Tucker,2015-09-22 A thorough study of significant wars throughout history and their influence on world affairs from the Egyptian Pharaoh Thutmore III's Campaigns during 479-459 BCE through the Iraq War of 2003-2011. For hundreds of years wars have played a determining role in history and have decided the rise and fall of civilizations. Many believe that understanding the causes and consequences of warfare may move humankind towards world peace. This selection of the 50 most consequential wars compiled by award-winning military historian Spencer C. Tucker presents each conflict in chronological order and discusses its causes, its course, and its significance in world history. Through thoughtful essays and supporting visual evidence, this reference work examines the types of weapons systems employed and their effects in the field, the roles played by individual leaders such as Alexander the Great, Julius Caesar, Abraham Lincoln, and Adolf Hitler, and the impact of geography and economics on the battlefield. The work includes fascinating information about warfare addressing subjects such as how transportation and logistics changed the face of war over time, what invention marked the ascendancy of infantry over cavalry, why World War I remains the most important war in the 20th century, and which war killed nearly half of the population of Germany. Each essay includes the latest interpretations of strategy, agendas, and consequences of the featured event.

External Research United States.

Department of State. External Research Division, Entangled Emancipation Alexandria N. Ruble, 2023-11-01. In 1900 German legislators passed the Civil Code, a controversial law that designated women as second-class citizens with regard to marriage, parental rights, and marital property. Despite the upheavals in early twentieth-century Germany, the fall of the German Empire after the First World War, the tumultuous Weimar Republic, and the destructive Third Reich, the Civil Code remained the law of the land. After Nazi Germany's defeat in 1945 and the founding of East and West Germany, legislators in both states finally replaced the old law with new versions that expanded women's rights in marriage and the family. Entangled Emancipation reveals how the complex relationship between the divided Germanys in the early Cold War catalysed but sometimes blocked efforts to reshape legal understandings of gender and the family after decades of inequality. Using methods drawn from gender history and discourse analysis, the book restores the history of the women's movements in East and West Germany. Entangled Emancipation ultimately explores the parallel processes through which East and West Germany reimagined, negotiated, and created new civil laws governing women's rights after the Second World War.

South

Africa Ian Phillips, 1989. Covers the history of modern South Africa from the first white settlement in the 17th century through the Boer War to the setting up of apartheid and the situation in the 1990s. The book fulfils the requirements of the GCSE courses in the world history and the Schools History Project. Routledge Handbook of the Global History of Warfare Kaushik Roy, Michael W. Charney, 2024-01-23. This handbook examines key aspects of the development of the global history of warfare and the changing patterns of warfare over time. Although scholarship has long eschewed a chronological narrative of the evolution of warfare that privileges the Western experience, global histories of warfare have had difficulty avoiding an overemphasis on the West. The present volume is a collection of themes rather than a history per se; it provides important perspectives on the emergence of warfare as a global historical experience from the ancient past to the present day Drawing together numerous experts it tells a broader more inclusive story of the global human experience with wars and warfare The 35 chapters are organised in eight thematic parts Part I Origins of Warfare Part II Polities and Armed Forces in the Pre Modern Era Part III Steppe Nomads of Eurasia Part IV Naval Warfare and Piracy in the Pre Industrial World Part V The Impact of Gunpowder Part VI Transition from Industrial to Total War Part VII Wars of Decolonisation and Cold War Part VIII Postmodern New Wars These Parts offer an overview of the global experience of warfare to help readers understand how the wars and the militaries we see today have been shaped by historical developments across the globe This handbook will be of great interest to students of military history naval history strategic studies and world history in general

Modern Germany Charles River Editors,2025-05-01 The history of Germany and the German speaking peoples is as complex and multifaceted as any in Europe It is also one of the most difficult to pinpoint conceptually and historically since every nation is a construct to some extent Language is certainly important and the German language is a unifying factor for any notion of a unified Germany yet even today many German speakers live outside the borders of modern Germany Shared customs and traditions gave Germans a common sense of identity to some extent but these were often local in origin Germans were also split between several versions of Christianity Nevertheless ideas of a German nation were present by the 19th century leading up to the official unification in 1871 Neil MacGregor a historian of modern Germany has explained that the two defining events leading to the rise of German nationalism and the movement toward unification were the Thirty Years War and the Napoleonic Wars 1 During the Thirty Years War more than 200 German states were part of the Holy Roman Empire s loose confederation and that war was predominantly fought in German states by foreign powers including France Sweden Denmark Austria and the Netherlands MacGregor noted that horrors were experienced across all Germany and were never forgotten to the extent that they were invoked during World War II 2 The religious basis of the Thirty Years War saw the split between Catholicism and Protestantism which was at the heart of the Reformation Some foreign leaders even invoked defending German freedoms for their invasion 3 From the German point of view the Thirty Years War was proof of their vulnerability to foreign aggression Atrocities such as the sacking of Magdeburg in 1631 where more than 30 000 people were killed were embedded in the German consciousness 4 All told 8 million people died during the Thirty Years War Likewise the Napoleonic Wars fought about 150 years later appeared to confirm these fears The French Revolution had terrified similar royal regimes in other

European empires and as the revolution took on ever bloodier connotations other countries were drawn into conflict with the new French Republic with the Holy Roman Empire on the front line of the revolutionary wars Napoleon Bonaparte earned his reputation with a number of victories on the battlefield and rose to the pinnacle of power in France As the French emperor his reign was characterized by a more aggressive military strategy and the rapid annexation of much of Europe
