King,2022-02-13 This volume of 12 studies mainly published during the past 15 years begins with an overview of the Islamic astronomy covering not only sophisticated mathematical astronomy and instrumentation but also simple folk astronomy and the ways in which astronomy was used in the service of religion It continues with discussions of the importance of Islamic instruments and scientific manuscript illustrations Three studies deal with the regional schools that developed in Islamic astronomy in this case Egypt and the Maghrib Another focuses on a curious astrological table for calculating the length of life of any individual The notion of the world centred on the sacred Kaaba in Mecca inspired both astronomers and proponents of folk astronomy to propose methods for finding the qibla or sacred direction towards the Kaaba their activities are surveyed here The interaction between the mathematical and folk traditions in astronomy is then illustrated by an 11th century text on the qibla in Transoxania The last three studies deal with an account of the geodetic measurements sponsored by the Caliph al Ma m n in the 9th century a world map in the tradition of the 11th century polymath al-Biruni corrupted by careless copying and a table of geographical coordinates from 15th century Egypt

Comet Madness Richard J. Goodrich, 2023-02-15 Halley's Comet visits the earth every seventy five years. Since the dawn of civilization humans had believed comets were evil portents. In 1705 Edmond Halley liberated humanity from these primordial superstitions or so it was thought, proving that Newtonian mechanics rather than the will of the gods brought comets into our celestial neighborhood. Despite this scientific advance when Halley's Comet returned in 1910 and astronomers announced that our planet would pass through its poisonous tail, newspapers gleefully provoked a global hysteria that unfolded with tragic consequences. In Comet Madness, author and historian Richard J. Goodrich examines the 1910 appearance of Halley's Comet and the ensuing frenzy sparked by media manipulation, bogus science, and outright deception. The result is a fascinating and illuminating narrative history that underscores how we behave in the face of potential calamity then and now. As the comet neared Earth, scientists and journalists alike scrambled to get the story straight as citizens the world over panicked. Popular astronomer Camille Flammarion attempted to allay fears in a newspaper article, but the media ignored his true position that passage would be harmless. Weather prophet Irl Hicks, publisher of an annual pseudo-scientific almanac, announced that the comet would disrupt the world's weather. Religious leaders thumbed the Bible's Book of Revelation and wondered if the comet presaged the apocalypse. Newspapers confident that there was gold in these alternate theories gave every crackpot a megaphone, increasing circulation and stoking international hysteria. As a result, workmen shelved their tools, farmers refused to plant crops they would never harvest, and formerly reliable people stopped paying their creditors. More opportunistic citizens opened comet insurance plans. Others suffered mental breakdowns and some took their own lives. Comet Madness reveals how humans confront the unknown, how scientists learn about the world we inhabit, and how certain people, from outright hucksters to opportunistic journalists, harness fear to produce a profit.

Le ciel est par dessus le toit. The sky is up above the roof. Si bleu si calme. So blue so calm. Un arbre par dessus Je toit. A tree there up above the roof. Berce sa palme. Waves leaves of palm. La cloche dans le ciel qu'on voit. A church bell in the sky. I see. Doucement tinte. Softly tolls. Un oiseau sur l'arbre qu'on voit. A bird upon the tree. I see. Chante sa plainte. Sadly calls. PAUL VERLAINE. Like Verlaine we are in prison. The prison is our Earth which is so pretty, our atmosphere and its clouds, its marvellous clouds. You would think that Verlaine, Prevert, and Baudelaire had been comparing notes. The sky is up above the roof. A tree there up above the roof. Stars in the sky like birds, their rays like bells, and here we are with Apollinaire. What we see opens the way to what we guess at, what we observe leads us towards the unobservable. A poem releases images and the invisible grows big with reality. Astronomers are a little like poets, indirectly from the Greek. To make them make the universe by interpreting messages, extrapolating spectra, and inventing models of the cosmos or of stars, fictional constructions whose observable part constitutes only a small fraction of the whole, and which only the inductive logic of the
