Educating Severely and Profoundly Handicapped Students Les Sternberg, Gary L. Adams, 1982 Educating Students with Severe Or Profound Handicaps Les Sternberg, 1988 Severely and Profoundly Handicapped Students Peter J. Valletutti, Bernita M. Sims-Tucker, 1984 Ce document propose une analyse et une description des besoins des élèves ayant un retard mental sévère ou profond autour du concept de déficience multiple il donne les grandes lignes touchant les définitions des déficiences l'incidence de celles-ci leur diagnostic et l'étiologie y compris les systèmes de classification en vigueur ainsi que les différents symptômes que rencontrent les personnes handicapées par une déficience sévère ou profonde

The Education and Care of Children with Severe, Profound and Multiple Learning Disabilities Richard Aird, 2013-12-19 This is a practical guide to managing the whole curriculum for children with severe learning difficulties SLD Crucial guidance and effective strategies are provided on how to reconcile the rights needs and aspirations of such children in light of recent national trends and QCA guidelines Exceptional Children Ronald L. Taylor, Les Sternberg, 2012-12-06 Exceptional Children Integrating Research and Teaching provides a comprehensive introduction to the constantly changing area of special education The book is research based and its title reflects our opinion regarding the important link between research and classroom practice There is one feature of Exceptional Children Integrating Research and Teaching that warrants attention and perhaps justification it was written specifically to address the graduate student or sophisticated undergraduate student market As such the book is written at a higher level and with a greater concept density than typical introductory special education texts We feel that this type of book is very much needed and will be received favorably by the special education community There are also several unique features of Exceptional Children Integrating Research and Teaching that we feel will be quite valuable First we have emphasized the area of teaching practices and not simply included basic facts about definitions characteristics and causes Although some introductory texts include information about teaching considerations that area is not discussed as in depth as it is in our text We feel that it is important that readers not only understand the educational needs of exceptional children but also can identify the best educational practices to meet those needs Generalization for Students with Severe Handicaps Norris G. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Subcommittee on Select Education,1980 The Education of People with Profound and Multiple Handicaps Judy Sebba,1988 Designed as a basis for in service courses for staff working with people who have profound and multiple handicaps Topics covered include assessment curriculum teaching methods microelectronics problem behaviour and physiotherapy Assessment of Young Developmentally Disabled Children Theodore D. Wachs,Robert Sheehan,1988-05-31 Our knowledge of the cognitive and social emotional functioning of developmentally disabled infants and preschoolers derives in large part from our assessment of such children This book has been developed to familiarize readers with the characteristics of developmentally disabled children and to introduce to readers aspects of measurement that are of relevance to the assessment of atypical infants and preschoolers The book has been developed with clinicians and prospective clinicians in mind These are individuals who are committed to the care and education of developmentally disabled infants and preschoolers and the families of those children The book has thus been written to provide support for the use of assessment data in planning early intervention programs Of special note in the development of this edited book is that it is divided into four major parts with interrelated chapters in each part The authors of chapters in Parts II and III had access to the chapters in Part I before writing their chapters The summary chapters found in Part IV were similarly written by authors having access to all chapters in Parts I III This approach to the development of an edited book was chosen as a way of ensuring an integration of major concepts throughout the book This process is also a reflection of our belief that assessment is an interdisciplinary process involving the synthesis of a number of diverse interests

Special Needs David R. Mitchell, Roy Irwin Brown, 2013-12-14 This is the fourth volume in the Rehabilitation Education Series It is the first volume to be co edited and follows a volume on quality of life The first few years of a child's life sets the pattern for many issues associated with quality of life Although intervention may at later stages enhance quality of life it is in these first years that the attitudes and systems of society can have long lasting effects The early years are increasingly seen as the province of the educator and in children with disabilities special education They are already recognized as the province of the health professional Here we attempt to take a different line reinforcing the idea that child and family are the interacting system we serve The needs are often multidisciplinary but we need to recognize context as the critical marker Thus assessment needs to be linked to programmes and therefore programmes themselves have to be evaluated and environmental issues underlined In particular the contribution from those with sociological interests are noted Intervention whether it be psychological or educational is frequently and ideally placed in the hands of parents or the nearest caregiver The professional becomes the processor ever mindful of the context in which needs and goals are experienced These issues are basic to the issues of quality of life D R M R I B Teaching the Moderately and Severely Handicapped Student and Autistic Adolescent Elva Durán, 1988
