Staursky defeats Flores in Brunswick ward 4 race

By GARY MCLENDARO

Brunswick — George Staursky won the Ward 4 seat Tuesday night in a stunning upset of the incumbent, Anthony Flores. The main issue of the campaign, so far as Staursky was concerned, was the record of Flores.

Staursky said Flores was ahead from too many council meetings and was not representing the ward properly.

a normal life and have this disorder I want to be open and honest about how this disorder affects me on a daily basis and how I make my marriage and parenting work even with the limitations it provides to me Once again I want to show others like me that they re not alone I ve been in their shoes when I ve been manic I understand the physical pain the cycle of depression brings This is not something to be ashamed of and it s something that can be treated if they let themselves get the help that is out there

Bipolar Faith Monica A. Coleman, 2022-02-08 Overcome with mental anguish Monica A Coleman's great grandfather had his two young sons pull the chair out from beneath him when he hanged himself That noose remained tied to a rafter in the shed where it hung above the heads of his eight children who played there for years to come As it had for generations before her a heaviness hung over Monica throughout her young life As an adult this rising star in the academy saw career successes often fueled by the modulated highs of undiagnosed Bipolar II Disorder as she hid deep depression that even her doctors skimmed past in disbelief Serendipitous encounters with Black intellectuals like Henry Louis Gates Jr Angela Davis and Renita Weems were countered by long nights of stark loneliness Only as Coleman began to face her illness was she able to live honestly and faithfully in the world And in the process she discovered a new and liberating vision of God Written in crackling prose Monica's spiritual autobiography examines her long dance with trauma depression and the threat of death in light of the legacies of slavery war sharecropping poverty and alcoholism that masked her family history of mental illness for generations

Detour Lizzie Simon, 2003-06-18 In the fall of 1999 23 year old Simon hit the road on a journey that took her across the United States Her inspired interviews with other young men and women suffering from manic depression comprise the heart and soul of this remarkable memoir Picking Up The Broken Pieces Arielle Bradberry, 2020-09-18 An honest and inspiring memoir of a young woman battling psychosis depression and anxiety The story is of a woman who experiences mental health brought on by stress A candid and intimate retelling of her breakdown and her memories and experiences of her times in a mental health facility Read the journal of her inner thoughts while in the mental health facility and after With medical intervention and the love and support of her family and fianc she finds a way to manage and live with mental illness Learn the importance of self care and what you can do to help yourself or a loved one going through mental illness The story is written with the hope that others might be able to relate to some of her experience and know that they are not alone The stigma of mental illness needs to be broken and people need to start talking about how they really feel Can You Hear the Music? Ann E. Jeffers, 2023 Ann Jeffers has it all a devoted partner a child who adores her and a successful career as a tenure track professor in a top ranked engineering program at the University of Michigan Following her diagnosis of bipolar disorder her world shatters The bipolar disorder is complicated by the trauma she carries from the Virginia Tech shooting resulting in a perfect nightmare each time she steps foot in the classroom She embarks on a journey in search of the right medications and therapy holding on to the hope that something must be able to help her feel normal again But despite her best efforts she suffers debilitatingly low depressions and dangerously high manias peppered with delusions and hallucinations In a race against time Ann strives to attain stability before her illness takes over completely Through Ann's journey we learn perseverance the power of love and the healing that can take place when the stigma of mental illness is overcome Back cover Runaway Mind Maggie Reese, 2012-07-01 What if you always knew you were special and then one day you found that being special wasn't a good thing In fact it was very very bad I was a high school cross country track star on a full ride scholarship to the college of my choice when I was hit hard with the most severe form of bipolar disorder manic depressive illness Little did I know then that the only way my speed was going to help me was to escape from a maximum security mental institution Bipolar On one hand the word is loaded with stigma On the other so many celebrities star athletes and other notable people have it that it's often used as a buzz word on the front pages of newspapers The fact is over 3% of people have bipolar disorder and its onset almost always hits during the fragile teenage years My lows took me to the depths of anxiety and pain By comparison my highs seemed magical but how long can you live on 2 hours of sleep a night My poor parents fearing for me and my safety hired bodyguards to try to protect me from myself and the predators who surrounded me One stood by me throughout my long road to recovery He s been my rock for 16 years and my husband for 10 I am sharing my personal story including my shocking extremes of behavior to help other families understand what is happening to their loved ones When my parents tried to understand what was happening to me the only books they found were dry clinical accounts of sad mad lost people not exactly encouraging words for a mom and dad desperately clutching at straws Most people find it hard to believe what I experienced how I managed to survive and how I can be thriving now My story proves that you can go away and come back again and that no matter how bad things look there is hope for a better future

Speaking from Within Wanda Jean Bennett,2011-10 I was diagnosed with Bipolar1 when I was twenty six Every doctor I saw said the symptoms were began playing out as early as my teen years I have been hospitalized twenty six times over the course of twenty five years I am now fifty two years of age and I am very much afflicted with my disease I struggle daily with depression The manic part of my illness rarely shows its face any more My Bipolar has been a living hell I have learned many coping skills but at times it s just not enough I started cutting in my twenties but can look back in my teen years and see where self harm displayed itself There were times I pulled my hair out of frustration there was sticking and scratching with straight pins and paper clips which in my early years led to hot curling irons glass razor blades When things would overwhelm me or when I would feel so numb because of depression this would be when I would self harm it would give me a release from my pain I found out that mental illness Bipolar Major Depression and nerve problems went back three generations on my mother s side of the family as it is a genetic disorder Most of my journal writing became more expressive through poetry the majority if which was written during my dark times When the darkness of depression falls upon you all the fears of your emotions come pouring out I don t want to belittle my family any more than I have to Just remember the feelings I talk about in my poetry came through a child s eye and a child wounded by thing she did not understand These are my emotions as I felt them Parents that s why you should be careful with the environment you raise your children in they see and hear more than you think with very little understanding After a while they will stuff their fears in what can be harmful ways
