company The Ethics Project in Legal Education Michael Robertson, Lillian Corbin, Kieran Tranter, Francesca Bartlett, 2010-10-06 This book discusses the teaching of legal ethics arguing that the current formal rules governing lawyers are inadequate as true engagement with ethical issues requires lawyers to exercise judgment and therefore there is a need to rethink the aims, scope and methodology of legal ethics education. The volume presents the views of a number of internationally renowned legal ethicists including Brent Cotter and David Chavkin exploring and questioning the teaching of legal ethics. The contributions examine legal ethics teaching in a range of jurisdictions including the USA, Canada, Australia, South Africa and Hong Kong. A number of contributors discuss design issues that cover a broad field of methods including simulations, the pervasive use of problem solving exercises and real world experiences with some of the essays revealing their empirical findings on the effectiveness of these methods and particularly as they affect the students.

A Student Guide to Clinical Legal Education and Pro Bono Kevin Kerrigan, Victoria Murray, 2011-03-21 Clinical legal education, the participation by law students in the giving of legal advice and representation to actual clients, is playing an increasingly important role within UK law schools. Pro bono, the provision of free legal advice or representation for those who may otherwise have no access to justice, is a vital part of the legal profession's commitment to the rule of law. This book is written by members of staff at Northumbria University's ground breaking legal clinic, the Student Law Office. The authors, all of whom are qualified solicitors, have applied their long experience of clinical legal education into providing an authoritative and practical guide to all aspects of the subject, from valuable advice on establishing a law clinic and the professional and ethical issues involved to practical skills such as interviewing, drafting and advocacy. Accompanying online resources for this title can be found at bloomsburyonlineresources.com, a student guide to clinical legal education and pro bono. These resources are designed to support teaching and learning when using this textbook and are available at no extra cost.

Experimental Legal Education in a Globalized World Mutaz Qafisheh, Stephen A. Ronenbaum, 2016-06-22 Legal education is currently undergoing a paradigm shift. Traditional law instruction, lecturing and memorizing, have become a fading fashion with legal clinics increasingly cropping up. These allow law students to practice while studying and to contribute to social justice as part of the educational process. Students no longer accept one-way interaction from their professors and demand interaction with their peers in various corners of the globe. The Middle East is no exception here. Legal clinics can be found in most countries of the region, though there is scant literature on legal education in the area, particularly with regards to clinical legal education. This book fills this gap and offers comparative cases that will benefit legal educators and justice practitioners in the Middle East and beyond. The region needs reform in all dimensions, including the political, economic, social, religious, legal and educational. Legal education lies at the heart of securing such long-awaited reforms. The book examines legal education within selected locations in the region.

Teaching for Learning and Learning for Teaching Christopher Klopfer, Steve Drew, 2015-10-30 Teaching for Learning and Learning for Teaching focuses on the emerging global governmental and institutional agenda about higher education teaching quality and the role that peer review can play in supporting improvements in teaching and student outcomes This agenda is a pervasive element of the further development of higher education internationally through activities of governments global agencies institutions of higher education discrete disciplines and individual teachers Many universities have adopted student evaluations as a mechanism to appraise the quality of teaching These evaluations can be understood as providing a customer centric portrait of quality and when used as the sole arbiter of teaching performance they do not instil confidence in the system of evaluation by academic teaching staff Providing peer perspectives as counterpoint whether in a developmental or summative form goes some way to alleviating this imbalance and is the impetus for the resurgence of interest in peer review and observation of teaching This book seeks to recognise cases of peer review of teaching in Higher Education to affirm best practices and identify areas that require improvement in establishing local national and international benchmarks of teaching quality
