Educreation and Feedback Education for Creation Growth and Change Second Edition explains the pattern of actions based on self regulation co operation and the therapeutic attitude Educreation means directed learning toward creation growth flexibility adaptation and development This book discusses the concept of education that is required and needed explaining the quantitative and qualitative aspects of the problems of education The quantitative aspects include population growth and education selection while the qualitative aspects address the need for practicable set of directions and the plight of professional education This book also indicates the fresh pattern in the context of educational theories One chapter outlines an integrated pattern approach defining relationship as determining the nature of existence This book then shows the general implications for education using the concept of educreation The relevant chapter gives 15 criteria by which to judge if the innovations made in education represent real progress This book also confers implementation in the field of architectural education by addressing the kind of ideas that will emerge from new patterns of thinking in architectural education Chapter V of the book discusses feedbacks such as problem solving in a counseling group educreation the change to a community school from a state school and the adaptation of educreation to teaching history in advanced education School administrators academicians educators government officials in the education sector and students of developmental studies will gain a new perspective from reading this book Educational Administration Wayne K. Hoy, Cecil G. Miskel, 1978 A leading text in its field Educational Administration presents the most comprehensive synthesis available of theory and research in organizational behavior as it applies to the practice of Educational Administration Each theoretical perspective presented concludes with an authentic case study that challenges students to apply their knowledge to an actual contemporary school problem Learning at the Back Door Charles A. Wedemeyer, 2010-06-01 Wedemeyer stresses that learning is a natural idiosyncratic and continually renewable human trait and survival resource It is not dependent upon teaching schooling or special environments although properly used these resources enhance learning There is a powerful subculture of independent learners who are responsible for much of the real progress that has been made in most areas on endeavor This book attempts to explain this kind of learning and relate it to schooling suggesting ways in which all learning whether traditional or non traditional can be encouraged and improved through new kinds of educational institutions and processes
