Quinn-Sánchez,2015-02-05 Preconceived ideas attached to space limit the ways in which the concept can be envisioned This edited collection explores many different types of space including exile which prohibits one s ability to return home transnationalism which encourages movement between national borders typically due to dual citizenship the borderlands which implies legal and illegal crossings and finally the open road as metaphor for normative heterosexual masculinity At issue in all of these representations is the role of freedom to self define and travel freely across barriers that exist to deter entry The American Road Trip and American Political Thought Susan McWilliams Barndt,2020-07-06 Americans love road

shows how Americans have long used road trip stories to raise and explore central questions about American politics in theory and practice They talk about freedom and equality and diversity and take those vaunted American ideals for a test drive American road trip stories are where the rubber meets the road in American political thought The American Road Trip and American Political Thought includes explorations of a wide variety of American authors from Walt Whitman and Henry David Thoreau to Erika Lopez and Cheryl Strayed from Mark Twain and John Steinbeck to Solomon Northup and Hunter S Thompson It covers topics including gender labor place race and technology in American political life This is a book that will change the way you think about the great American road trip and the great American story Roads of Her Own Alexandra Ganser,2009 Reading Jack Kerouac s classic On the Road through Virginia Woolf s canonical A Room of One s Own the author of this book examines a genre in North American literature which despite its popularity has received little attention in literary and cultural criticism women s road narratives The study shows how women s literature has inscribed itself into the American discourse of the Whitmanesque open road or more generally the freedom of the road Women writers have participated in this powerful American myth yet at the same time also have rejected that myth as fundamentally based on gendered and racial ethnic hierarchies and power structures and modified it in the process of writing back to it The book analyzes stories about female runaways outlaws questers adventurers kidnappers biker chicks travelling saleswomen and picaras and makes theoretical observations on the debates regarding discourses of spatiality and mobility debates which have defined the so called spatial turn in the humanities The analytical concept of transdifference is introduced to theorize the dissonant plurality of social and cultural affiliations as well as the narrative tensions produced by such pluralities in order to better understand the textual worlds of women s multiple belongings as they are present in these writings Roads of Her Own is thus not only situated in the broader context of a constructivist cultural studies but also by discussing narrative mobility under the sign of gender combines insights from social theory and philosophy feminist cultural geography and literary studies Key names and concepts Doreen Massey Rosi Braidotti Literary Studies Spatial Turn Gendered Space and Mobility Nomadism Road writing Transdifference American Culture Popular Culture Women s Literature after the Second Wave Quest Picara My Family and I Adam Gussow,2025-02-25 An inspiring memoir about the author s lifelong quest for racial reconciliation the love that sustains his interracial family in contemporary Mississippi and the Yes we can hope for American renewal that fades after the deaths of Trayvon Martin Michael Brown and the despair driven rise of Black Lives Matter What has happened to the dream of beloved community embraced by Martin Luther King Jr and the civil rights movement of the early 1960s the vision of a just humane and colorblind America a nation of black and white together animated by the spirit of mutual respect and strengthened by the bonds of brotherly love As Adam Gussow shows in this urgently needed new book the dream although pressured on every front remains alive At the heart of My Family and I is Gussow s determination in King s terms to live out the true meaning of America s creed a quest for transracial brotherhood that takes him from a blues partnership forged on the streets of 1980s Harlem through graduate training at Princeton and decades later a transformative course on the blues literary tradition that he shares with inmates at Mississippi's notorious Parchman Farm. Anchoring Gussow's quest is a story of enduring love: a playful, soulful interracial romance between the newly hired professor at Ole Miss and his soon-to-be wife Sherrie that blossoms with the birth of a musically gifted son, Shaun. As America explodes with protest and riots in the summer of 2020 after the death of George Floyd, as social justice fundamentalists insist on stigmatizing whiteness and hardening the color line rather than healing the divisions that plague us, Gussow is forced to fight for what he loves: not just the sanctity of his family circle but King's dream of beloved community. My Family and I gifts the reader with hope for a future beyond America's seemingly insoluble racial dilemmas.

Cartographies of Empire Myka Tucker-Abramson, 2025-03-18 The road novel is often dismissed as a mundane nostalgic genre. Jack Sal and other tedious white men on the road trying to recapture an authentic youth and American past that never existed. Yet new road novels appear every year tackling unexpected questions and spanning new geographies from Mexico, Brazil, Bulgaria, Palestine, Ukraine, and former Yugoslavia. Why did the road novel emerge and why does it persist? What does it do and why has it traveled so widely? Myka Tucker-Abramson draws from an archive of more than 140 global road novels from over twenty countries, challenging dominant conceptions of the road novel as primarily concerned with American experiences and subjectivities. Grounding her analysis in materialist theories of genre, world ecology, and commodity frontier frameworks and post-45 American literary studies, Tucker-Abramson persuasively argues that the road novel is a genre specific to coterminous with and revealing of US hegemony's global trajectory. Shifting our focus from Americanness to the fraught geopolitics of US Empire, from the car to the built environment through which it moves, and from passengers to those left behind, Tucker-Abramson remaps the road novel, elucidating the genre's unique ability both to reveal the violent and vertiginous processes of capitalist modernization and to obfuscate these harsh truths through seductive narratives of individual success and failure.

Translocas Lawrence La Fountain-Stokes, 2021-04-05 Translocas focuses on drag and transgender performance and activism in Puerto Rico and its diaspora. Arguing for its political potential, Lawrence La Fountain-Stokes explores the social and cultural disruptions caused by Latin American and Latinx locas, effeminate men, drag queens, transgender performers, and unruly women, and the various forms of violence to which queer individuals in Puerto Rico and the U.S. are subjected. Lawrence La Fountain-Stokes, a drag performer himself, demonstrates how each destabilizes and sometimes reifies dominant notions of gender and sexuality through drag and their embodied transgender expression These performances provide a means to explore and critique issues of race class poverty national identity and migratory displacement while they posit a relationship between audiences and performers that has a ritual like communal dimension The book also analyzes the murders of Jorge Steven L pez Mercado and Kevin Fret in Puerto Rico and invites readers to challenge question and expand their knowledge about queer life drag trans performance and Puerto Rican identity in the Caribbean and the diaspora The author also pays careful attention to transgender experience highlighting how trans activists and performers mold their bodies promote social change and create community in a context that oscillates between glamour and abjection
