's work his newest book not only upholds the classical Christian tradition but also breathes new vitality into it In an era in which preaching is reduced to persuasive communication Pasquarello reminds us that the Christian message has a content that originates in and gives expression to the Father Son and Holy Spirit

Richard Lischer Duke Divinity School One of the refreshing things about this fine book by Michael Pasquarello is that when he thinks about the ministry of preaching he is not afraid to measure the breadth historically or plumb the depths theologically Pasquarello has written this book like a good sermon faithfully thoughtfully prayerfully and with a profound word to speak We are in his debt

Thomas G. Long Candler School of Theology Boldly challenging homiletical accommodation to American culture Pasquarello seeks to change the subject of preaching from method and marketing to the Triune God who is the source and goal of our speech A welcome theological vision of preaching

Charles L. Campbell Columbia Theological Seminary Christian Preaching brings together two disciplines that have sadly grown apart such that they almost developed irreconcilable differences preaching and theology Pasquarello offers a brilliant critique of theology as technique and draws on the theology and sermons of Irenaeus Augustine Luther Wesley and others convincingly demonstrating that effective pragmatic preaching requires substantive theological engagement and vice versa This book accomplishes its purpose so well that it should be used not only in preaching courses but also in basic theology courses No preacher should be let loose on a congregation without passing through Pasquarello's

Christian Preaching D. Stephen Long Marquette University

Speaking God's Words Peter Adam, 2004 There are many books on preaching but few if any on the theology of preaching Yet whether it is recognized or not theology underlies any preaching that claims to be biblical In Speaking God's Words Peter Adam builds confidence in preaching by laying a firm theological foundation for it Preaching rests upon three great pillars God has spoken his words are now recorded in Scripture and he commissions people to explain preach and teach his written words to their contemporaries Throughout the book using well chosen illustrations Dr Adam encourages preachers to give themselves to the demanding yet thrilling task of preaching God's words today Preaching as a Theological Task David Buttrick, Thomas G. Long, Edward Farley, 1996-01-01 How do particular world situations impact preaching How does a preacher use the gospel and Scripture to speak to those situations This volume in honor of homiletician David Buttrick explores the complex and important relationships between world gospel and Scripture and their relevance for preaching theology This book is for those seeking thoughtful and challenging new ways to approach the preaching task now and into the twenty first century Preach the Word Leland Ryken, Todd Wilson, 2007-11-08 For more than forty years pastor R Kent Hughes has shared the gospel with thousands of people and raised the standard of expository preaching in North America and beyond To celebrate his legacy and pay tribute to his years of ministry fifteen of Hughes's friends and colleagues from across the globe including J I Packer Wayne Grudem John MacArthur Peter Jensen and D A Carson examine what it means to be an expository preacher Among the contributors are professors a university chaplain a college president and urban church planters living testimonies to Hughes's wide influence These contributors address an array of themes for the ministry minded such as interpretive principles and practices biblical and historical paradigms expository preaching's contemporary aims and challenges and the priority of training all in the expectation that this one man's passion to preach the Word faithfully will enhance the understanding and practice of expository preaching in churches and seminaries around the world This book will also inspire and prepare you to make the pulpit the prow of your ministry and influence the generations to come A Theology of Preaching and Dialectic Aaron P. Edwards, 2018-07-12 How does the preacher know what God might say now based upon the many things God said then Preachers and theologians throughout Christian history have grappled with Scripture's diverse emphases alongside the urgent task of declaring the authoritative Word of God in the contemporary pulpit Aaron Edwards offers a new way of engaging with this problem by exploring the theological relationship between biblical dialectics and heraldic proclamation Edwards highlights the theological necessity of dialectical variety without forfeiting assertiveness in the prophetic moment of preaching A vast array of key voices from the theological tradition are drawn upon including Augustine Aquinas Eckhart Luther Calvin Hegel Kierkegaard Chesterton Barth Bultmann Tillich Ebeling and others to navigate the connection between Scriptural unity clarity and paradoxical plurivocality leading to a nuanced account of dialectic Applying this to the homiletically neglected concept of heraldic confidence in preaching Edwards examines the theological possibility of preaching in light of dialectical complexity via its prophetic dimension He shows how the uniquely revelatory relationship of Word and Spirit enables Scriptural illumination prophetic discernment and dialectical decisiveness in the momentary encounter which undergirds all Christian proclamation Homiletical Theology David Schnasa Jacobsen, 2015-02-13 Karl Barth famously argued that all theology is sermon preparation But what if all sermon preparation is actually theology This book pursues a thoroughgoing theological vision for the practice of preaching as a way of doing theology. The idea is not just that homiletics is the realm of theological application. That would leave preaching in the position of simply implementing a theology already arrived at. Instead the vision in these pages is of a form of theology that begins with preaching itself: its practice, its theories, and its contexts. Homiletical theology is thus a unique way of doing theology, even a constructive theological task in its own right.

Homiletician David Schnasa Jacobsen has assembled several of the leading lights of contemporary homiletics to help to see its task ever more deeply, as theological yet in profoundly diverse ways. Along the way, readers will not only discover how homileticians do theology homiletically but will deepen the way in which they understand their own preaching as a theological task.

The Sermon without End Ronald J. Allen, Prof. O. Wesley Allen Jr., 2015-10-20

A New Model for Post Apologetic Preaching in a Pluralistic World

The relationship between preaching and the public sphere has long been debated. Three different theological approaches tend to dominate the discussion. In different ways, these approaches take into account the movement from the modern mindset of the mid to late 20th century to the emerging postmodern worldview. In The Sermon without End, authors Allen and Allen thoughtfully offer a fourth option, one that in their view has not received much attention but which offers a distinct and especially helpful perspective. It is a new and dynamic conversational model reaching beyond the earlier work of Tillich and Tracy. In this homiletical framework, conversation takes place in multiple directions between the text or tradition and the world today. It is preaching in conversation, not just toward but with voices from the public sphere. The book provides a solid foundation for understanding this post-apologetic approach but it importantly goes on to offer practical, real-pulpit guidance for implementation in a preaching ministry. It is a book for both scholars and practicing preachers who wish to reach people in meaningful and significant ways and in ways that make sense for today. This book deserves to be widely applauded. It provides a post-apologetic lens to illuminate the history of various modern homiletical discourses, even as it envisions a postmodern one. I strongly recommend this book for homileticians, preachers, and lay people alike.

Duse Lee, Boston University School of Theology, Reviewed in Homiletic & Christian Preaching, Michael Pasquarello, 2006

There are many books that give preachers hints about engaging speaking or methods for creating sermons. This homiletics primer focuses not on the how-to of preaching but on the theological foundation of the very act of preaching itself, introducing students and pastors to a thorough understanding of why they preach or will preach.

Michael Pasquarello III

takes a biblical and historical look at preaching calling all preachers to think theologically regardless of denomination audience or preaching style when they proclaim the Word of God Each chapter concludes with a sermon example that shows the practical way that such theology works itself into the pulpit Publisher The Beauty of Preaching Michael Pasquarello,2020-08-27 What does beauty have to do with healing the fragmentation within our churches According to Michael Pasquarello everything Amid the cacophony of ugly political invective that dominates nearly every space today including church only God has the power to unify and heal through his truth and goodness revealed in his beauty And every Sunday those in the pulpit have the opportunity and responsibility to share this beauty with their parishioners Tapping into a long tradition that can be traced back to Augustine Michael Pasquarello explores a theological definition of beauty that has tremendous revelatory power in a post Christendom world A church manifesting this beauty is not merely a gathering of people but a place where God s new creation appears in the midst of the old creation ushered in by a pastor willing to make God the primary actor within the doxological craft of preaching Inspired Preaching C. Richard Wells,Boyd Luter,2002 A fresh compact evangelical theology of preaching forged in the light of the studies of biblical preachers such as Jesus Paul Peter and all major genres of biblical literature Preaching is Believing Ronald J. Allen,2002-01-01 In Preaching Is Believing Allen calls for preachers to help congregations cultivate a systematic approach to Christian faith and life by bringing systematic theology directly into the pulpit Preaching God's Grand Drama Ahmi Lee,2019-10-15 How can preachers preach biblically faithful sermons that move listeners to positive action An author on the cutting edge of contemporary homiletics and theology offers a fresh approach to preaching that helps listeners see themselves as actors in God s grand drama Ahmi Lee presents a unifying third way in homiletical approaches i e theodramatic that reimagines the preacher s role in relation to the Bible the congregation and the world The book not only helps students understand various preaching models but also is relevant to working preachers who want to critique and improve their approach Foreword by Mark Labberton Preaching Jason C. Meyer,2013-10-31 The sermon is under attack Many churches are increasingly forsaking formal preaching in favor of substitutes like dialogue discussion and sharing In response to this recent trend Jason Meyer has written a robust biblical and practical theology of preaching where he explores how the concept of preaching develops throughout the Bible and how it impacts one s understanding of other key doctrines In addition to offering readers a comprehensive overview of the Bible s teaching the book sets forth clear accessible answers to commonly raised questions about preaching what is it how is it done and why is it so important Combining in depth study of God s word with practical reflection on the place of preaching in the ministry of the church Meyer challenges readers to reexamine the importance of preaching for the Christian life Delivering the Word William John Lyons,Isabella Sandwell,2014-09-11 Biblical texts have been used consistently in sermons throughout Christian history Preachers have transformed the texts into an aural experience using them to evangelize educate edify exhort or even terrify their audiences Sermons have enabled Scripture to be communicated to people from a wide range of social backgrounds Delivering the Word examines the power of preaching and its reception across two millennia of homilies from St Paul Origen Chrysostom Augustine and Hildegard of Bingen to Jonathan Edwards Samuel Taylor Coleridge Aimee Semple McPherson and Chris Brain In its exploration of the impact of the sermon on the interpretation of Scripture Delivering the Word will be of interest to students of biblical and religious studies

Creative Preaching on the Sacraments Craig A. Satterlee, Lester Ruth, 2003-10-01 Creative preaching can help you move the sacraments to the center of your congregation's spirituality by making scripture personal experience and the sacraments intersect in such a way that a wealth of meanings surfaces Satterlee and Ruth seek to expand the range of meanings and associations people bring to the sacraments They examine in depth how theology scripture context and timing relate to effective sacramental preaching Six sample sermons are included In Whom Do You Place Your Trust baptismal sermon by Stephen Castleberry The Water of Life baptismal sermon by Heichler The Kiss of Peace exchange of peace sermon by Craig A Satterlee The Ultimate Business Luncheon Communion sermon by Lester Ruth Crumbs Under the Table Communion sermon by Cathy Felber A Short Multisensory Baptismal Sermon adapted from Ambrose Recommended for pastors as a practical guide for preparing sermons that will make the great truths of God visible and tangible in the sacraments Designed especially for clergy chaplains and catechists
