The Renaissance from Brunelleschi to Michelangelo Henry A. Millon, Vittorio Magnago Lampugnani, 1994. The paragons of the Italian Renaissance: Brunelleschi, Alberti, Michelangelo, Bramante; among them were almost without exception architects, not only in practice but also in the private spheres of their imaginations. Their architectural plans, fantasies, and models, as much as the finished buildings, are the records of their extraordinary creative endeavours. Published in conjunction with a major exhibition at the Palazzo Grassi, Venice, this book presents a panorama of civil and religious masterworks and the ideas behind them by the geniuses who changed the face of European architecture in the form of their fascinating models, plans, and designs. Essays by Carl Frommel, Richard Krautheimer, James Ackerman, and other distinguished contributors consider architecture, architectural modelling, and urban planning in late medieval and Renaissance Italy, reaching as far back as ancient Rome to uncover the roots of this great tradition. The works are analyzed historically from the dual viewpoint of Renaissance humanism and modern critical reappraisal. The essays cover French and German Renaissance architecture as well as Italian, and also consider architecture's relationship with other arts such as stage design, painting, and sculpture. Numerous designs, projects, and manuscripts, some never before published, are reproduced and described. Architecture provided a medium for some of the greatest minds of the Italian Renaissance, and their work set the pattern for all subsequent development in Europe. The idiom they created is here given expression in the most complete and detailed corpus ever published on the subject. BOOK JACKET

Motherland and Progress József Sisa, 2016-11-21. In the 19th century, Hungary witnessed unprecedented social, economic, and cultural development. The country became an equal partner within the Dual Monarchy when the Austro-Hungarian Compromise of 1867 was concluded. Architecture and all forms of design flourished as never before. A distinctly Central European taste emerged in which the artistic presence of the German-speaking lands was augmented by the influence of France and England. As this process unfolded, attempts were made to find a uniquely Hungarian form based on motifs borrowed from peasant art as well as real or fictitious historical antecedents.

Motherland and Progress the motto of 19th century Hungarian reformers reflected the programme embraced by the country in its drive to define its identity and shape its future.
