Fishing with Blood Fleda Brown Jackson, 1988 The poet explains the origin of the poetry books unusual title A sure way to catch catfish and other bottom feeders is to squeeze a ball of partially dried cow s blood around a hook The blood dissolves slowly spreading its tendrils of odor into the surrounding water It s like the tight wad of blood relations out of which I keep flinging myself and my words both to lure whatever is out there and to assure myself of how tightly I m hooked to the center

Blood Knots Luke Jennings, 2015-01-01 As a child in the 1960s Luke Jennings was fascinated by the rivers and lakes around his Sussex home Beneath their surfaces it seemed to him waited alien and mysterious worlds With library books as his guide he applied himself to the task of learning to fish His progress was slow and for years he caught nothing But then a series of teachers presented themselves including an inspirational young intelligence officer from whom he learnt stealth deception and the art of the dry fly So began an enlightening but often dark shadowed journey of discovery It would lead to bright streams and wild country but would end with his mentor s capture torture and execution by the IRA Blood Knots is about angling about great fish caught and lost but it is also about friendship honor and coming of age As an adult Jennings has sought out lost and secretive waterways probing waters as deep as England at dead of night in search of giant pike The quest as always is for more than the living quarry For only by searching far beneath the surface Jennings suggests in this most moving and thought provoking of memoirs can you connect with your own deep history

The crew of the Miss Ally a 12 metre Cape Islander from Woods Harbour Nova Scotia was fishing for halibut far off the Nova Scotia coast when their boat's spotlight malfunctioned. A vicious winter storm was approaching from her south and all other boats at the fishing grounds were steaming for shore. Unable to locate his longlining gear the Miss Ally's young captain decided to stay an extra day to retrieve the gear and hopefully a big catch. Their retreat delayed the Miss Ally crew ended up pounded by hurricane force winds and waves well over 10 meters high. Late on February 17 the boat foundered. The five young men aboard Katlin Nickerson Billy Jack Hatfield Joel Hopkins Cole Nickerson and Tyson Townsend were never found. The Sea Was in Their Blood explores two key questions: who were the men aboard the Miss Ally and why were they battered and sunk by a storm forecasted days in advance. Through interviews with the crew's families and friends, rescue personnel and members of the tight knit fishing communities of Woods Harbour and Cape Sable Island, award winning journalist Quentin Casey pieces together the tragic sinking including important case details not previously reported and weaves in the backstories of the Miss Ally's crew and the lingering effects of their disappearance. A portion of the royalties from the sale of this book will be donated to various charitable causes associated with the Miss Ally.
