Five Novels Valmouth The Flower Beneath:

Five Novels Ronald Firbank, 1949 Tells the humorous and exotic stories of eccentric queens princesses and prelates and a West Indian family seeking to make its way in society Ronald Firbank Steven Moore, 1996 An annotated Bibliography of secondary Materials 1905 1955 The River and the Train Edwin Brock, 1979 With The River and the Train Edwin Brock's sixth collection to be published by New Directions this British author shifts his focus from the brutality and desperate compromise of urban existence to the more pastoral though no less complex irony of life in a converted East Anglian granary The bitter anger of such earlier books as The Blocked Heart 1976 and the prose and verse Fragments of a Childhood Here Now Always 1977 has not disappeared but has been dispersed and mellowed by the poet's life with his second wife artist Elizabeth Brock and their daughter Fred Wistful sardonic Brock now fantasizes not reincarnation so much as sometime loop which returns me to where I started to go wrong Invisibility is the Art of Survival Edwin Brock, 1972 Invisibility Is the Art of Survival marks the first appearance in this country in book form of the work of Edwin Brock Born in London in 1927 Brock says he has spent the subsequent years waiting for something to happen occupying his time as a sailor journalist policeman and adman in that order Yet none of this he feels has touched him except with a fine patina of invisibility Poetry however is for him an act of self definition which sometimes goes so deep that you become what you have defined And this he adds is the nearest thing to an activity I have yet found Thus in addition to being poetry editor of Ambit Brock has published several volumes of his own His first An Attempt at Exorcism was brought out in 1959 and was followed over the next decade by A Family Affair With Love from Judas a large selection in Penguin Modern Poets 8 and A Cold Day at the Zoo For Invisibility Is the Art of Survival Brock has gleaned a representative selection from all his previous books adding to it a number of recent uncollected poems Confronted with his work American readers will agree with the critic Alan Pryce Jones that Brock has written some of the most observant and compassionate poems of our time poems moreover in which the poet keeps his feet on the ground as skillfully as his head in the air The Portraits & the Poses Edwin Brock, 1973 The publication in 1972 of Invisibility Is the Art of Survival the author's own selection of poems from earlier books brought out in England introduced Edwin Brock to American readers This new collection The Portraits the portraits pithy vignettes of everyday people and their relationships as he knows them Yet what is personal to the poet is made highly accessible by his art and by his particular qualities of profound earthiness honesty humor and concern The Poetics of Otherness and Transition in Naomi Alderman's Fiction José M. Yebra, 2020-01-28 This is the first book on Naomi Alderman's literary production and highlights the writer's transcultural recasting of British and Jewish traditions The four novels analysed here prove to be relevant not only from a literary viewpoint but also from the fields of ethics spirituality and politics The analysis thus focuses on issues such as alterity and respect towards the other in a globalized context As such the book will be of interest to literary critics researchers and students in the fields of literature ethics and social and cultural studies The reader will find in the text a comprehensive approach to a young writer who undoubtedly deserves attention given her interrogation of varied and socially relevant topics including gender and sexual orientation in the early twenty first century the rewriting of the Sacred Scriptures and the discourse of feminist posthuman dystopias Alternative Paradigms of Literary Realism D. Adams, 2009-12-21 Using the traditional genres of allegory pastoral and parable this book develops alternative paradigms of literary realism with which to reexamine a group of crucial but marginalized 20th century writers who have been misread as conventional mimetic realists Criticism of Society in the English Novel Between the Wars Hena

Maes-Jelinek, 2013-05-22 The main concern of this study is the artist's vision of society its major theme is the relation between the individual and society resulting from the impact of social and political upheavals on individual life By criticism of society I mean the novelist's awareness of the social reality and of the individual's response to it the writers I deal with all proved alive to the changes that were taking place in English society between the two World Wars Though the social attitudes of the inter war years as well as the writers response to them were shaped by lasting and complex influences such as trends in philosophy and science the two Wars stand out as determining factors in the development of the novel the consequences of the First were explored by most writers in the Twenties whereas in the following decade the novelists felt compelled to voice the anxiety aroused by the threat of another conflict and to warn against its possible effects After the First World War many writers felt keenly the social disruption the old standards which were thought to have made this suicidal War possible were distrusted the code of behaviour and the moral values of the older generation were openly criticized for having led to bankruptcy Disparagement of authority increased the individual's sense of isolation his insecurity his disgust or fear Even the search for pleasure so widely satirized in the Twenties was the expression of a cynicism born of despair The ensuing disengagement of the individual from his environment became a major theme in the novel his isolation was at once a cause for resentment and the source of his fierce individualism Here, Now, Always Edwin Brock, 1977

The Turn of the Century Christian Berg, Frank Durieux, Geert Lernout, 1995 Rewritten versions of contributions to an international conference held at the University of Antwerp in May 1992 Starting point for the conference was the vagueness of the very terms modernism and modernity In the first section a group of comparatists address the theoretical and terminological problems of modernism Practical readings of modernist writers discussions of different modernist movements and the work of critics who have contributed to debates about modernism make up the second section The third section looks at the problem of modernism from an interartistic and interdisciplinary perspective The Turn of the Century/Le tournant du siècle Christian Berg, Frank Durieux, Geert Lernout, 2012-06-21 No detailed description available for The Turn of the Century Le tournant du siècle Decadence in the Age of Modernism Kate Hext, Alex Murray, 2019-07-16 The first holistic reappraisal of the significance of the decadent movement from the 1900s through the 1930s Decadence in the Age of Modernism begins where the history of the decadent movement all too often ends in 1895 It argues that the decadent principles and aesthetics of Oscar Wilde Walter Pater Algernon Swinburne and others continued to exert a compelling legacy on the next generation of writers from high modernists and late decadents to writers of the Harlem Renaissance Writers associated with this decadent counterculture were consciously celebrated but more often blushingly denied even as they exerted a compelling influence on the early twentieth century Offering a multifaceted critical revision of how modernism evolved out of and coexisted with the decadent movement the essays in this collection reveal how decadent principles infused twentieth century prose poetry drama and newspapers In particular this book demonstrates the potent impact of decadence on the evolution of queer identity and self fashioning in the early twentieth century In close readings of an eclectic range of works by Virginia Woolf James Joyce and D H Lawrence to Ronald Firbank Bruce Nugent and Carl Van Vechten these essays grapple with a range of related issues including individualism the end of Empire the politics of camp experimentalism and the critique of modernity Contributors Howard J Booth Joseph Bristow Ellen Crowell Nick Freeman Ellis Hanson Kate Hext Kirsten MacLeod Kristin Mahoney Douglas Mao Mich le Mendelssohn Alex Murray Sarah Parker Vincent Sherry Author and Title Catalog J.
