that the quarters have at once enriched the experience of food and eating and increased urban sustainability and conviviality in and around previously moribund food spaces while paradoxically contributing to gentrification effects The book frames this experience within more spatially dominant approaches to city design which seem to close off convivial food options and choices that would support a more satisfying and resilient urban life The book draws some conclusions about the complexities of designing and planning for food led renewal that might apply more broadly to other places in London and potentially to other cities in future
