Educational Research: the Educationalization of Social Problems Paul Smeyers, 2009-04-14 Pushing social responsibilities on schools is a process that has been underway for a long time This phenomenon has been studied more in Europe than in North America and the U K and has been labelled P dagogisierung The editors have chosen to use Educationalization to identify the overall orientation or trend toward thinking about education as the focal point for addressing or solving larger human problems The term describes these phenomena as a sub process of the modernization of society but it also has negative connotations such as increased dependence patronization and pampering In this book distinguished philosophers and historians of education focus on educationalization to expand its meaning through an engagement with educational theory Topics discussed are the family and the child the learning society citizenship education widening participation in higher education progressive education and schooling movements such as No Child Left Behind Smeyers and Depaepe s book offers great insights into one of the most ambivalent phenomena of today s educational world and especially educational policy The contributions assembled represent perspectives of some of the most respected scholars in the field Their manifold critiques of the educationalization of social problems are rather convincing Our time is definitely ripe for such analysis Roland Reichenbach Center for Educational Studies University of Basel Switzerland This is a challenging critical and analytical treatment of the tendency of contemporary administrations to overburden educational institutions with the expectation that they will provide the solutions to an increasingly diverse range of social and economic problems It brings together the theoretical resources of a distinguished international group of philosophers and historians of education and deserves the careful attention of educational policy makers practitioners and researchers alike David Bridges Von H gel Institute St Edmund s College Cambridge England This publication is realized by the Research Community FWO Vlaanderen Research Foundation Flanders Belgium Philosophy and History of the Discipline of Education Evaluation and Evolution of the Criteria for Educational Research Also realized by the Research Community are Educational Research Why What Works Doesn t Work 2006 and Educational Research Networks and Technologies 2007 Education at a Glance 2008 OECD Indicators OECD,2008-09-08 A rich comparable and up to date array of indicators on the performance of education systems in OECD countries has gathered standardized evidence about the structures of parliamentary representation in 11 European countries and their development over time in many countries over 160 years Following on from an earlier book by the same editors Parliamentary Representatives in Europe 1848 2000 which focused on trends in single European countries Democratic Representation in Europe pursues a trans national approach by comparing the mechanisms and modes of parliamentary recruitment and career formation between the main party families and various categories of the population in European societies Such cross national analyses which include a longitudinal account of female representation throughout modern European parliamentary history have not been attempted before The book concludes with longitudinal in depth analyses of cleavage representation in European parliamentary history and of the impact of the institutional factor on political elites transformations Democratic Representation in Europe contributes to a better understanding of relations between social and political change and of the importance of institutional factors in shaping the political elites of European democracies In so doing it can help substantiate theoretical debates in the social and political sciences on issues such as historical institutionalism and path dependency

Design for the Changing Educational Landscape Andrew Harrison, Les Hutton, 2013-10-15 The whole landscape of space use is undergoing a radical transformation In the workplace a period of unprecedented change has created a mix of responses with one overriding outcome observable worldwide the rise of distributed space In the learning environment the social political economic and technological changes responsible for this shift have been further compounded by constantly developing theories of learning and teaching and a wide acceptance of the importance of learning as the core of the community resulting in the blending of all aspects of learning into one seamless experience This book attempts to look at all the forces driving the provision and pedagogic performance of the many spaces real and virtual that now accommodate the experience of learning and provide pointers towards the creation and design of learning centred communities Part 1 looks at the entire learning universe as it now stands tracks the way in which its constituent parts came to occupy their role assesses how they have responded to a complex of drivers and gauges their success in dealing with renewed pressures to perform. It shows that what is required is innovation within the spaces and integration between them. Part 2 finds many examples of innovation in evidence across the world in schools, the higher and further education campus and in business and cultural spaces but an almost total absence of integration. Part 3 offers a model that redefines the learning landscape in terms of learning outcomes, mapping spatial requirements and activities into a detailed mechanism that will achieve the best outcome at the most appropriate scale. By encouraging stakeholders to create an events-based rather than space-based identity, the book hopes to point the way to a fully integrated learning landscape, a learning community.
