commitment     Transforming Tradition Siyuan Liu, 2021-07-21 Shortly after the establishment of the People's Republic of China in 1949 the PRC launched a reform campaign that targeted traditional song and dance theater encompassing more than a hundred genres collectively known as xiqu Reformers censored or revised xiqu plays and techniques reorganized star based private troupes reassigned the power to create plays from star actors to the newly created functions of playwright director and composer and eliminated market oriented functionaries such as agents While the repertoire censorship ended in the 1980s major reform elements have remained many traditional scripts or parts of them are no longer in performance actors whose physical memory of repertoire and acting techniques had been the center of play creation have been superseded by directors playwrights and composers The net result is significantly diminished repertoires and performance techniques and the absence of star actors capable of creating their own performance styles through new signature plays that had traditionally been one of the hallmarks of a performance school Transforming Tradition offers a systematic study of the effects of the comprehensive reform of traditional theater conducted in the 1950s and 60s and is based on a decade's worth of exhaustive research of official archival documents wide ranging interviews and contemporaneous publications most of which have never previously been referenced in scholarly research     Nanjing 1937 Zhaoyan Ye, 2002 Centers on the life of Ding Wenyu a privileged womanizing narcissistic professor of languages and traces the course of the affair that transforms him from outlandish rake to devoted lover Jacket     Buried Astrolabe Craig S. Estrangement and the Somatics of Literature Douglas Robinson,2008-04-28 Drawing together the estrangement theories of Viktor Shklovsky and Bertolt Brecht with Leo Tolstoy s theory of infection Douglas Robinson studies the ways in which shared evaluative affect regulates both literary familiarity convention and tradition and modern strategies of alienation depersonalization and malaise This book begins with two assumptions both taken from Tolstoy s late aesthetic treatise What Is Art 1898 that there is a malaise in culture and that literature s power to infect readers with the moral values of the author is a possible cure for this malaise Exploring these ideas of estrangement within the contexts of earlier contemporary and later critical theory Robinson argues that Shklovsky and Brecht follow Tolstoy in their efforts to fight depersonalization by imbuing readers with the transformative guidance of collectivized feeling Robinson s somatic approach to literature offers a powerful alternative to depersonalizing structuralist and poststructuralist theorization without simply retreating into conservative rejection and reaction Both a comparative study of Russian and German literary theoretical history and an insightful examination of the somatics of literature this groundbreaking work provides a deeper understanding of how literature affects the reader and offers a new perspective on present day problems in poststructuralist approaches to the human condition     The heart of a girl, by Florence Warden Florence Alice James,Florence Warden,1903     New York Magazine ,1975-08-25 New York magazine was born in 1968 after a run as an insert of the New York Herald Tribune and quickly made a place for itself as the trusted resource for readers across the country With award winning writing and photography covering everything from politics and food to theater and fashion the magazine s consistent mission has been to reflect back to its audience the energy and excitement of the city itself while celebrating New York as both a place and an idea
