

A photograph of two engineers, a man and a woman, on a construction site. The man is wearing a yellow hard hat and a blue shirt, and is holding a walkie-talkie to his mouth. The woman is wearing a white hard hat and a blue shirt with a green safety vest, and is looking down at a set of plans she is holding. They are standing in front of a large, orange metal structure, likely part of a bridge or a large building under construction.
