psychology A particular recent interest is represented by a chapter on the reception history of the Hebrew Bible in the visual arts music and literature including drama and film The concern throughout is to encapsulate contemporary currents in interpretation rather than to put forward the contributors personal views but also to suggest how biblical study may or should develop next in these areas As with previous volumes what is provided is a view of global scholarship as seen from these islands that will be useful to serious students of the Hebrew Bible throughout the world As well as describing their field the contributors also provide substantial bibliographies pointing readers to other modern discussions Ezekiel: A
