Imagining the Other Regis Tove Stella,2007-04-30 Much has been written about Papua New Guinea over the last century and too often in ways that legitimated or served colonial interests through highly pejorative and racist descriptions of Papua New Guineans Paying special attention to early travel literature works of fiction and colonial reports laws and legislation Regis Tove Stella reveals the complex and persistent network of discursive strategies deployed to subjugate the land and its people

Caliban's Voice Bill Ashcroft,2009-01-21 In Shakespeare s Tempest Caliban says to Miranda and Prospero you taught me language and my profit on t Is I know how to curse With this statement he gives voice to an issue that lies at the centre of post colonial studies Can Caliban own Prospero s language Can he use it to do more than curse Caliban s Voice examines the ways in which post colonial literatures have transformed English to redefine what we understand to be English Literature It investigates the importance of language learning in the imperial mission the function of language in ideas of race and place the link between language and identity the move from orature to literature and the significance of translation By demonstrating the dialogue that occurs between writers and readers in literature Bill Ashcroft argues that cultural identity is not locked up in language but that language even a dominant colonial language can be transformed to convey the realities of many different cultures Using the figure of Caliban Ashcroft weaves a consistent and resonant thread through his discussion of the post colonial experience of life in the English language and the power of its transformation into new and creative forms

Post-Colonial Transformation Bill Ashcroft,2013-04-03 In his new book Bill Ashcroft gives us a revolutionary view of the ways in which post colonial societies have responded to colonial control The most comprehensive analysis of major features of post colonial studies ever compiled Post Colonial Transformation demonstrates how widespread the strategy of transformation has been investigates political and literary resistance examines the nature of post colonial societies engagement with imperial language history allegory and place offers radical new perspectives in post colonial theory in principles of habitation and horizontality Post Colonial Transformation breaks new theoretical ground while demonstrating the relevance of a wide range of theoretical practices and extending the exploration of topics fundamentally important to the field of post colonial studies

Indigenous Literature of Oceania Nicholas J. Goetzfridt,1995-02-28 Oceania has a rich and growing literary tradition The imaginative literature that emerged in the 1960s often reflected the forms and structures of European literature though the ideas expressed were typically anticolonial After three decades the literature of Oceania has become much more complex in terms of style as well as content and authors write in a multiplicity of styles and voices While the written literature of Oceania is continuously gaining more critical attention questions about the imposition of European literary standards and values as a further extension of colonialism in the Pacific have become a central issue This book is a detailed survey of the expanding amount of critical and interpretive material written about the imaginative literature of authors from Oceania It focuses on commentary and scholarship concerned with the poetry fiction and drama written in English by indigenous peoples of the Pacific Islands New Zealand and Australia The criticisms have appeared in academic books and journals since the mid 1960s They have developed to the point at which critical issues related to decolonization and the expression of ideas without having to first satisfy foreign expectations often determine the direction of such discussions Entries are grouped in topical chapters and each entry includes an extensive annotation An introductory essay summarizes the evolution of Pacific literature

Conversational New Guinea Pidgin Thomas Edward Dutton,1973      Papua New Guinea Creative Writing Index, 1967-1974 Nancy Lutton,1976      Pacific Islands Creative Writing Vibeke Stenderup,1985 This annotated bibliography provides information about critical articles and creative writing by and about Pacific Islanders available in European libraries Although western writers often use the South Pacific as an exotic background for their narratives they generally portray Polynesians as terrifying cannibals or gentle primitives The aim of this bibliography is to encourage study of the emerging South Pacific literature The literature covered is in English by writers in the region of the University of the South Pacific The bibliography is divided into five sections which cover different types of publications 1 Journals 2 Research Aides and General Criticism 3 Bibliographies 4 Anthologies 5 Creative Writing and Criticism organized by country Cook Islands Fiji and Rotuma Kiribati Nieu Solomon Islands Tonga Vanuatu and Western Samoa A special section provides sources relating to the Samoan writer Albert Wendt and an addendum lists references to and about crative writing in Papua New Guinea Author and title indices are included KH      A Linguistic Bibliography of the New Guinea Area Lois Carrington,1996      New Theatre Magazine ,1970      A New Guinea Bibliography ,1984      Inside Out Vilsoni Hereniko,Rob Wilson,1999-06-24 In a time of dynamism and contradiction in Pacific cultural production a time of turning things over and writing from the inside out this far reaching volume provides a comprehensive set of essays and interviews on the emergent literatures of the New Pacific With its dynamic combination of important position papers polemics and decolonizing critiques by noted authors and of analysis by new and established post colonial scholars this volume exposes the maze and mix of literatures and cultural identities breaking down and building up across the Pacific Ocean This pioneering work will be the definitive resource for anyone researching or teaching Pacific literature and will be invaluable for bringing Pacific culture to readers outside the region      Papua New Guinea National Bibliography ,1986      The Pacific Islands Brij V. Lal,Kate Fortune,2000-01-01 An encyclopaedia of information on major aspects of Pacific life including the physical environment peoples history politics economy society and culture The CD ROM contains hyperlinks between section titles and sections a library of all the maps in the encyclopaedia and a photo library      Remaking Pacific Pasts Diana Looser,2014-10-31 Since the late 1960s drama by Pacific Island playwrights has flourished throughout Oceania Although many Pacific Island cultures have a broad range of highly developed indigenous performance forms including oral narrative clowning ritual dance and song scripted drama is a relatively recent phenomenon Emerging during a period of region wide decolonization and indigenous self determination movements most of these plays reassert Pacific cultural perspectives and performance techniques in ways that employ adapt and challenge the conventions and representations of Western theater Drawing together discussions in theater and performance studies historiography Pacific studies and postcolonial studies Remaking Pacific Pasts offers the first full length comparative study of this dynamic and expanding body of work It introduces readers to the field with an overview of significant works produced throughout the region over the past fifty years including plays in English and in French as well as in local vernaculars and lingua francas The discussion traces the circumstances that have given rise to a particular modern dramatic tradition in each site and also charts routes of theatrical circulation and shared artistic influences that have woven connections beyond national borders This broad survey contextualizes the more detailed case studies that follow which focus on how Pacific dramatists actors and directors have used theatrical performance to critically engage the Pacific s colonial and postcolonial histories Chapters provide close readings of selected plays from Hawai i Aotearoa New Zealand New Caledonia Kanaky and Fiji that treat events figures and legacies of the region s turbulent past Captain Cook s encounters the New Zealand Wars missionary contact the overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy and the Fiji coups The book explores how in their remembering and retelling of these pasts theater artists have interrogated and revised repressive and marginalizing models of historical understanding developed through Western colonialism or exclusionary indigenous nationalisms and have opened up new spaces for alternative historical narratives and ways of knowing In so doing these works address key issues of identity genealogy representation political parity and social unity encouraging their audiences to consider new possibilities for present and future action This study emphasizes the contribution of artistic production to social and political life in the contemporary Pacific demonstrating how local play production has worked to facilitate processes of creative nation building and the construction of modern regional imaginaries Remaking Pacific Pasts makes valuable contributions to Pacific literature world theater history Pacific studies and postcolonial studies The book opens up to comparative critical discussion a geopolitical region that has received little attention from theater and performance scholars extending our understanding of the form and function of theater in different cultural contexts It enriches existing discussions in postcolonial studies about the decolonizing potential of literary and artistic endeavors and it suggests how theater might function as a mode of historical enquiry and debate adding to discussions about ways in which Pacific histories might be developed challenged or recalibrated Consequently the book stimulates new discussions in Pacific studies where theater has to date suffered from a lack of critical exposure Carefully researched and original in its approach Remaking Pacific Pasts will appeal to scholars graduate students and upper level undergraduate students in theater and performance studies and Pacific Islands studies it will also be of interest to cultural historians and to specialists in cultural studies and postcolonial studies
