Aspects of Independent Romania's Economic History with Particular Reference to Transition for EU Accession

David Turnock, 2016-04-15 After fifteen years of transition in the former communist states of Central and Eastern Europe it has become clear that for a substantial number the objective of reform and restructuring process is a market system in line with membership of the EU In this study the long term economic transformation of Romania is studied offering a detailed narrative and thematic account of events from the nineteenth to the twenty first centuries From the first steps towards large scale industrialisation begun prior to the First World War through the accelerated pace set by the communist regime after 1945 and the uncertainty following its subsequent collapse in 1989 the book addresses a wide range of pertinent issues that have shaped Romania's economic development The study also offers an interpretation of a distinctive phase in the modernisation of post communist Romania supported by economic historical surveys of the preceding century as a context for recent restructuring on the eve of EU accession This is linked with trends in the region as a whole so that a broad perspective is maintained throughout the book By highlighting Romania's position as one of more backward accession states and considering in what ways its experience during transition differs from the more developed states of the region this study offers a valuable insight into both the history of Romania and its future prospects Furthermore it provides a valuable case study that can be compared and contrasted with other countries who are likewise still grappling with the legacy of a centralised economy and in the process of adopting a more market orientated approach in order to gain EU membership As such this study will be of interest not only to historians and economists but anyone with an interest in the expansion of the European Union

Overseas Business Reports, 1971

Romania Stephen Roper, 2004-08-02 The Romanian revolution was motivated by a desire for greater political and intellectual freedom and economic prosperity It was the bloodiest of the eastern European transitions due to Ceausescu's cult of personality However many of the goals of the revolution are still unfulfilled The lack of civil society charges of political corruption the failure to transform the economy and concerns over the protection of ethnic minority rights are all factors in Romania's failure to become a fully integrated European country Tracing the country's political history and examining Romania's postcommunist politics economic transition and foreign policy this book contemplates the prospects for this country as it enters the twenty first century
