George Grant And The Twilight Of Justice:

George Grant and the Subversion of Modernity Arthur Davis, 1996-01-01 The focus of this book is the unknown George Grant namely the philosophic religious and artistic inspiration behind his well known public positions George Grant and the Twilight of Justice Joan Elizabeth O'Donovan, 1984 George Grant Hugh Donald Forbes, 2007-01-01 George Grant 1918 1988 is the most engaging and provocative writer to have dealt with Canadian politics in the last fifty years His Lament for a Nation 1965 is an undisputed classic of our nations political literature An instant best seller on account of its practical political argument it has endured as an interpretation of Canadian history and a justification for nationalism in this country Along with Grants other books it has also helped to clarify what is meant by the malaise of modernity said to characterize our time and thus has served to introduce more than a generation of students to the basic questions of political philosophy This study aims to guide the reader toward a clearer understanding of Grants thought Focusing on his six short books and some of his most revealing articles and addresses it serves as both an introduction to and an overview of George Grants career and his many contributions to the fields of political science philosophy religion and Canadian studies Hugh Donald Forbes relates Grants work to that of three disparate and controversial European thinkers Martin Heidegger Leo Strauss and Simone Weil exploring Grant outside of the strictly Canadian framework in which he is normally situated This volume offers fresh perspective on the work of an important political philosopher It will prove invaluable reading for students new to the subject as well as for those interested in a comprehensive study of an outstanding Canadian thinker Collected Works of

Tranter shows that the relationship between eschatology and ethics is an area of significant tension in O Donovan s evolving vision of moral theology Tranter traces this tension as it relates to O Donovan s writing and contemporary discussion around natural law divine command and human flourishing as well as to particular topics such as poverty marriage and singleness and biotechnology He also connects it with the broader doctrinal features of O Donovan s project such as his accounts of creation sin and redemption and his understanding of the relationships between the cross and the resurrection on one hand and Christology and pneumatology on the other Throughout Tranter indicates the implications of these themes for our understanding of the Christian life This volume establishes and evaluates O Donovan s influence on contemporary Christian ethicists and political theologians such as Luke Bretherton Gilbert Meilaender Jean Porter and Brent Waters and engages with critical readings of O Donovan such as those by Stanley Hauerwas and Gerald McKenny In conversation with these and other voices from a range of perspectives Tranter shows how O Donovan s proposals may be appropriated and amended as a resource for theology and ethics going forward

Christian Moral Theology in the Emerging Technoculture Brent Waters,2016-05-23 We are living in an emerging technoculture Machines and gadgets not only weave the fabric of daily life but more importantly embody philosophical and religious values which shape the contemporary moral vision a vision that is often at odds with Christian convictions This book critically examines those values and offers a framework for how Christian moral theology should be formed and lived out within the emerging technoculture Brent Waters argues that technology represents the principal cultural background against which contemporary Christian moral life is formed Addressing contemporary ethical and religious issues this book will be of particular interest to students and scholars exploring the ideas of Heidegger Nietzsche Grant Arendt and Borgmann

Canadian History: Confederation to the present Martin Brook Taylor, Doug O'wram, 1994-01-01 In these two volumes which replace the Reader's Guide to Canadian History experts provide a select and critical guide to historical writing about pre and post Confederation Canada with an emphasis on the most recent scholarship Cover A Disciplined Intelligence A. B. McKillop, 2001 This highly original contribution to Canadian intellectual history examines the course of critical inquiry and its relationship to the assertion of moral authority in English Canadian thought during the Victorian era Christianity and Constitutionalism Nicholas Aroney, Ian Leigh, 2022 The first volume of its kind Christianity and Constitutionalism explores the contribution of Christianity to constitutional law and constitutionalism as viewed from the perspectives of history law and theology The authors examine a wide range of key figures including Augustine Thomas Aquinas Moses Martin Luther and Roger Williams offering innovative and thoughtful analyses of the relationship between religious thought and constitutional law Part I features contributions from historians and is focused on the historical influence of Christianity on constitutionalism recounting how the relationship between the Christian faith and fundamental ideas about law justice and government has evolved from era to era Part II offers the analyses of constitutional lawyers focusing on the normative implications of Christianity for particular themes or topics in constitutional law The chapters in this section orbit around several central doctrines and principles of this field including sovereignty the rule of law democracy the separation of powers human rights conscience and federalism evaluating them from a range of Christian perspectives Part III rounds out the study with theologians focused on particular Christian doctrines exploring their constructive and sometimes critical implications for constitutionalism As a whole Christianity and Constitutionalism breaks new ground by offering wide ranging interdisciplinary contributions to the study of the relationship between the Christian religion and constitutional law Image and Identity R. Bruce Elder, 2006-01-01 What do images of the body which recent poets and filmmakers have given us tell us about ourselves about the way we think and about the culture in which we live In his new book A Body of Vision R Bruce Elder situates contemporary poetic and cinematic body images in their cultural context Elder examines how recent artists have tried to recognize and to convey primordial forms of experiences He proposes the daring thesis that in their efforts to do so artists have resorted to gnostic models of consciousness He argues that the attempt to convey these primordial modes of awareness demands a different conception of artistic meaning from any of those that currently dominate contemporary critical discussion By reworking theories and speech in highly original ways Elder formulates this new conception The works of Brakhage Artaud Schneeman Cohen and others lie naked under Elder's razor sharp dissecting knife and he exposes the essence of their work cutting deeply into the themes and theses from which the works are derived His remarks on the gaps in contemporary critical practices will likely become the focus of much debate Christian Ethics in a Technological Age Brian Brock, 2010-06-28 Through close analysis of the historical and conceptual roots of modern science and technology

Beyond Cutting Edge? Paul C. Heidebrecht, 2014-03-10 A quick scan of any newsstand is enough to confirm the widespread preoccupation with technological change As a myriad of articles and advertisements demonstrate not only are we preoccupied with technology but we are bombarded with numerous reminders that the cutting edge is in constant motion Most often the underlying assumption of Christians is that we have no choice but to find ways to cope with the latest and greatest Indeed it is often assumed that the church has no choice but to find ways to cope with its new technological context This book does not make the same assumptions Building on the work of Mennonite theologian John Howard Yoder it argues that the practices of the church make it possible for Christians to conscientiously engage technology This happens when we recognize that marks of the church such as patience vulnerability and servanthood can put technological ideals such as speed control and efficiency in their proper place In the course of grappling with three examples of morally formative technologies automobiles genetically modified food and the Internet this book goes beyond Yoder's thought by emphasizing that the church also plays a crucial role in our moral formation

Wilderness Wanderings Stanley Hauerwas, 2018-05-15 Wilderness Wanderings slashes through the tangled undergrowth that Christianity in America has become to clear a space for those for whom theology still matters Writing to a generation of Christians that finds itself at once comfortably at home yet oddly fettered and irrelevant in America Stanley Hauerwas challenges contemporary Christians to reimagine what it might mean to break back into Christianity in a world that is at best semi-Christian While the myth that America is a Christian nation has long been debunked a more urgent constructive task remains namely discerning what it may mean for Christians approaching the threshold of the twenty first century to be courageous in their convictions Ironically reclaiming the church's identity and mission may require relinquishing its purported gains which often amount to little more than a sense of comfort the seduction of feeling at ease in Zion to take up again the risk and adventure of life on the way Accordingly this book gives no comfort to the religious right or left which continues to think Christianity can be made compatible with the sentimentalities of democratic liberalism Such a re-visioned church will not establish itself through conquest or in a reconstituted Christendom but rather must develop within its own life the patient attentive skills of a wayfaring people At least a church seasoned by a peripatetic life stands a better chance of noticing the changing directions of God's leading The wilderness therefore ought not to appear to contemporary Christians in America as a foreboding and frightening possibility but as an opportunity to rediscover the excitement and spirit but also the rigorous discipline of faithful itinerancy At such a crucial time as this Hauerwas challenges Christians to eschew the insidious dangers that attend too permanent a habitation in a place called America and to assume instead the holy risks and hazards characteristic of people called out set apart and led by God Wilderness Wanderings is a clarion call for Christians to relinquish the impermanent citizenship of a home that can never be the church's final resting place and confidently take up a course of life the horizons of which are as wide and expansive as the God who promises to lead The book engages often quite critically with major theological and philosophical figures such as Reinhold Niebuhr Martha Nussbaum Jeff Stout Tristram Engelhardt Iris Murdoch John Milbank and Martin Luther King Jr These interrogations illumine why theology must reclaim its own politics and ethics Intent on avoiding abstraction Hauerwas intervenes in current debates around medicine the culture wars and race

Northern Spirits Robert C. Sibley, 2008-02-08 Canadians have devoted considerable thought to Hegel a proposition born out by the work of John Watson George Grant and Charles Taylor three major Canadian political philosophers of the last century In Northern Spirits Robert Sibley examines how Watson Grant and Taylor found in Hegel the theoretical tools needed to respond to Canada's uncertain existence

The Doctrine of God and Theological Ethics Michael Banner, Alan Torrance, 2006-08-29 This book addresses an important topic and fills a major gap in developments in modern theology and Christian ethics Significant treatments include Wolfhart Pannenberg's historical overview of the relationship between modernism and Christian faith John Webster's meticulous analysis of Christian theology's contribution to modern conceptions of conscience J L O Donovan's critique of liberal contractarian theory and Alasdair MacIntyre's examination of the critical issues which Christianity raises for secular philosophy
