Geopolitics In A Changing World:

Geopolitics in a Changing World Klaus Dodds, 2000 Developing examples drawn from the last 50 years of world politics this volume provides a progressive introduction to world politics It illustrates how forces such as globalisation are changing the traditional subject matter of geopolitics Geopolitics John Rennie Short, 2021-08-25 In this cogent introduction to the state of contemporary geopolitics Short provides an understanding of the basic themes of geopolitics and an overview of geopolitical issues around the globe His regional approach to the study of the power relations between states is framed by a discussion of critical and popular geopolitical analysis EU Geopolitical Actorness in a Changing World Liridon Lika, Dealan Riga, 2025-02-24 This book elaborates on the assumption that the European Union EU actorness might be shifting from normative to geopolitical and strategic focus Over the past few years the EU has faced growing challenges such as disruptions in its vicinity diffusion of global power and renewed geopolitical competition These external pressures have significantly impacted the EU prompting it among other measures to announce a Geopolitical Commission Academic literature has acknowledged the EU's shift from normative power to an increasingly geoeconomic and geopolitical approach However the notion of geopolitical actorness warrants closer scrutiny of its implications on foreign policy This edited volume critically examines the EU's evolving strategy in a changing world It provides a conceptual framework for rethinking the Union's global role and the renewal of foreign policy tools The book offers a fresh and innovative perspective on whether the EU's ambition to assert new geopolitical leadership is actually backed by the effective implementation of policies and strategies needed to address emerging global challenges Geopolitics at the end of the twentieth century, 1999

The Return of Geopolitics Albert J. Bergesen, Christian Suter, 2018 With globalization fading and geopolitics on the rise this volume analyzes globalization geopolitical cycles accompanied by rising and falling economic military hegemonies and the Chinese concept of Tianxia as an equivalent of the idea of hegemony along with a theory of pre-emptive hegemonic decline Geopolitical movements are also discussed including state seeking movements since the 16th century Kurdish struggles in Turkey African terrorist groups and the Russian intellectual movement called Eurasianism Finally there is a discussion of the geopolitics of the Anthropocene and the rise of Astropolitical theory Geopolitical Traditions David Atkinson, Klaus Dodds, 2002-09-26 Condemned as an intellectual poison by the late American geographer Richard Hartshorn geopolitics has confounded its critics Today it remains a popular and important intellectual field despite the persistent allegations that geopolitics helped to legitimate Hitler's policies of spatial expansionism and the domination of place Using insights from critical geopolitics and cultural history the contributors focus on how geopolitics has been created negotiated and contested within a variety of intellectual and popular contexts Geopolitical Traditions argues that geopolitics has to take responsibility for the past whilst at the same time reconceptualising geopolitics in a manner which accounts for the dramatic changes in the late twentieth century The book is divided into three sections firstly Rethinking Geopolitical

Histories concentrates on how geopolitical conversations between European scholars and the wider world unfolded secondly Geopolitics Nationa and Spirituality considers how geopolitical writings have been strongly influenced by religions iconography adn doctrine with examples drawn from Catholicicsm Judaism and Hinduism and thirdly Reclaiming and Refocusing Geopolitics contemplates how geopolitics has been reformulated in the post war period with illustrations from France and the United States Geopolitical Traditions brings together scholars working in a variety of disciplines and locations in order to explore a hundred years of geopolitical thought Sanjay Chaturedi Punjab University India Paul Claval Eaubonne France Michael J Heffernan Notingham University UK Les Hepple University of Bristol

Changing Geopolitics of Global Communication Daya Thussu, 2024-07-31 Changing Geopolitics of Global Communication examines the rapidly evolving dynamics between global communication and geopolitics As an intersection between communication and international relations it bridges the existing gap in scholarship and highlights the growing importance of digital communication in legitimizing and promoting the geopolitical and economic goals of leading powers One central theme that emerges in the book is the continuity of asymmetries in power relations that can be traced back to 19th century European imperialism manifested in its various incarnations from liberal to neo liberal to digital imperialism The book includes a discussion of the post Cold War US led transformation of the hardware and software of global communication and how it has been challenged by the rise of the rest especially China Other key issues covered include the geopolitics of image wars weaponization of information and the visibility of discourses emanating from outside the Euro Atlantic zone The ideas and arguments advanced here privilege a reading of geopolitical processes and examples from the perspective of the global South Written by a leading scholar of global communication this comprehensive and transdisciplinary study adopts a holistic approach and will be of interest to the global community of scholars researchers and commentators in communication and international relations among other fields Boundaries, Territory and Postmodernity David Newman,2013-11-05 Contributions to this collection seek to determine the extent to which states and boundaries have in fact disappeared or are simply changing their functions as we move from an era of fixed territories into a post Westphalian territorial system A group of international political geographers and political scientists examine the changing nature of the state pointing to significant changes on the one hand but equally noting the continued importance of territory and boundaries in determining the political ordering of the post modern world Geopolitics at the End of the Twentieth Century Nurit Kliot,David Newman,2013-11-05 An excellent examination of how the collapse of the Soviet Union and the impact of globalization have brought about changes not only to the territorial configuration sovereignty of states and their boundaries but also to traditional notions of state boundaries sovereignty and social order These essays focus on the key regional and geopolitical characteristics of this global reordering with an emphasis on Eastern Europe and South Asia They discuss the territorial reordering which is taking place at the level of the state as boundaries are redemarcated in line with ethno territorial demands as borders are transverses by the movement of peoples information and finance and as the lines of territorial demarcation are perceived not only in terms of their fixed characteristics but as part of a process through which regional and ethnic identities continue to be formed and reformed Each section ends with articles which focus on literature on geopolitics and boundaries This is an invaluable addition to our understanding of contemporary world affairs

Questioning Geopolitics Georgi M. Derluguian,Scott L. Greer,2000-08-30 This volume takes an enlightened step back from the ongoing discussion of globalization The authors reject the notion that globalization is an analytically useful term Rather this volume shows globalization as merely the framework of the current political debate on the future of world power Some of the many other novel ideas advanced by the authors include the explicit prediction that East Asia is not going to become the center of the world the contention that the USSR collapsed for the same reasons that nearly brought down the United States in 1973 and the notion that the regional economic networks that are emerging from under the modern states are in fact rather old formations The articles in the volume are organized around three main themes Part One explores both the changing patterns of global power from the viewpoint of geopolitics and the Gramscian approach to the study of international relations Part Two further develops the debate among a number of eminent historians and sociologists challenging both the apologists for and the opponents of globalization in new and unexpected ways Part Three traces the emergence of regional economic networks and explores the ambiguous problems of security and identity posed by the old new transborder formations India and Southeast Asia in a Changing World Shailza Singh,Philip Varghese,Shalini Balaiah,Sarish Sebastian,2024-12-16 This book presents a comprehensive analysis of India s relationship with the Southeast

Asian nations in the context of the changing dynamics of international relations and the emergence of Indo Pacific as the theatre of world politics It covers a wide range of themes from strategic to political economic diplomatic and security aspects and assesses how India s redefining of its role in world politics unfolds through its posture towards the Southeast Asian region The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of Asian studies both South Asian and Southeast Asian studies and politics and international relations It will also be useful for public policy analysts and think tanks and policymakers

Rethinking Geopolitics Jeremy Black,2024-07-02 Amid the bloody Russian invasion of Ukraine in 2021 and the escalating tensions across the Taiwan Strait the geopolitical balance of power has changed significantly in a very short period If current trends continue we may be witnessing a tectonic realignment unseen in more than a century In 1904 Halford Mackinder delivered a seminal lecture entitled The Geographical Pivot of History to a packed house at the Royal Geographical Society in London about the historic changes then taking place on the world stage Britain was the great power of that historical moment but its political military and economic primacy was under serious challenge from the United States Germany and Russia Mackinder predicted that the heartland of Eastern Europe held the key to global hegemony and that the struggle for control over this region would be the next great conflict Ten years later when an assassin s bullet in Sarajevo launched the world into a calamitous war Mackinder s analysis proved prescient As esteemed historian Jeremy Black argues in this timely new volume the 2020s may be history s next great pivot point The continued volatility of the global system in the wake of a deadly pandemic exacerbates these pressures At the same time the American public remains divided by the question of engagement with the outside world testing the limits of US postwar hegemony The time has come for a reconsideration of the 120 years from Mackinder s lecture to now as well as geopolitics of the present and of the future
