Nothing If Not Critical Robert Hughes, 2012-02-22 From Holbein to Hockney from Norman Rockwell to Pablo Picasso from sixteenth century Rome to 1980s SoHo Robert Hughes looks with love loathing warmth wit and authority at a wide range of art and artists good bad past and present As art critic for Time magazine internationally acclaimed for his study of modern art The Shock of the New he is perhaps America's most widely read and admired writer on art In this book nearly a hundred of his finest essays on the subject For the realism of Thomas Eakins to the Soviet satirists Komar and Melamid from Watteau to Willem de Kooning to Susan Rothenberg here is Hughes astute vivid and uninhibited on dozens of famous and not so famous artists He observes that Caravaggio was one of the hinges of art history there was art before him and art after him and they were not the same he remarks that Julian Schnabel's work is to painting what Stallone's is to acting he calls John Constable's Wivenhoe Park almost the last word on Eden as Property he notes how distorted traces of Jackson Pollock lie like genes in art world careers that one might have thought had nothing to do with his He knows how Norman Rockwell made a chicken stand still long enough to be painted and what Degas said about success some kinds are indistinguishable from panic Phrasemaker par excellence Hughes is at the same time an incisive and profound critic not only of particular artists but also of the social context in which art exists and is traded His fresh perceptions of such figures as Andy Warhol and the French writer Jean Baudrillard are matched in brilliance by his pungent discussions of the art market its inflated prices and reputations its damage to the public domain of culture There is a superb essay on Bernard Berenson and another on the strange tangled case of the Mark Rothko estate And as a finale Hughes gives us The SoHoiad the mock epic satire that so amused and annoyed the art world in the mid 1980s A meteor of a book that enlightens startles stimulates and entertains

Bulletproof Jennifer Wenzel, 2010-07-15 In 1856 and 1857 in response to a prophet's command the Xhosa people of southern Africa killed their cattle and ceased planting crops the resulting famine cost tens of thousands of lives Much like other millenarian anticolonial movements such as the Ghost Dance in North America and the Birsa Munda uprising in India these actions were meant to transform the world and liberate the Xhosa from oppression Despite the movement's momentous failure to achieve that goal the event has continued to exert a powerful pull on the South African imagination ever since It is these afterlives of the prophecy that Jennifer Wenzel explores in Bulletproof Wenzel examines literary and historical texts to show how writers have manipulated images and ideas associated with the cattle killing harvest sacrifice rebirth devastation to speak to their contemporary predicaments Widening her lens Wenzel also looks at how past failure can both inspire and constrain movements for justice in the present and her brilliant insights into the cultural implications of prophecy will fascinate readers across a wide variety of disciplines The Treatment of Nature in English Poetry Between Pope and Wordsworth Myra Reynolds, 1909

The Expert versus the Object Ronald D. Spencer, 2004-04-01 The authenticity of art has always commanded the attention of experts dealers collectors and the art minded public especially those who relish the Robin Hoods of art forgery who deceive rich collectors and pompous experts This book of essays edited by a lawyer specializing in art law and authenticity proposes to make the question of authenticity more easily understood The main points to be argued are 1 that the perception of form in a work of art is not unlike other types of evidence accepted in courts of law 2 that in determining authenticity experts must adopt a careful organized approach and 3 that all authentication should be based on the consensus of experts at arm s length from an object
