A Collection in the Making Duncan Phillips,1926 Gypsies Diane Tong,2015-01-28 This book of interdisciplinary readings on Gypsies is sensitive to the Romani point of view and avoids exoticizing or patronizing the Gypsies and their culture Recurrent themes in the readings include the historical oppression of the Gypsies including contemporary xenophobia and violence the nonstatic heterogeneous nature of Gypsy cultures the persistence of racist stereotypes and personal and institutional Gypsy non Gypsy relationships Nearly all of the classic essays updated for this volume tell stories of the persistence of the Roma in the face of savage atrocities and appalling living conditions Domestic Bliss Lee M. Edwards,1986 Edwin Romanzo Elmer, 1850-1923 Betsy B. Jones,1983 Landscape and Material Life in Franklin County, Massachusetts, 1770-1860 J. Ritchie Garrison,2003 This innovative study draws on anthropology archaeology art history folklore and history to illuminate the rich texture of a historic landscape and the complex process by which it changed over a ninety year period between the American Revolution and the Civil War Focusing on Franklin County in the upper Connecticut Valley of Massachusetts a landscape that shares many characteristics with greater New England and with the rural North Garrison describes the region s town plans agricultural patterns dwellings barns outbuildings fences and transportation networks and how they changed He demonstrates that the transformation of this rural landscape was a dynamic process a complex interaction between tradition and innovation driven by people s shifting expectations about material life Garrison s carefully researched narrative study begins with the lives of individual inhabitants and from them generates a larger picture Who lived in Franklin County what they thought and wrote about what choices they made and what principles they lived by what buildings and crops they raised and with what tools and methods how they organized their homes family life farms and workspaces what they did with their leisure time how they spent their money or manifested their social status these are the topics of his investigation His study provides insight into the changing values that accompanied the transition from an agrarian to an industrial society and raises questions about the nature of tradition and the character of American folklife The Author J Ritchie Garrison is associate director of the Museum Studies Program and assistant professor of history at the University of Delaware The University Prints Complete Catalogue ,1989 Catalog of the Avery Memorial Architectural Library of Columbia University: Elc - Furq Avery Library,1968 Costume, a List of Books Detroit Public Library,1928 A Reading and Reference List on Costume Brooklyn Public Library,1928 Index to Reproductions of American Paintings Isabel Stevenson Monro,Kate M. Block,2024-09-10 From the award winning author of Dressing Up a riveting and diverse history of women s hair that reestablishes the cultural power of hairdressing in nineteenth century America In the nineteenth century the complex cultural meaning of hair was not only significant but it could also impact one s place in society After the Civil War hairdressing was also a growing profession and the hair industry a mainstay of local national and international commerce In Beyond Vanity Elizabeth Block expands the nascent field of hair studies by restoring women's hair as a cultural site of meaning in the early United States With a special focus on the places and spaces in which the hair industry operated Block argues that the importance of hair has been overlooked due to its ephemerality as well as its misguided association with frivolity and triviality As Block clarifies hairdressing was anything but frivolous Using methods of visual and material culture studies informed by concepts of cultural geography Block identifies multiple substantive categories of place and space within which hair acted These include the preparatory places of the bedroom hair salon and enslaved peoples quarters as well as the presentation places of parties fairs stages and workplaces Here are also the untold stories of business owners many of whom were women of color and the creators of trendsetting styles like the pompadour and Gibson Girl bouffant Block's ground breaking study examines how race and racism affected who participated in the presentation and business of hair and according to which standards The result of looking closely at the places and spaces of hair is a reconfiguration that allows a new understanding of the cultural power of hair in the period
