Five Films:

Hitchcock's Rereleased Films Walter Raubicheck, Walter Srebnick, 1991 Features essays from some fifteen authors written about Hitchcock and five of his most significant films Rear window Vertigo The man who knew too much Rope and The trouble with Harry

Introduction to Film Nick Lacey, 2016-04-28 This core textbook offers a concise yet complete introduction to film responding to shifts in the medium while addressing all of the main approaches that inform film studies The rise of on demand internet based video has transformed the way films are distributed and exhibited with many previously unobtainable and obscure films becoming available for global audiences to view instantly Interweaving historical and current theoretical approaches Nick Lacey presents a tightly focused and coherent overview of a discipline in transition which can be read cover to cover or in distinct chapters With its original narrative line and student oriented philosophy the text greatly enriches student s appreciation of cinema while equipping them with the essential skills and vocabulary to succeed in film studies This is an ideal foundational text for all lecturers undergraduate or A level students of film and cinema studies as well as enthusiasts of film and cinema looking for a comprehensive guide New to this Edition Content reflecting the increasing importance of production contexts in chapters focusing exclusively on the film business distribution and exhibition A more detailed chapter on representation and greater emphasis on audience Updated content addressing the significance of transnational cinema drawing on a more global non Hollywood range of film examples and case studies from Europe Asia and Latin America Text is broken up by a wider variety of film stills representing world cinema from the classics to the latest in contemporary cinema

American Horror Film Steffen Hantke, 2010-09-30 Creatively spent and politically irrelevant the American horror film is a mere ghost of its former self or so goes the old saw from fans and scholars alike Taking on this undeserved reputation the contributors to this collection provide a comprehensive look at a decade of cinematic production covering a wide variety of material from the last ten years with a clear critical eye Individual essays profile the work of up and coming director Alexandre Aja and reassess William Malone s much maligned FearDotCom in the light of the torture debate at the end of President George W Bush s administration Other essays look at the economic social and formal aspects of the genre the globalization of the US film industry the alleged escalation of cinematic violence and the massive commercial popularity of the remake Some essays examine specific subgenres from the teenage horror flick to the serial killer film and the spiritual horror film as well as the continuing relevance of classic directors such as George A Romero David Cronenberg John Landis and Stuart Gordon Essays deliberate on the marketing of nostalgia and its concomitant aesthetic and on the curiously schizophrenic perspective of fans who happen to be scholars as well Taken together the contributors to this collection make a compelling case that American horror cinema is as vital creative and thought provoking as it ever was

The dominance of the male gaze in Hollywood Films Isabelle Fol, 2006-03-16 Inhaltsangabe Abstract The way in which media systems reflect our social environment and specifically how they represent and disseminate gender role models and have a lasting effect on the construction of identity is of long standing interest both in Gender Studies and in the literary and the visual arts In order to examine in particular the representation of women in the visual art of popular cinema The Dominance of the Male Gaze in Hollywood Films will thus focus on the image of women in mainstream Hollywood films Although media and specifically television and films are often considered to act largely as a social mirror films in fact often distort social reality and continue to reflect traditional stereotypical gender constructions In fact these traditional gender images are not simply mirrors of real life but also ideological signifiers In many mainstream films that pretend to depict reality a time lag separates true social circumstances from the film reality the movie produces Consequently this time lag also manifest in filmic representations of gender roles means for the women s movement that feminists have hardly been able to enact new images of women outside the patriarchal context of popular films or change female stereotypes and incorporate feminist thought into mainstream films Thus mainstream films do not propagate an image of emancipated women quite the reverse women are subordinate objects of the male gaze This general assumption has led to this thesis which will deal with the question of whether Hollywood films as representative of mainstream culture still disseminate patriarchal images of women dominated by the male gaze even though feminist thought has been part of our society for some decades now Located at the intersection of Media Studies Cultural Studies Sociology and Gender Studies this thesis will mainly follow the theoretical approach of the feminist film critic Laura Mulvey who developed the concept of the male gaze in her essay Visual Pleasure and Narrative Cinema Mulvey s concept shall contribute to the analysis of the thesis that the images of women in Hollywood films still correspond to conservative patriarchal stereotypes Within the scope of this still valid thesis one of the major restrictions was to narrow down the film analysis to merely Hollywood film production The reason for this restriction is first of all that Hollywood films representative of popular taste are globally

China's Cinema of Class Nicole Talmacs,2017-02-03 China s commercial film industry can be used as a map to understand how class is interwoven into the imaginations that inform and influence social change in Chinese society Film consumption is important in this process particularly for young adult urbanites that are China s primary commercial cinema patrons This book investigates the web between the representation of class themes in Chinese film narratives local audience reception to these films and the socialisation of China s contemporary class society Bringing together textual analyses of narratives from five commercially exhibited films Let the Bullets Fly Jiang 2010 Lost on Journey Yip 2011 Go Lala Go Xu 2011 House Mania Sun 2011 and The Piano in the Factory Zheng 2011 and the reception of 179 Chinese audiences from varying class positions it investigates the extent to which fictional narratives inform and reflect current class identities in present day China Through group discussions in Beijing Hangzhou Nanjing Lanzhou and Taiyuan the author searches for audiences beyond major cities that are typically the focus of film consumption studies in China As such the book reveals not only how deeply and widespread the socialisation of China's class society has become in the imaginations of Chinese audiences but also what appears to be a preference of both audiences and filmmakers for the continuation of China's new class society Revealing the extent to which cinema continues to play a key role in the socialisation of class structures in contemporary Chinese society this book will be important for students and scholars of Chinese Studies Film Studies Communication Studies as well as observers of China's film industry

Çiçek, Özlem Savaş, 2025-04-29 Audiovisual Healing and Reparation gathers a collection of scholarly and creative voices that explore how audiovisual media can serve as a catalyst for healing reparation resilience care and hope The contributors critically engage with the audiovisual mediations of harsh histories and experiences of violence discrimination racism sexism colonialism displacement illness and death all situated within diverse historical geographical social and political contexts Through a reparative approach to films documentaries digital and social media and art they examine how audiovisuality intervenes in and transforms trauma rupture loss and silence This book examines audiovisual media as a rich aesthetic social and political site for acknowledging wounds seeking healing and reparatively reimagining a broken world during troubling times It argues for the recuperative affect of audiovisuality which can unlock silenced or suppressed personal histories by integrating them into the fabric of mundane daily life It analyses two major questions What kind of recuperative potentials can emerge from audiovisual mediations of troubling times How can we re imagine audiovisual mediums narratives aesthetics and practices as reparative possibilities This book will be of interest to scholars working in film and media studies cultural studies memory studies performance studies and affect studies and will also inspire practitioners of audiovisual media

What Moroccan Cinema? Sandra Gayle Carter, 2009-08-16 From its early focus on documentary film and nation building to its more recent spotlight on contemporary culture and feature filmmaking Moroccan cinema has undergone tremendous change since the country's independence in 1956 In What Moroccan Cinema A Historical and Critical Study 1956 2006 Sandra Gayle Carter chronicles the changes in Moroccan laws institutions ancillary influences individuals active in the field representative films and film culture during this fifty year span Focusing on Moroccan history and institutions relative to the cinema industry such as television newspaper criticism and Berber videomaking What Moroccan Cinema is an intriguing study of the ways in which three historical periods shaped the Moroccan cinema industry Carter provides an insightful and thorough treatment of the cinema institution discussing exhibition and distribution censorship and cinema clubs and caravans Carter grounds her analysis by exploring representative films of each respective era The groundbreaking analysis offered in What Moroccan Cinema will prove especially valuable to those in film and Middle Eastern studies

Independent Feature Film Production Gregory Goodell, 1998-05-15 Covers all aspects of the film making process from financing through pre production principal photography postproduction distribution and marketing Essential reading for all film makers This book is a must Ridley Scott I wish I had had this book when I started John Carpenter The Geopolitics of Memory James Riding, 2019-09-30 In this daring experiment in ethnographic place writing cultural geographer James Riding aims to get at the heart of post conflict Bosnia showing the past alongside the present it created via a series of journeys and through the retelling of memories The juxtaposition between the siege of Sarajevo and supersonic metal the refugee journey and the aid worker travelling in the other direction the desperation and fury to change the present yet being stuck with many of the ethno nationalist politicians and politics of the past it is a journey to Bosnia as it is understood today in popular discourse a war torn place defined by ethnic conflict yet also a journey to deconstruct and reveal more than ancient ethnic hatreds portrayed on television screens across the globe from 1992 to 1995 Heavy with the weight of history on the one hand and an inspirational place with radical emancipatory politics on the other it is only through innovative storytelling that one can attempt to give a sense of what Bosnia itself is like in words for those who have never been and most importantly for those who are from there Japanese Film and the Challenge of Video Tom Mes, 2023-05-19 This book explores the phenomenon of V Cinema founded in Japan in 1989 as a distribution system for direct to video movies which film companies began making having failed to recoup their investment in big budget films It examines how studios and directors worked quickly to capitalize on niche markets or upcoming and current trends and how as a result this period of history in Japanese cinema was an exceptionally diverse and vibrant film scene It highlights how although the V Cinema industry declined from around 1995 the explosion in quantity and variety of such movies established and cemented many specific genres of Japanese film Importantly the book argues that film scholars who have long looked down on video as a substandard medium without scholarly interest have been wrong to do so and that V Cinema challenges accepted notions of cultural value providing insight into the formation of cinematic canons and inviting us to rethink what is meant by Japanese cinema Bulletin United States. Office of Education, 1953 The City on Screen: Modern Strangers of Cinematic Istanbul Sertaç Timur Demir, 2024-01-02 The City on Screen Modern Strangers of Cinematic Istanbul attempts to analyze how Istanbul is captured through the projector in other words the ontological relationship between city and film and how it is elaborated within the context of Istanbul and the sense of strangerhood This book shifts the axis of Istanbul typically known as a touristic city to its underlying details through the strangers in the modern city Five different films set in this region are analyzed in the text that help to reveal and clarify the socio urban life of modern Istanbul The characters and stories in these films tell how Istanbul has socially and architecturally become a city of strangers The films analyzed include A Touch of Spice 2004 Men on the Bridge 2009 A Run for Money 1999 Distant 2002 and 10 to 11 2009 The theoretical framework of this book is based on the works of Georg Simmel Zygmunt Bauman and Richard Sennett These three thinkers have all attempted to look for answers to the sociological question of strangerhood in urban living This book accomplishes this connection by discussing the similarities and differences between each of their theories regarding the city cinema and strangerhood Statistics of Land-grant Colleges and Universities United States. Office of Education,1953 How Children Use the Community for Learning Charles Ocelus Fitzwater, Effie Geneva Bathurst, Helen Katherine Mackintosh, Kenneth E Brown, Seerley Reid, Anita Carpenter, Wilhelmina Hill, 1953 Copyright Amendments Act of 1991 United States.
