Five Fictions:

Five Fictions in Search of Truth Myra Jehlen, 2016-07-26 Fiction far from being the opposite of truth is wholly bent on finding it out and writing novels is a way to know the real world as objectively as possible In Five Fictions in Search of Truth Myra Jehlen develops this idea through readings of works by Flaubert James and Nabokov She invokes Proust's famous search for lost memory as the exemplary literary process which strives whatever its materials for a true knowledge In Salammb Flaubert digs up Carthage in The Ambassadors James plumbs the examined life and touches at its limits while in Lolita Nabokov traces a search for truth that becomes a trespass In these readings form and style emerge as fiction's means for taking hold of reality which is to say that they are as epistemological as they are aesthetic each one emerging by way of the other The aesthetic aspects of a literary work are just so many instruments for exploring a subject and the beauty and pleasure of a work confirm the validity of its account of the world For Flaubert famously a beautiful sentence was proven true by its beauty James and Nabokov wrote on the same assumption that form and style were at once the origin and the confirmation of a work's truth In Five Fictions in Search of Truth Jehlen shows moreover that fiction's findings are not only about the world but immanent within it Literature works concretely through this form that style this image that word seeking a truth that is equally concrete Writers write and readers read to discover an incarnate secular knowledge and in doing so they enact a basic concurrence between literature and science A Cynthia Ozick Reader Cynthia Ozick, 1996 Ozick's range of influences is obvious in the fine selections of poems and short stories as well as essays from Art those new to Cynthia Ozick's work will revel in the discovery of a major writer

Contemporary American Women Writers Catherine Rainwater, William J. Scheick, 2021-05-11 Ann Beattie Annie Dillard Maxine Hong Kingston Toni Morrison Cynthia Ozick Grace Paley Marge Piercy Anne Redmon Anne Tyler and Alice Walker all seem to be especially concerned with narrative management The ten essays in this book raise new and intriguing questions about the ways these leading women writers appropriate and transform generic norms and ultimately revise literary tradition to make it more inclusive of female experience vision and expression The contributors to this volume discover diverse narrative strategies Beattie Dillard Paley and Redmon in divergent ways rely heavily upon narrative gaps surfaces and silences often suggesting depths which are lamentably absent from modern experience or which mysteriously elude language For Kingston and Walker verbal assertiveness is the focus of narratives depicting the gradual empowerment of female protagonists who learn to speak themselves into existence Ozick and Tyler disrupt conventional reader expectations of the anti novel and the family novel respectively Finally Morrison's and Piercy's works reveal how traditional narrative forms such as the Bildungsroman and the soap opera are adaptable to feminist purposes In examining the writings of these ten important women authors this book illuminates a significant moment in literary history when women's voices are profoundly reshaping American literary tradition

Fictions of Feminine Citizenship D. Francis, 2010-03-01 Reading novels by contemporary women in the Caribbean diaspora alongside and against law history and anthropology the book argues that Caribbean women's sexuality has been mobilized for various imperialist and nationalist projects from the nineteenth century to present

American Women Writing Fiction Mickey Pearlman, 1988 The works of Walt Whitman have been described as masculine feminine postcolonial homoerotic urban organic unique and democratic yet arguments about the extent to which Whitman could or should be considered a political poet have yet to be fully confronted Some scholars disregard Whitman's understanding of democracy insisting on separating his personal works from his political works A Political Companion to Walt Whitman is the first full length exploration of Whitman's works through the lens of political theory Editor John E Seery and a collection of prominent theorists and philosophers uncover the political awareness of Whitman's poetry and prose analyzing his faith in the potential of individuals his call for a revolution in literature and political culture and his belief in the possibility of combining heroic individualism with democratic justice A Political Companion to Walt Whitman reaches beyond literature into political theory revealing the ideology behind Whitman's call for the emergence of American poets of democracy

Understanding Cynthia Ozick Lawrence S. Friedman, 1991 Discussing Jewish themes in Ozick's writings examines the literary evocation of the Holocaust in the novels Trust 1966 The Messiah of Stockholm 1987 and in the story The Shawl 1989

Michel Tournier's Metaphysical Fictions Susan Petit, 1991-01-01 This study of the fictional themes and techniques of Michel Tournier reveals his profound radicalism as a social critic and novelist despite the seeming conventionality of his works Guided by Tournier's essays and interviews Petit examines his fiction in light of plot sources philosophical and anthropological training and his belief that fiction should change the world Close study of Vendredi ou les limbes du Pacifique Le Roi des aulnes Les Meteores Gaspard Melchior et Balthazar and La Goutte d'or as well as the short fiction in Le Coq de bruyere and Le Medianoche amoureux shows Tournier's revolutionary conception of plot structuring as he develops key themes whether religion sensuality or prejudice in more than twenty years spent reconceiving the nature of fiction
