Media Education Assessment Handbook William G. Christ, 2020-07-24 Assessing media education is a formidable task because both assessment and media education are complex and controversial concepts Assessment which can take place at the individual student class sequence program department or unit and university levels is questioned in terms of reliability validity relevance and cost Media education which has been challenged at a number of schools finds faculty and administrators in the midst of soul searching about how to clearly articulate its missions and purposes to a broader audience Departments are under increasing national state and institutional pressure to get assessment procedures carried out quickly but there is an obvious danger in rushing to implement assessment strategies before establishing what is essential in media education In communication education in general the what of assessment is often discussed in terms of skills attitudes affect values and knowledge People assess students to determine what they know think feel value and can do Here it is suggested that one of the places to start defining what students should learn from their media education is by identifying outcomes Outcomes can be assessed in a variety of ways but first they need to be developed and clearly articulated

Qualities of Education in a Globalised World

Diane Brook Napier, 2014-09-11 In a growing revisionist

tradition comparative educational scholars challenge conventional assumptions about quality education as a singular undertaking dominated by standardised assessments and globalisation influences The contributors to this volume illustrate the complexities and global dimensions of educational quality that emerged in their research Several chapters critique educational reforms employing assessments aligned to global standards and large scale assessments revealing how considerations of contextual factors internal needs and local traditions are essential for developing a quality curriculum or for overhauling a national education system Most chapters interrogate the uses and misuses of standardised assessment results The contributors reveal the importance of asking critical questions about quality education how to access it and for what purposes what contextual and cultural factors are important what implementation issues and local level realities must be considered for true understanding of standardized assessment results what content skills and values are necessary and desirable ingredients what roles teachers and administrators play and what benefits accrue in terms of outcomes for employment and labor market needs or for achieving autonomy and stakeholder participation Critiques of narrow interpretations of standardised assessment data contrast with research based evidence that participation in large scale assessments such as PISA TIMSS and PIRLS can indeed be beneficial to identify needed reform refinements and implementation shortcomings Specific country cases include Brazil Canada the United States Spain Portugal Ukraine Kyrgyzstan and the Philippines Other chapters provide insights on quality education issues worldwide The volume offers readers a panorama of views on the diversity of paths to quality education

Pedagogies of Educational Transitions Nadine Ballam,Bob Perry,Anders Garpelin,2016-10-04 This book presents the latest research on educational transitions from a variety of research traditions and practical contexts set in Australia New Zealand and several European countries It examines critically questions and reshapes ideas and notions about children s transitions to school The book is divided into five parts the first two of which emphasise diversity and inclusion with Part II focusing solely on the transition to school for children from Indigenous cultures Part III explores the notion of continuity which has been widely debated in terms of its role in the transition to school Part IV explores the transition to school through the notion of crossing borders The final section of this book Part V includes ideas about future directions for work in the area of educational transitions and presents the notion of transitions as a tool for change to policy research and practice The book concludes with a critical synthesis of the research outlined throughout including recommendations regarding future research related to educational transitions

School Decentralization in the Context of Globalizing Governance Holger Daun,2006-11-23 Since the beginning of the 1980s decentralization has become a globalized policy and catchword in education a large number of countries around the world have formulated such a policy and many have also implemented it The policies and the changes at the national level have been researched but what has taken place and is taking place at the grassroots level has not received attention until recently This book presents grassroots cases from different countries against the background of the overall changes in governance philosophy and applications It uses case studies from countries in Africa Asia Europe and Latin America and describes what is occurring at this level The book gives an account of different types of decentralization and their impact The first two chapters describe principally structural and organizational educational changes in the broader context of globalized models and the pressure to create a competitive education system and changing governance Decentralization is one of the strategic aspects of this new mode of governance
