Art Outside the Lines, 2015-06-29 This collection of essays written by leading scholars in the fields of East German art, film, literature, music, and museum studies seeks to renegotiate the artistic legacy of the German Democratic Republic. Combining a range of theoretical and practical perspectives, the volume challenges the narrow frameworks of totalitarianism and Ostalgic that have dominated discussions of art produced in the GDR. It explores the diversity of art produced in the state and contests the long-held perception that socialist realism and artistic innovation were mutually exclusive. Crucially, the collection puts art itself to the fore. GDR art is considered not simply as a political by-product as is so often the case, but as an entity of innovation and aesthetic value in its own right.

The Private Collector's Museum Georgina Walker, 2019-05-17 The Private Collector's Museum connects the rising popularity of private museums with evolving models of collecting and philanthropy and new inter-relationships between private and public space. It examines how contemporary collectors construct museums to frame themselves as cultural arbiters of global distinction. By exploring a range of in-depth contemporary case studies, the book aims for a more complex understanding of the private collector's museum, assessing how it is realised, funded, and understood in a broader cultural context. It examines the ways in which this particular museum model has evolved within a historical Western tradition of collecting and museum building and considers how private museums will endure alongside their public counterparts. It also sheds light on the shifting patterns of collecting, such as the transition of personal art collections into the public sphere. The developments are situated within the wider context of private/public engagement in general. Providing a new analysis of philanthropy, public access, and the museum, The Private Collector's Museum is essential reading for scholars.
