Five Thousand Days Like This One An American Family History:

Five Thousand Days Like This One Jane Brox, 2000-04-07 Amid the turmoil after her father's death decisions to be made the future of the family farm to be settled Jane Brox using her acclaimed compassion honesty and restraint The Boston Globe begins a search for her family s story. The search soon leads her to the guintessentially American history of New England s Merrimack Valley its farmers and the immigrant workers caught up in the industrial textile age Jane Brox s first book Here and Nowhere Else won the 1996 L L Winship PEN New England Award Her work has appeared in numerous journals and magazines and has been represented in Best American Essays She is a frequent contributor to The Georgia Review Jane Brox lives in the Merrimack Valley of Massachusetts Images Resolved and Saved Norman Kattwinkel,2007-12 The life story of a physician who defines himself through his recollection of the people he s known While recognizing the importance of self fulfillment and hard work to achieve personal goals he relates a moving tale of encouragement teaching and enlightenment provided by those who helped to guide him to where he is today Through a series of essays and personality profiles he reminds us of the importance of role models and family values in living a rewarding and satisfying life and his own coming to faith along the way Now retired from a long career at a major medical center the author has turned to writing as a second career consistent with his plan to avoid leaving without a trace and becoming a better person and role model as his time shortens The author hopes this slender volume will serve to inspire those in the afternoon years of their lives those who recognize the debt they owe to others and those who wrestle with the desire to leave a gift of recognition and appreciation The author's spirituality lies at the heart of this effort. The road to faith is a life long journey full of doubt at times but rewarding satisfying fulfilling and leaving room for hope American Pandemic Nancy K. Bristow, 2012-04-30 In 1918 1919 influenza raged around the globe in the worst pandemic in recorded history Focusing on those closest to the crisis patients families communities public health officials nurses and doctors this book explores the epidemic in the United States

Arab-American Faces and Voices Elizabeth Boosahda, 2010-01-01 As Arab Americans seek to claim their communal identity and rightful place in American society at a time of heightened tension between the United States and the Middle East an understanding look back at more than one hundred years of the Arab American community is especially timely In this book Elizabeth Boosahda a third generation Arab American draws on over two hundred personal interviews as well as photographs and historical documents that are contemporaneous with the first generation of Arab Americans Syrians Lebanese Palestinians both Christians and Muslims who immigrated to the Americas between 1880 and 1915 and their descendants Boosahda focuses on the Arab American community in Worcester Massachusetts a major northeastern center for Arab immigration and Worcester's links to and similarities with Arab American communities throughout North and South America Using the voices of Arab immigrants and their families she explores their entire experience from emigration at the turn of the twentieth century to the present day lives of their descendants This rich documentation sheds light on many aspects of Arab American life including the Arab entrepreneurial motivation and success family life education religious and community organizations and the role of women in initiating immigration and the economic success they achieved

RiverTime Mary A. Hood, 2008-03-20 In this engaging travelogue of our world's rivers great and small poet and biologist Mary A Hood reflects on rivers as creators of place Recounting her journeys along portions of the Mississippi the Danube the Amazon the Yangtze the Ganges the Nile and a dozen small U S rivers Hood weaves together natural history current environmental and conservation issues encounters with endangered plants and animals and tells some interesting tales along the way Like a river the book begins small with essays that are narrowly focused on themes of environment and place such as the need to write our world Three Rivers how fires and corporations control the West the Flathead the effect of wind farms on a small town in western New York the Conhocton the giant redwoods and how they were preserved the Klamath and the search for moose in the great north woods the Penobscot The second section expands the themes of environment and place and looks at great world rivers their long histories their biological diversity the effects of human use and tourism and the paradox of human reverence and destruction From endangered species to invasive species from corporate control of national parks to wind farms from urban sprawl to efforts at conservation and restoration RiverTime offers insights into our relationship to the environment in the twenty first century Eco-man Mark Christopher Allister, 2004 Many canonical literary works look to the wild as the site for establishing a man's selfhood But nature is just as often subjected to his most violent displays of mastery This tension lies at the heart of Eco Man which brings together two rapidly growing fields men s studies and ecocriticism Here and Nowhere Else Jane Brox, 2004-09-15 In her first book which won the L L Winship PEN New England Award Jane Brox writes of going back to the farm where she grew up to help her aging father and the troubled brother who works the land with him She memorably captures the cadences of farm life and the people who sustain it at a time when both are waning Nature Writing Robert Finch, John Elder, 2002 The first anthology to represent the full range of nature writing s rich and flourishing tradition from lyrical essays to thoughtful encounters with new ethical and ecological Clearing Land Jane Brox, 2005-09-14 Though few of us now live close to the soil the world we inhabit has been concerns sculpted by our long national saga of settlement At the heart of our identity lies the notion of the family farm as shaped by European history and reshaped by the vast opportunities of the continent It lies at the heart of Jane Brox s personal story too she is the daughter of immigrant New England farmers whose way of life she memorialized in her first two books but has not carried on In this clear eyed lyrical account Brox twines the two narratives personal and historical to explore the place of the family farm as it has evolved from the pilgrims brutal progress at Plymouth to the modern world where much of our food is produced by industrial agriculture while the small farm is both marginalized and romanticized In considering the place of the farm Brox also considers the rise of textile cities in America which encroached not only upon farms and farmers but upon the sense of commonality that once sustained them and she traces the transformation of the idea of wilderness and its intricate connection to cultivation which changed as our ties to the land loosened as terror of the wild was replaced by desire for it Exploring these strands with neither judgment nor sentimentality Brox arrives at something beyond a biography of the farm a vivid depiction of the half life it carries on in our collective imagination Telling True Stories Mark Kramer, Wendy Call, 2007-01-30 Interested in journalism and creative writing and want to write a book Read inspiring stories and practical advice from America's most respected journalists. Cumulated Index to the Books ,1999 Harvard Review ,2000 The Publishers Weekly ,2004 Teaching North American Environmental Literature Laird Christensen, Mark C. Long, Frederick O. Waage, 2008 From stories about Los Angeles freeways to slave narratives to science fiction environmental literature encompasses more than nature writing The study of environmental narrative has flourished since the MLA published Teaching Environmental Literature in 1985 Today writers evince a self consciousness about writing in the genre teachers have incorporated field study into courses technology has opened up classroom possibilities and institutions have developed to support study of this vital body of writing The challenge for instructors is to identify core texts while maintaining the field s dynamic open qualities. The essays in this volume focus on North American environmental writing presenting teachers with background on environmental justice issues ecocriticism and ecofeminism Contributors consider the various disciplines that have shaped the field including African American Indian Canadian and Chicana o literature. The interdisciplinary approaches recommended treat the theme of predators in literature ecology and ethics conservation and film A focus on place based literature explores how students can physically engage with the environment as they study literature. The volume closes with an annotated resource guide organized by subject matter.
