Fishing For Irene

Minnesota

Fishing For Irene:

Fishing for Irene Margee Driscoll, 2004-12 Fishing for Irene is a work of fiction about a family whose lives are torn apart by a tragic debilitating mental illness. The story is primarily about the mother; however, the experience of the reader is realized through the eyes of the daughter who is compassionate, funny, and wise. Mental illness is handled thoughtfully in this book, cultivating within the reader a sense of urgency and yearning. Powerful moving and dramatic scenes urge the reader to dig deep for faith and, if extracted, to hope against hope for a bearable resolve. Ultimately, it is within faith where the resolve rests. Set in Western Montana during the last half of the twentieth century, Fishing for Irene promises the reader an open, honest view of the delicacy of mental illness.

It was not my intention to fall in love; it just happened. We were two people headed down different walks in life who happened to cross paths one painful night.
