Non-Formal Education Alan Rogers, 2007-03-06 The Comparative Education Research Centre CERC at the University of Hong Kong is proud and privileged to present this book in its series CERC Studies in Comparative Education Alan Rogers is a distinguished figure in the field of non formal education and brings to this volume more than three decades of experience The book is a masterly account which will be seen as a milestone in the literature It is based on the one hand on an exhaustive review of the literature and on the other hand on extensive practical experience in all parts of the world It is a truly comparative work which fits admirably into the series Much of the thrust of Rogers work is an analysis not only of the significance of non formal education but also of the reasons for changing fashions in the development community Confronting a major question at the outset Rogers ask why the terminology of non formal education which was so much in vogue in the 1970s and 1980s practically disappeared from the mainstream discourse in the 1990s and initial years of the present century Much of the book is therefore about paradigms in the domain of development studies and about the ways that fashions may gloss over substance

Latin America In The World Economy Frederick Stirton Weaver, 2018-02-13 Latin America in the World Economy considers the dual aspect of Latin American development how external factors phases of world capitalism since Columbus interweave with internal factors Latin American culture politics and social groups Weaver skillfully demonstrates how domestic social conflicts and power relations have consistently capitalized on changes in the international economy while conversely engagement with the international economy has consistently constrained local struggles and patterns of change Over half of Latin America in the World Economy focuses on the short twentieth century after 1930 and the way that the book frames recent events and processes in broad historical and comparative terms is appropriate for courses on world history and comparative development as well as for more specialized courses on Latin America

Aid to Africa Gordon Cumming, 2017-07-05 The end of the Cold War forced Western donors to rethink their aid relations with Africa This book looks at two of these donors France and Britain and asks whether the development programmes of these former colonial powers have undergone radical changes since the end of the Old World Order It focuses on the introduction of a controversial new regime trend political conditionality and uses policy models to illustrate the driving forces behind this new development strategy and explain substantial differences in France and Britain's practice of political conditionality in Togo and Kenya Overall this volume the first comparative study of French and British aid in the post Cold War period offers fresh insights into the evolution of the political assistance agenda and into deeper forces at work within the French and UK policy processes

Creative Practice and Socioeconomic Crisis in the Caribbean Kent Wessinger, 2017-03-27 Although the world is saturated with extraordinary methods innovation and technology the Caribbean seems to have been left behind in the sustainable growth of global development While the majority of the world defines the Caribbean as paradise the reality of life for Afro Caribbean culture is defined by an unrelenting hardship This book comprehensively analyzes this phenomenon from a unique and intimate perspective in order to offer a viable pathway to sustainable growth By examining the historic progression of the Caribbean region and the African culture within the author explores the relationship between creative practice and socioeconomic crisis and questions whether limited access to environments that facilitate original and conceptual ideas correlates with socioeconomic crisis The outcomes and methods of analysis developed in this book are a useful tool for other cultures or organizations seeking to diffuse socioeconomic crisis and implement a pathway of sustainable growth This innovative book will be of great interest to students and scholars of cultural and sustainability studies Caribbean and African Studies as well as Development and Sustainable Development

Changing

Gender Patterns of Work in Global Value Chains Stephanie Barrientos, 2019-05-23 This book focuses on the changing gender patterns of work in a global retail environment associated with the rise of contemporary retail and global sourcing. This has affected the working lives of hundreds of millions of workers in high middle and low income countries. The growth of contemporary retail has been driven by the commercialised production of many goods previously produced unpaid by women within the home. Sourcing is now largely undertaken through global value chains in low or middle income economies using a cheap feminised labour force to produce low price goods. As women have been drawn into the labour force, households are increasingly dependent on the purchase of food and consumer goods, blurring the boundaries between paid and unpaid work. This book examines how gendered patterns of work have changed and explores the extent to which global retail opens up new channels to leverage more gender equitable gains in sourcing countries.

Dimensions of Poverty Valentin Beck, Henning Hahn, Robert Lepenies, 2020-06-10 This anthology constitutes an important contribution to the interdisciplinary debate on poverty measurement and alleviation. Absolute and relative poverty both within and across state boundaries are standardly measured and evaluated in monetary terms. However, poverty researchers have highlighted the shortfalls of one-dimensional monetary metrics. A new consensus is emerging that effectively addressing poverty requires a nuanced understanding of poverty as a relational phenomenon involving deprivations in multiple dimensions including health, standard of living, education, and political participation. This volume advances the debate on poverty by providing a forum for philosophers and empirical researchers. It combines philosophically sound analysis and genuinely global research on poverty's social embeddedness. Next to an introduction to this interdisciplinary field which links Practical Philosophy, Development Economics, Political Science, and Sociology, it contains articles by leading international experts and early career scholars. The contributors analyse the concept of poverty, detail its multiple dimensions, reveal epistemic injustices in poverty research, and reflect on the challenges of poverty-related social activism. The unifying theme connecting this volume's contributions is that poverty must be understood as a multidimensional and socially relational phenomenon and that this insight can enhance our efforts to measure and alleviate poverty.

Fair Trade Coffee Gavin Fridell, 2007-01-01 Using case studies from Mexico and Canada, this book examines the fair trade coffee movement at both the global and local level, assessing its effectiveness and locating it within political and development theory. It provides an analysis of fair trade coffee in the context of global trade.

Capitalist Realism in Africa: Realities and Myths in Advertising Emmanuel C. Alozie, 2015-01-06 Capitalist Realism in Africa: Realities and Myths in Advertising is a multifaceted analysis of the role of advertising in the national development of Nigeria and, by extension, other African Nations. The book examines the unique political, cultural, and religious systems that create the context for advertising in African countries and describes the unique historical, social, economic, communication, and political context within which the practice of advertising takes place. Since the end of the Cold War, several African nations or emerging countries have undertaken concrete efforts to reform their political, social, and economic institutions as they strive to join the global economy and improve the socioeconomic conditions of their citizens To achieve these goals administrators have relied on various forms of mass media including advertising to promote these reforms and socioeconomic development Despite some unique challenges and opportunities as well as controversies surrounding the role of advertising in developing economies advertising literature relevant to African countries remains in a blind spot Capitalist Realism in Africa Realities and Myths in Advertising bridges this gap by offering an in depth analysis of advertising in an area of the world that has been largely neglected and provides a ground for generating a discussion about the practice of advertising in an African context

An Introduction to Health Planning for Developing Health Systems Andrew Green, 2007-01-11 Health planning is a critical component when responding to the health needs of low and middle income countries characterised by particularly stringent resource constraints The major communicable diseases such as AIDS TB and malaria often appear in parallel with growing non communicable diseases including heart disease and diabetes and yet resources are often less than the levels recommended by the World Health Organisation for basic health care The new edition of this well respected text explains the importance of health planning in both developing regions such as Africa and those in transition such as Central and Eastern Europe It stresses the importance of understanding the national and international context in which planning occurs and provides an up to date analysis of the major current policy issues including health reforms Separate chapters are dedicated to the distinct issues of finance for health care and human resource planning The various techniques used at each stage of the planning process are explained starting with the situational analysis and then looking in turn at priority setting option appraisal programming implementation monitoring and evaluation The book ends by examining the challenges facing planners in the 21st century particularly in the light of growing globalisation A major theme of the book is the need to recognise and reconcile the inevitable tension that lies between value judgements and rational decision making As such in addition to introducing techniques such as costing and economic appraisal it also outlines techniques such as stakeholder analysis for understanding the relative attitudes and power of different groups in planning decisions Each chapter includes a comprehensive bibliography including key websites a summary and exercises to help the reader practise techniques and better understand the content The book argues that all health professionals and community groups should be involved in the planning process for it to be effective and will therefore appeal to anyone involved in planning
