phenomenon and practice of professional practice discourse marginalia Employing Community-Based Experiential Learning in Teacher Education Gary Harfitt, Jessie Mei Ling Chow, 2020-07-18 This book positions itself at the intersection of the interrelationship between three key areas of initial teacher education constructivist learning theories teaching practicum and the promotion of reflective practices It presents an innovative approach to teacher preparation at undergraduate and postgraduate levels by critically examining the implementation of a mandatory experiential learning block across subject disciplines on undergraduate and postgraduate teacher preparation courses This book presents multiple examples and case studies of these varied experiential learning projects that will inform academics teachers and policymakers Through these rich examples the authors set out to address the theory practice dilemma in teacher education where teachers to be are often positioned as consumers of educational research in classrooms read reference books and academic papers on teaching and observe university and school experts before applying the same acquired theories and practices in their own classes In the book the authors argue for a shift away from this conventional teacher learning curriculum that is characterised by the separation of theory and practice choosing instead to promote pedagogy and methods courses where practice underpins all learning These pedagogical perspectives include the promotion of a diverse range of learning contexts including on and off campus learning sites for student teachers to experience during their time on teacher education courses Practical Strategies to Reduce Childhood Trauma and Mitigate Exposure to the School-to-Prison Pipeline Alexander-Ashley, Belinda M., 2023-01-03 School closures due to the COVID 19 pandemic racial violence injustice and resource inequities highlight the need for multi disciplinary strategies and practices that support evidence based practices across a range of educational levels for leaders professors teachers educational professionals trauma survivors and youth and government programs for both in class and remote learning environments Practical Strategies to Reduce Childhood Trauma and Mitigate Exposure to the School to Prison Pipeline provides practical strategies and tools focused on reducing childhood trauma while mitigating exposure to the school to prison pipeline Covering a range of crucial topics such as social justice trauma mindfulness and coaching this reference work is ideal for researchers scholars practitioners academicians educators leaders administrators school staff youth programs government organizations students and trauma survivors Deconstructing Doctoral Discourses Deborah L. Mulligan, Naomi Ryan, Patrick Alan Danaher, 2023-01-01 This book identifies and challenges assumptions about the doctorate and the discourses associated with it The editors and contributors subvert and transform the de facto assumptions that frame the ways in which the doctorate is spoken and written and thus underpin approaches to planning conducting and evaluating doctoral research Giving voice to doctoral students and supervisors the book opens a pathway for their own stories why students entered doctoral study the understandings and experiences they gleaned from it and the implications for their own character The book questions what kinds of discourses help to construct contemporary doctoral research and how these might be de and reconstructed and asks what doctoral study might look like in the future

Academics students and practitioners alike will find an avenue into rigorous research design from reflective and insightful scholars who provide a voice for doctoral strategies for success

Deconstructing Social Psychology Ian Parker, John Shotter, 2015-06-19 Since the early 1970s social psychology has been in crisis At the time Reconstructing Social Psychology Armistead provided a critical review of theories and assumptions in the discipline Originally published in 1990 this title not only updates that review but illustrates the ways in which assumptions had changed at the time The crisis is no longer seen as one which can be resolved within social psychology itself but rather as one more deeply rooted in modern society The contributors look at the issues raised by deconstruction in the other human sciences as well as investigating the claims made by social psychology as a discipline They examine the rhetoric and texts of social psychology analysing how the texts which hold the discipline together obtain their power The arguments include the political implications of deconstructive ideas focusing on particular issues such as research therapy and feminism Deconstructing Social Psychology presents a strong selection of new critical writing in social psychology It will still be a useful text for students of psychology social science and sociology and for those working in the area of language
