Even In A Maze:

The Idea of the Labyrinth from Classical Antiquity through the Middle Ages Penelope Reed Doob, 2019-03-15 Ancient and medieval labyrinths embody paradox according to Penelope Reed Doob Their structure allows a double perspective the baffling fragmented prospect confronting the maze treader within and the comprehensive vision available to those without Mazes simultaneously assert order and chaos artistry and confusion articulated clarity and bewildering complexity perfected pattern and hesitant process In this handsomely illustrated book Doob reconstructs from a variety of literary and visual sources the idea of the labyrinth from the classical period through the Middle Ages Doob first examines several complementary traditions of the maze topos showing how ancient historical and geographical writings generate metaphors in which the labyrinth signifies admirable complexity while poetic texts tend to suggest that the labyrinth is a sign of moral duplicity She then describes two common models of the labyrinth and explores their formal implications the unicursal model with no false turnings found almost universally in the visual arts and the multicursal model with blind alleys and dead ends characteristic of literary texts This paradigmatic clash between the labyrinths of art and of literature becomes a key to the metaphorical potential of the maze as Doob's examination of a vast array of materials from the classical period through the Middle Ages suggests She concludes with linked readings of four labyrinths of words Virgil's Aeneid Boethius Consolation of Philosophy Dante's Divine Comedy and Chaucer's House of Fame each of which plays with and transforms received ideas of the labyrinth as well as reflecting and responding to aspects of the texts that influenced it Doob not only provides fresh theoretical and historical perspectives on the labyrinth tradition but also portrays a complex medieval aesthetic that helps us to approach structurally elaborate early works Readers in such fields as Classical literature Medieval Studies Renaissance Studies comparative literature literary theory art history and intellectual history will welcome this wide ranging and illuminating book

The Spirituality of Mazes and Labyrinths Gailand MacQueen, 2005 In this full colour beautifully illustrated book Gailand MacQueen uses myth history and personal experience to explore the spiritual meanings of mazes and labyrinths Convinced that labyrinths and mazes have much to teach us Gailand MacQueen invites readers on a sometimes mystical sometimes mysterious journey of spiritual discovery

Elusive Phenomena, Unwieldy Things Jutta Schickore,William R. Newman,2024-02-26 This open access book provides a historical treatment of scientific control in experimentation in the longue dur e The introduction distinguishes four related strands in the history of experimental control the development of practices to stabilize experimental conditions the career of the comparative design the unfolding of methodological discussions about control practices and designs and the history of the term control Each chapter brings these distinctions to bear on specific historical episodes The focus is on experiments with complex elusive phenomena such as perception and learning irregular movements and unobservable elements Such experiments bring control issues to the fore because they are difficult to design and stabilize and often controversial Together the chapters show that the local context shapes what exactly is controlled how control can be accomplished and how controls are justified They also show that control strategies and methodological ideas often remain stable for a long time and change only gradually This book as well as the volume on analysis and synthesis in experimentation by the same editors
