A Seat in the Crowd Paul Windridge, Linda Harvey, 2007-02-26 A Seat in the Crowd is about travelling the length and breadth of England and Europe in order to watch Manchester United It is about the lifelong journey of two supporters with the help of one or two friends along the way who have been following their club for over 40 years each A lifetime s support which has enjoyed a renaissance over the last decade due to the superb management of Alex Ferguson who has taken the team and consequently us too to heights never before scaled At the start of any season no one can possibly know the outcome Plenty think they do but that is mere blind faith It is an adventure which happens every year and these last few years have been very special to United supporters and most especially to us Through the internet and the Manchester United mailing lists some of us have found friendship which will last the test of time Apart from family none of us mentioned in this book knew each other four years ago but we are now a group of friends who have become an extended family A Seat in the Crowd is just as much about these people as it is about the team on the pitch

Forbidden Flights Serge Guéguen, 2016-11-25 Forbidden flights during which mercenary paratroopers are airdropped over central France with their payloads of cocaine But also the forbidden flights of several of the finely drawn characters seeking vainly to flee their troubled pasts Against a backdrop of French popular culture Serge Guéguen weaves a compelling tale of criminal intent implacable vengeance and ultimate comeuppance in an action packed intrigue which throughout blends realistic narrative with telling psychological insights A perfect combination of action and mind games for a gripping thriller EXCERPT It was the grey dreary month of November The prison of Villepinte in the northern outskirts of Paris seemed even more sombre and depressing than usual Laid out in the middle of the fields like a set of Lego blocks the place was soulless and life less despite the yellow bands which the administration had painted on the high barbed wire topped walls In the waterlogged car park a bus was waiting for its clients depending on the time of day these might be either inmates or visitors The driver a Black probably of mixed race judging by the lightness of his skin was absorbed in reading his sports daily Reflexively he reached out to turn up the volume of the Tropiques FM radio station as the fast and furious Caribbean Zouk music invaded the cabin without disturbing anyone since the seats behind him were still empty Just like every day at that time

ABOUT THE AUTHOR After spending a fulfilling career within a French company and writing plays and scripts Serge Guéguen decided to focus on what he is most passionate about crime novels Today four of his books have been published and one of them has been awarded the Quai des Orfèvres prize in 2014
