Dupuy,Krijn Peters,2009-11-19 A comprehensive up to date presentation of how children and young people are affected by and respond to situations of armed conflict and postwar reconstruction War and Children A Reference Handbook looks at one of the most wrenching aspects of armed conflict ranging across the globe to examine the different ways armed conflict and postwar reconstructions affect children and young people and how they have responded to both war and efforts to alleviate war's destruction. While war has always affected children, the nature of that impact has changed in the last half century. Civil conflicts break out in mostly poor developing countries with large populations of young people and combatants are less hesitant to turn civilian areas into battlegrounds. War and Children explores these phenomena by focusing primarily on recent conflicts worldwide with case studies dramatizing important issues and controversies including the considerable number of children soldiers throughout the world.

The Nagorno-Karabakh deadlock Azer Babayev, Bruno Schoch, Hans-Joachim Spanger, 2019-05-02 The book examines all relevant models which have been employed in settling ethno territorial conflicts since the time of the League of Nations. Eight of these models have been studied in depth. The aim of this analysis is to gain expertise and insights that could prove relevant to resolving the conflict in Nagorno Karabakh. This potential is evaluated in the closing chapters of the volume where novel ideas on how to apply the lessons of these cases to the conflict in Nagorno Karabakh are presented. This conflict carries many features typical of ethno territorial conflicts in present and past times; it is neither unique nor does its settlement depend on others than the parties to the conflict. Rather, it is as in all other cases, entrenched historical narratives and enemy images which lead to zero sum calculations and can conceivably only be overcome in a gradual process. Content: Part I Nagorno Karabakh and ethno territorial conflict settlement; Part II Case studies of ethno territorial conflict settlement: land, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Kosovo, South Tyrol, Trieste, Cyprus, Northern Ireland, Quebec; Part III Results and conclusions: A way out for Nagorno Karabakh. The Editors: Dr Azer Babayev is Assistant Professor of Political Science at ADA University, Baku; Dr Bruno Schoch is Associated Researcher at PRIF Peace Research Institute, Frankfurt; Dr Hans-Joachim Spanger is Head of the Dissemination Division at PRIF Peace Research Institute, Frankfurt.

The Education Systems of Europe Wolfgang Hörner, Hans Döbert, Botho von Kopp, Wolfgang Mitter, 2007-05-03 Education is a paradoxical phenomenon On the one hand it is universal as since the period of Enlightenment it has been declared universal good for everybody Moreover we learnt by historical research following the ideas of world system theory that since this time as far as its main structures are concerned compulsory state education given by professional teachers in classrooms it took even universal traits However on the other hand the fact that education became state education organised or at least controlled by the state was the beginning of another tradition line education in the form of state organised educational institutions became a means of creating national identity Universal inclusion as for the light of reason shining for everybody is opposed to more or less nationalist exclusion of all the others shaping the feature of a particular nation state with a particular educational system This fundamental dialectical tension between the universal and the particular was one to the important motives to make this handbook One of the central issues of the country studies is precisely to display the relationship between universal values and the search for national identity Another motive is given by the European dimension of the handbook
