Five On Fiction

James Ferguson

Five On Fiction:

Five on Fiction Janet Kauffman, 2004 From her early stories on Kauffman has redefined terms of literature and of human nature Here short paragraphs cut across genres to assemble a poetics of narrative She shows us fiction's elements grounded in the materiality of language plot as ground action as just what it looks like one word after another Five on Fiction sets out the bones and flesh of narrative in bits and pieces evidence of its connections to the physical and natural world supplied by publisher

Sprout Street Neighbors: Five Stories Anna Alter, 2015-04-28 In the tradition of classics such as The Wind in the Willows and Winnie the Pooh comes Anna Alter's first chapter book Henry Violet Emma Wilbur and Fernando are neighbors in the same apartment building and they are also friends though they have very different personalities and interests Henry prefers peace and quiet and poetry Violet spends hours knitting and practicing her flute Emma loves planning birthday parties Wilbur would be happy to spend all day in his garden And Fernando is just a little bit shy but has a secret talent for the stage Sharing walls with your neighbor can sometimes bring the unexpected but in the end these five work together to overcome their differences

Faulkner's Short Fiction James Ferguson, 1991 This comprehensive overview of William Faulkner's short fiction is a systematic study of this body of work which Faulkner produced over a period of forty years The author examines Faulkner's struggle to master the special problems posed by the genre The book is organized topically A chronological survey of Faulkner's career as a writer of short fiction is followed by chapters devoted to aspects of Faulkner's craft thematic patterns points of view and other technical and formal patterns The author offers a frank assessment of Faulkner's failures and successes as a writer of short fiction

Prose Fiction of the Cuban Revolution Seymour Menton, 2014-05-23 Recipient of the Hubert Herring Memorial Award from the Pacific Coast Council on Latin American Studies for the best unpublished manuscript of 1973 Prose Fiction of the Cuban Revolution is an in depth study of works by Cubans Cuban exiles and other Latin American writers Combining historical and critical approaches Seymour Menton classifies and analyzes over two hundred novels and volumes of short stories revealing the extent to which Cuban literature reflects the reality of the Revolution Menton establishes four periods 1959 1960 1961 1965 1966 1970 and 1971 1973 that reflect the changing policies of the revolutionary government toward the arts Using these periods as a chronological guideline he defines four distinct literary generations records the facts about their works establishes coordinates and formulates a system of literary and historical classification He then makes an aesthetic analysis of the best of Cuban fiction emphasizing the novels of major writers including Alejo Carpentier's El siglo de las luces and Jos Lezama Lima's Paradiso He also discusses the works of a large number of lesser known writers which must be considered in arriving at an accurate historical tableau Menton's exploration of the short story combines a thematic and stylistic analysis of nineteen anthologies with a close study of six authors Guillermo Cabrera Infante Calvert Casey Humberto Arenal Antonio Benítez Jesús Díaz Rodríguez and Norberto Fuentes Several chapters are devoted to the increasing number of novels and short stories written by Cuban exiles as well as to the eighteen novels and one short story written about the Revolution by non Cubans such as Julio Cortázar Carlos Martínez Moreno Luisa Josefina Hernández and Pedro Juan Soto In studying literary works to reveal the intrinsic consciousness of a historical period Menton presents not only his own views but also those of Cuban literary critics In addition he clarifies the various changes in the official attitude toward literature and the arts in Cuba using the revolutionary processes of several other countries as comparative examples Bookwise Sharon

Parsons,2001 With a balance of fiction and non fiction text types and genres Bookwise is carefully graded and organised into five cross curricular strands encouraging links to other subjects The full colour readers are accompanied by Teacher's Guides and Resource Sheets to help you get the most out of your Guided Reading and Writing sessions Anthologizing Poe Emron

Esplin,Margarida Vale de Gato,2020-08-06 This collection explores how anthologizers and editors of Edgar Allan Poe play an integral role in shaping our conceptions of Poe as the author we have come to recognize revere and critique today In the spheres of literature and popular culture Poe wields more global influence than any other U S author This influence however cannot be attributed solely to the quality of Poe's texts or to his compellingly tragic biography Rather his continued prominence as a writer owes much to the ways that Poe has been interpreted portrayed and packaged by an extensive group of mediators ranging from anthologizers editors translators and fellow writers to literary critics filmmakers musicians and illustrators In this volume the work of presenting Poe's texts for public consumption becomes a fascinating object of study in its own right one that highlights the powerful and often overlooked influence of those who have edited anthologized translated and adapted the author's writing over the past 170 years The Fictional World of William Hoffman William L. Frank,2000 Over the past forty five years William Hoffman has written eleven novels including the critically acclaimed Tidewater Blood winner of the Dashiell Hammett award and four short fiction collections the most recent being Doors all of which have enjoyed a loyal and appreciative readership The Fictional World of William Hoffman provides readers with the first assessment of Hoffman's work Including commentary and analysis from fellow writers as well as from established and emerging critics this collection of essays aims to deepen the appreciation of those already familiar with Hoffman and to introduce new readers to one of the South's most influential voices Jacket The Publishers Weekly ,1893 Ethnic Identities in Bernard Malamud's Fiction Martín Urdiales Shaw,2000 The present study has been divided into five general chapters each of which is centred around a basic issue related to ethnic identities This central issue may be more or less specific largely depending on its nature and on the corpus it comprises for example chapter two which bears the general title the old country and the New World is naturally the most extensive because of the great scope of this theme and the number of works it involves two novels and a considerable number of stories including the very long Man in the Drawer By contrast the last chapter entitled Beyond Race into Myth Seeking the Liberation of the Self is logically the shortest because its focus is restricted to a particular function of ethnic identities metaphorically speaking in Malamud's fantastic works the novel God's Grace and one short story Similar proportions between length complexity of theme and corpus treated are maintained in the three central chapters which focus on ethnic aspects which are neither as general as chapter two nor as specific as chapter six

Key Concepts in Crime Fiction Heather Worthington, 2011-08-31 An insight into a popular yet complex genre that has developed over the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The volume explores the contemporary anxieties to which crime fiction responds along with society's changing conceptions of crime and criminality The book covers texts contexts and criticism in an accessible and user friendly format

The Best Horror of the Year Ellen Datlow, 2014-05-20 This statement was true when H P Lovecraft first wrote it at the beginning of the twentieth century and it remains true at the beginning of the twenty first century The only thing that has changed is what is unknown With each passing year science technology and the march of time shine light into the craggy corners of the universe making the fears of an earlier generation seem quaint But this light creates its own shadows The Best Horror of the Year edited by Ellen Datlow chronicles these shifting shadows It is a catalog of terror fear and unpleasantness as articulated by today's most challenging and exciting writers The best horror writers of today do the same thing that horror writers of a hundred years ago did They tell good stories stories that scare us And when these writers tell really good stories that really scare us Ellen Datlow notices She's been noticing for more than a quarter century For twenty one years she coedited The Year's Best Fantasy and Horror and for the last six years she's edited this series In addition to this monumental cataloging of the best she has edited hundreds of other horror anthologies and won numerous awards including the Hugo Bram Stoker and World Fantasy awards More than any other editor or critic Ellen Datlow has charted the shadowy abyss of horror fiction Join

Reading and the Reference Librarian Juris Dilevko, Lisa Gottlieb, 2003-11-26 Reference librarians are no longer expected to know much about the information they find they are merely expected to find it Technological competency rather than knowledge has become the order of the day In many respects reference service has become a matter of typing search terms into a library's online catalog or a web search engine and providing the patron with the results of the search Calling for a re-intellectualization of reference librarianship this book suggests another approach to providing quality reference service reading The authors surveyed both academic reference librarians and public library reference personnel in the United States and Canada about their reading habits From the 950 responses the authors present findings about the extent to which librarians read newspapers periodicals fiction and nonfiction and recount and analyze stories about how reading has made them better librarians The authors also report that North American professors in the humanities and social sciences believe that the best reference librarians are those who have wide ranging subject based knowledge as opposed to the type of process based functional knowledge that is increasingly dominating the curricula of many Library and Information Science programs

Edgar Rice Burroughs Robert B. Zeuschner, 2024-10-14 In creating some of the most enduring characters in 20th century literature Burroughs 1875-1950 left a complex bibliographic record of editions and a long chain of fascinated collectors The present reference work details all United States versions of all his works published through 1995 Each listing begins with a description of the first magazine appearance of the story with full publication data the first hardcover is then examined in detail with publisher date a complete description of the book's cover and jacket print run price number of pages and characteristics that separate it from following editions Similar information is then provided from all subsequent editions

But What If We're Wrong? Chuck Klosterman, 2016-06-07 New York Times bestselling author Chuck Klosterman asks questions that are profound in their simplicity How certain are we about our understanding of gravity How certain are we about our understanding of time What will be the defining memory of rock music five hundred years from today How seriously should we view the content of our dreams How seriously should we view the content of television Are all sports destined for extinction Is it possible that the greatest artist of our era is currently unknown or weirder still widely known but entirely disrespected Is it possible that we overrate democracy And perhaps most disturbing is it possible that we ve reached the end of knowledge Klosterman visualizes the contemporary world as it will appear to those who ll perceive it as the distant past Kinetically slingshotting through a broad spectrum of objective and subjective problems But What If We re Wrong is built on interviews with a variety of creative thinkers George Saunders David Byrne Jonathan Lethem Kathryn Schulz Neil deGrasse Tyson Brian Greene Junot Diaz Amanda Petrusich Ryan Adams Nick Bostrom Dan Carlin and Richard Linklater among others interwoven with the type of high wire humor and nontraditional analysis only Klosterman would dare to attempt It s a seemingly impossible achievement a book about the things we cannot know explained as if we did It s about how we live now once now has become then
