They consider not only Albee's award winning plays and his contributions to the evolution of modern American drama but also his important influence to the American theatre as a whole, his connections to art and music and his international influence in Spanish and Russian theatre. Other features include biographical information and insights into Albee's artistic beliefs, his understanding of the playwright's responsibility, the importance of music in drama, and the technical craft of writing plays. Richard Barr David A. Crespy, 2013-03-28. In Richard Barr: The Playwright's Producer, author David A. Crespy investigates the career of one of the theatre's most vivid luminaries from his work on the film and radio productions of Orson Welles to his triumphant and final production of Stephen Sondheim's Sweeney Todd: The Demon Barber of Fleet Street. Explored in detail along the way are the producer's relationship with playwright Edward Albee, whose major plays such as A Zoo Story and Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf Barr was the first to produce, and his innovative productions of controversial works by playwrights like Samuel Beckett, Terrence McNally, and Sam Shepard. Crespy draws on Barr's own writings on the theatre, his personal papers, and more than sixty interviews with theatre professionals to offer insight into a man whose legacy to producers and playwrights resounds in the theatre world. Also included in the volume are a foreword and an afterword by Edward Albee, a three time Pulitzer Prize winning playwright, and one of Barr's closest associates. Research Guide to American Literature John Cusatis, 2010. Performing Age in Modern Drama Valerie Barnes Lipscomb,2016-07-14 This book is the first to examine age across the modern and contemporary dramatic canon from Arthur Miller and Tennessee Williams to Paula Vogel and Doug Wright All ages across the life course are interpreted as performance and performative both on page and on stage including professional productions and senior theatre groups The common admonition act your age provides the springboard for this study which rests on the premise that age is performative in nature and that issues of age and performance crystallize in the theatre Dramatic conventions include characters who change ages from one moment to the next overtly demonstrating on stage the reiterated actions that create a performative illusion of stable age Moreover directors regularly cast actors in these plays against their chronological ages Lipscomb contends that while the plays reflect varying attitudes toward performing age as a whole they reveal a longing for an ageless self a desire to present a consistent unified identity The works mirror prevailing social perceptions of the aging process as well as the tension between chronological age physiological age and cultural constructions of age
