Politics and higher education in East Africa from the 1920s to 1970 Bhekithemba R. Mngomezulu, 2012-01-01 The main objective of this book is to establish the salient reasons why higher education was developed in East Africa and specifically why the Federal University of East Africa was constituted The book will identify the factors responsible for the collapse of this regional institution in June 1970 Another objective of this book is to demonstrate how the history of the University of East Africa sheds light on colonial and post colonial policies on education especially higher education as a contribution to educational planning in contemporary Africa    Education for a Developing Region Guy Hunter, 1977-09-26 This is an analysis of the conditions which overseas students particularly Africans meet during their studies in the United Kingdom the importance of context in defining how habits and practices of citizenship are constructed and understood within communities The book demonstrates how conceptualizations derived from philosophical pragmatism facilitate identification of the dynamics of incremental change in citizenship It also provides a definition of learning as reformulation of habits which helps to understand the difficulties in promoting change This book will be of interest to scholars within the fields of development governance and educational philosophy Practitioners and policy makers working on inclusive citizenship and interventions to strengthen civil society will also find the concepts explored in this book useful to their work The Open Access version of this book available at <https://www.taylorfrancis.com/books/e/9780429279171> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license
