

The background of the cover is a photograph of a fisherman wearing a yellow raincoat and a matching hat, sitting in a small boat. He is holding a fishing rod, and the boat is on a body of water with small, dark waves. The overall color palette is dominated by blues and greens from the water and sky, with the yellow of the fisherman's gear providing a strong contrast.

Fishing Up North Stories Of Luck Loss:

Death and Oil Bradford Matsen, 2011 Documents the events of the 1988 oil rig disaster on the North Sea drawing on interviews with survivors and family members the Occidental Petroleum Corp and rescue workers to trace the gas leak that triggered the explosion and the devastation it continues to inflict Rapture of the Deep Ray Troll, 2004 In addition to celebrating the extraordinary fish artist this beautiful book also pays tribute to the world of zoological and anthropological creatures he renders with a blend of biological accuracy and surreal offbeat humor Oceans Participant, Jon Bowermaster, 2010-03-23 This unique tie in to the major motion picture Oceans coming this April from Disney National Geographic explores the health of our oceans and what we can do to improve it More than 75 percent of the globe is covered by the oceans It is sometimes difficult to understand why it is called Planet Earth rather than Planet Ocean Since half the world's human population lives within a stone's throw of an ocean coastline the oceans health is increasingly important Rich with resources and potential as a source of renewable energy new drugs drinking water for years we have treated them as both infinite and undamageable But they are not Over fishing climate change pollution acidification and more have put the world's oceans and marine life at great risk Oceans gathers some of the most insightful visionaries explorers and ocean lovers marine biologists politicians environmentalists fishermen sportsmen deep divers and more in a unique anthology in which each speaks to a unique aspect of our world's most dimly understood dimension The 7 Laws of Magical Thinking Matthew Hutson, 2013-02-26 In this witty and perceptive debut a former editor at Psychology Today shows us how magical thinking makes life worth living Psychologists have documented a litany of cognitive biases misperceptions of the world and explained their positive functions Now Matthew Hutson shows us that even the most hardcore skeptic indulges in magical thinking all the time and it's crucial to our survival Drawing on evolution cognitive science and neuroscience Hutson shows us that magical thinking has been so useful to us that it's hardwired into our brains It encourages us to think that we actually have free will It helps make us believe that we have an underlying purpose in the world It can even protect us from the paralyzing awareness of our own mortality In other words magical thinking is a completely irrational way of making our lives make rational sense With wonderfully entertaining stories personal reflections and sharp observations Hutson reveals our deepest fears and longings He also assures us that it is no accident his surname contains so many of the same letters as this imprint Pathways to the Present Mansel G. Blackford, 2018-03-31 Ranging from the Hawaiian Archipelago to the Aleutian Islands from Silicon Valley to Guam Pathways to the Present is a thoroughly researched and concisely argued account of economic and environmental change in the postwar American Pacific Following a brief survey of the history of the Pacific the author takes the Hawaiian Islands as the center of American activities in the region and looks at interactions among native Hawaiian developmental military and environmental issues in the archipelago after World War II He then turns to land and water use problems that have intersected with more nebulous quality of life concerns to generate policy controversies in the Seattle region and the San Francisco Bay area especially Silicon Valley Economic expansion and environmentalism in Alaska are examined through the lens of changes occurring along the Aleutians From there the study considers Hiroshima after its destruction by the atomic bomb in 1945 looking at residents desire to combine urban planning concepts The author investigates the effort to remake Hiroshima as a high tech city in the 1990s an attempt inspired by the perceived success of Silicon Valley and postwar planning on Okinawa where American influences were particularly strong The final chapter takes into account issues raised on Guam regarding the growth of tourism and the use of the island for military purposes and links these to developments in the Philippines to the west and American Samoa to the south

Jacques Cousteau Brad Matsen,2010-10-05 An unprecedented and masterfully told biography of Jacques Cousteau that reveals for the first time the fascinating and compelling individual behind this famous television personality Inventor of the aqualung and fearless scuba diver Jacques Cousteau opened up the ocean to a mass audience for the first time Here with the cooperation of many of the subjects closest confidants and family Brad Matsen makes clear the full picture of his remarkable life showing the father military man inventor entrepreneur and adventurer behind the public face Vividly conveying the people the science and the lure of the sea that shaped Cousteau's life Matsen paints a luminous portrait of a man who profoundly changed the way we live on our planet

Making Seafood Sustainable Mansel G. Blackford,2011-12-30 In the spring of 2007 National Geographic warned The oceans are in deep blue trouble From the northernmost reaches of the Greenland Sea to the swirl of the Antarctic Circle we are gutting our seas of fish There were legitimate grounds for concern After increasing more than fourfold between 1950 and 1994 the global wild fish catch reached a plateau and stagnated despite exponential growth in the fishing industry As numerous scientific reports showed many fish stocks around the world collapsed creating a genuine global overfishing crisis Making Seafood Sustainable analyzes the ramifications of overfishing for the United States by investigating how fishers seafood processors retailers government officials and others have worked together to respond to the crisis Historian Mansel G Blackford examines how these players took steps to make fishing in some American waters especially in Alaskan waters sustainable Critical to these efforts Blackford argues has been government and industry collaboration in formulating and enforcing regulations What can be learned from these successful experiences Are they applicable elsewhere What are the drawbacks Making Seafood Sustainable addresses these questions and suggests that sustainable seafood management can be made to work The economic and social costs incurred in achieving sustainable resource usage are significant but there are ways to mitigate them More broadly this study illustrates ways to manage commonly held natural resources around the world land water oil and so on in sustainable ways

Entanglements Tora Johnson,2007-09-23 Entanglements explores the clash of cultures and personalities among fishermen scientists and whale advocates struggling to save both the endangered North Atlantic right whale and the livelihoods of thousands of Atlantic coastal families By most counts about 300 of these whales remain in the North Atlantic and scientists warn that collisions with fishing gear are contributing to their decline The political climate that surrounds the world s most endangered large whale is contentious complex and heartrending Without pointing fingers or laying blame Tora Johnson explores every side of the issue She takes us to sea with fishermen who struggle to stay in business setting traps and gillnets in the whale s habitat and with members of the rescue teams who attempt to cut away deadly rope and net from whales in the wild Weaving their stories and her personal observations into a discussion of the science and history of the conflict she offers an admirable balance of perceptions backgrounds and agendas Her thoughtful discussion of the plight of fishermen and whales and of the frustrations between fishing communities and conservationists presents an authentic microcosm of the global conflict between human demands on the environment and nature s finite capacity for supporting those demands Fishing Up North Brad Matsen,2012-08-01 True and intimate short stories of a modern fisherman s life of luck and loss Written in chronological order fisherman Brad Matsen gives a realistic look of frightening weather good fishing terrible fishing great days and sweet living in Alaskan waters from the decks of crabbers trawlers longliners trollers and gillnetters This book and others inspired film crews to trek to Alaska and cover the crabbing seasons for reality TV shows Commercial fishing s home ports Dutch Harbor Kodiak Naknek Cordova Petersburg Sitka and Seattle are classic fishing towns where docks bars and even quiet living merge in colorful portraits about life on the last frontier Included in this second edition are new stories and updates from the super heated days when fishing fleets turned king crab into fortunes to the annual circus of Bristol Bay s monster salmon runs to the bucolic life of the open ocean trawler The Library Journal ,1998-07 Includes beginning Sept 15 1954 and on the 15th of each month Sept May a special section School library journal ISSN 0000 0035 called Junior libraries 1954 May 1961 Also issued separately The Alaska Almanac Roseanne Pagano,2000-11 The Alaska Almanac is the bestselling reference to America s biggest northernmost state Whether you dream of visiting Alaska have seen its grandeur or live in the 49th state this book is an all about Alaska education in a take it with you package Easy and fun to read The best guide to bring to Alaska The Boston Globe 12 maps illustrations throughout The Alaska Almanac ,2000
