Otto Höfler's Characterisation of the Germanic Peoples Courtney Marie Burrell,2023-05-08 Otto Höfler 1901 1987 was an Austrian Germanist and Scandinavist His research on Germanic culture in particular on Germanic Männerbünde men's bands was controversial and remains a topic of academic debate In modern discourse Höfler's theories are often fundamentally rejected on account of his involvement in the National Socialist movement and his contribution to the research initiatives of the SS Ahnenerbe or they are adopted by scholars who ignore his problematic methodologies and the ideological and political elements of his work The present study takes a comprehensive approach to Höfler's research on Germanic culture and analyses his characterisation of the Germanic peoples contextualising his research in the backdrop of German philological studies of the early twentieth century and highlighting elements of his theories that are still the topic of modern academic discourse A thorough analysis of his main research theses focusing on his Männerbund research reveals that his concept of Germanic culture is underscored by a belief in the deep seated religiosity of the Germanic peoples formed through sacred daemonic forces History of the German people at the close of the middle ages Johannes Janssen,1886

the so called Nuremberg laws such as Germany's Jews Until recently scholarship failed to explore this task of the German judiciary in more detail Edith Raim fills this gap by showing the extent of the crimes committed against Jews beyond the traditionally known facts and by elucidating how the West German administration of justice was reconstructed under Allied supervision News from the German Embassy ,1957 Eugenical News ,1916
