The Development of Black Theater in America Leslie Catherine Sanders, 1989-08-01 In The Development of Black Theater in America Leslie Sanders examines the work of the American black theater's five most productive playwrights Willis Richardson Randolph Edmonds Langston Hughes LeRoi Jones and Ed Bullins Sanders sees the history of black theater as the process of creating a black stage reality while at the same time transforming conventions borrowed from white European culture into forms appropriate to black artists and audiences The author argues that only when these things were accomplished could the aim of black playwrights often articulated as the realistic portrayal of the Negro be fully realized This study also examines the changing nature of the dialogue black playwrights have held with the dominant tradition and how that dialogue has shaped their imaginations Sanders discussion of Richardson Edmonds Hughes Jones and Bullins provides a context for approaching the work of other black playwrights such as James Baldwin Lorraine Hansberry and Owen Dodson And her argument provides a concrete way of understanding how the context of a dominant culture influences the artistic imagination of writers not of that culture who must come to terms with its influences and transform it into a vehicle of their Afro-American Poetry and Drama, 1760-1975 William P. French, Geneviève Fabre, 1979 Black World/Negro own Digest ,1969-06 Founded in 1943 Negro Digest later Black World was the publication that launched Johnson Publishing During the most turbulent years of the civil rights movement Negro Digest Black World served as a critical vehicle for political thought for supporters of the movement Voices of Color Woodie King, 1994 A collection of scenes and monologues by African American playwrights Guide to Play Selection NCTE Liaison Committee,1975

Contemporary American Drama Annette Saddik,2007-09-13 This book explores the development of contemporary theatre in the United States in its historical political and theoretical dimensions It focuses on representative plays and performance texts that experiment with form and content discussing influential playwrights and performance artists such as Tennessee Williams Adrienne Kennedy Sam Shepard Tony Kushner Charles Ludlum Anna Deavere Smith Karen Finley and Will Power alongside avant garde theatre groups Saddik traces the development of contemporary drama since 1945 and discusses the cross cultural impact of postwar British and European innovations on American theatre from the 1950s to the present day in order to examine the performance of American identity She argues that contemporary American theatre is primarily a postmodern drama of inclusion and diversity that destabilizes the notion of fixed identity and questions the nature of reality
