Designing Hollywood Christian Esquevin,2023-08-29 Since the 1920s fashion has played a central role in Hollywood As the movie going population consisted largely of women studios made a concerted effort to attract a female audience by foregrounding fashion Magazines featured actresses like Jean Harlow and Joan Crawford bedecked in luxurious gowns selling their glamour as enthusiastically as the film itself Whereas actors and actresses previously wore their own clothing major studios hired costume designers and wardrobe staff to fabricate bespoke costumes for their film stars Designers from a variety of backgrounds including haute couture and art design were offered long term contracts to work on multiple movies Though their work typically went uncredited they were charged with creating an image for each star that would help define an actor both on and off screen The practice of working long term with a single studio disappeared when the studio system began unraveling in the 1950s By the 1970s studios had disbanded their wardrobe departments and auctioned off their costumes and props In Designing Hollywood Studio Wardrobe in the Golden Age Christian Esquevin showcases the designers who dressed Hollywood's stars from the late 1910s through the 1960s and the unique symbiosis they developed with their studios in creating iconic looks Studio by studio Esquevin details the careers of designers like Vera West who worked on Universal productions such as Phantom of the Opera 1925 Dracula 1931 and Bride of Frankenstein 1931 William Travilla the talent behind Marilyn Monroe's dresses in Gentleman Prefer Blondes 1953 and The Seven Year Itch 1955 and Walter Plunkett the Oscar winning designer for film classics like Gone with the Wind 1939 and An American in Paris 1951 Featuring black and white photographs of leading ladies in their iconic looks as well as captivating original color sketches Designing Hollywood takes the reader on a journey from drawing board to silver screen

Alfred Hitchcock and Film Noir Homer B.

Petty,R. Barton Palmer,2024-11-30 Alfred Hitchcock was a major figure in the development and flourishing of film noir His noir films became an inspirational foundation of the neo noir movement beginning in the 1970s from Brian de Palma s mash up homages to Hitchcock originals such as Obsession 1976 and Body Double 1984 to the dark political thrillers of the era that explore the underside of American life all of which owe a substantial debt to Hitchcock However the central role of Hitchcock in the long history of film noir has seldom been acknowledged in work devoted to his career and noir criticism more generally Instead there has been a tendency to consider Hitchcock s many dark thrillers and crime melodramas as sui generis that is as e Hitchcock filmse that are somehow separate and distinct from industry trends But this is to take a narrow view of the director s accomplishments that underestimates his substantial contributions to film history Alfred Hitchc ock and Film Noir will be the first book length treatment of the impressive corpus of Hitchcock noir films considered as such as well as of his connection more generally to the emergence and flourishing of this important cinematic trend The Pacific
