HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND SCHOOL LEARNING

Human development can be defined psychologically as the pattern of movement or change that begins at conception and continuous through the human life span (santruck- 2005)

The study of human development gives you insights on where actually you came from (who were you) (who are you) how to come from.

Thus development involves stages from born to death that every individual must have passed through different development task which are the necessary activities and behaviors characterizing each stage of development e.g. childish play.

Human development involves two main concepts which are

- ✓ Growth
- ✓ Maturation

This refers to an increase in body size, weight, shape and height. It involves quantitative changes. Growth is believed to occur rapidly during the pre-natal and adolescence periods of human development.

MATURATION

This refers to change in mental abilities and function ability e.g. language use, thinking etc. Maturation involves to a large extent the unfolding of genetic code and that is significantly a qualitative of human development.

Recent Theories of Human Development R. Murray Thomas, 2000-10-17 Intended as supplemental reading in courses on theories of development this book augments traditional core texts by providing students with more depth on about two dozen recent and emerging theories that have appeared over the course of the past 20 years This period has seen a decline of the traditional grand theories that attempt to apply to all people all the time in favor of micro theories that focus more on individual differences so a book like this actually points the way toward the future rather than dryly reviewing the past In addition the author inspects the changing ways in which the concept of theory itself has been interpreted during this period and he concludes with a chapter suggesting future directions
