Re-envisioning Egypt 1919-1952 Arthur Goldschmidt, Amy J. Johnson, Barak A. Salmoni, 2005 Re Envisioning Egypt 1919 1952 presents new and often dismissed aspects of the constitutional monarchy era in Egyptian history It demonstrates that many of the domestic and regional sociopolitical and cultural changes credited to the 1952 revolutionaries actually began in the decades before the July coup Arguing against the predominant view of the pre revolutionary era in Egypt as one of creeping decay the volume restores understandings of the 1919 1952 years as integral to modern nation state formation and social transformation The book s contributors show that Egypt s real revolutions were long term processes emerging over several decades prior to 1952 The leaders of the 1952 coup capitalized on these developments yet earlier changes in Egyptian society fundamentally facilitated their actions and policies This volume includes revisionist discussion of domestic political issues and foreign policy the military education social reform and class as well as popular media art and literature By introducing new approaches to these under appreciated categories of analysis through exploration of untapped sources and by re examining the political context of the time Re Envisioning Egypt 1919 1952 proposes innovative methodologies for understanding this crucial period in Egyptian history casting these years as fundamental to the country s twentieth century trajectory Contributors Tewfik Aclimandos Malak Badrawi Andrew Flibbert Nancy Gallagher Arthur Goldschmidt Mervat Hatem Misako Ikeda Amy J Johnson Anne Claire Kerboeuf Samia Kholoussi Hanan Kholoussy Fred Lawson Shaun T Lopez Scott David McIntosh Roger Owen Lucie Ryzova Barak A Salmoni James Whidden Caroline Williams The Oxford

Handbook of Modern Egyptian History Beth Baron, Jeffrey Culang, 2024 Until relatively recently scholars of Egyptian history understood the modern period to begin with the movement of European people and ideas to Egypt s northern shores precipitated by Napoleon s invasion in 1798 From this perspective modern Egyptian history was animated by the diverse and sometimes contradictory ways in which Egyptians responded over time to colonial power and modern forms of knowledge This handbook featuring 26 originally commissioned essays by top scholars in the field adds to a growing literature that complicates the facile colonizer colonized and modern tradition binaries undergirding this view Modern Egyptian history is a continuous process of translation and adaptation invention and reinvention Bringing together a dynamic and accomplished group of historians of Egypt the book maps the present state of modern Egyptian history highlighting the most promising avenues of research and laying new ground upon which future generations of scholars may build The contributors address both long persisting themes in the field though in new ways as well as new themes reshaping how we understand modern Egyptian history and thus Middle Eastern and global history These include environment family infrastructure intellectuals labor law literature medicine politics popular culture and slavery Within these categories they explore issues of gender race and class The questions these scholars consider reflect pressing contemporary concerns and debates including medical sovereignty and bodily autonomy the management of the environment the rights and movements of workers courts and legal

Understanding the Public Sector in Egyptian Cinema: A State Venture Tamara Chahine Maatouk, 2019-11-04 In 1957 the public sector in Egyptian cinema was established followed shortly by the emergence of public sector film production in 1960 only to end eleven years later in 1971 Assailed with negativity since its demise if not earlier this state adventure in film production was dismissed as a complete failure financially administratively and most importantly artistically Although some scholars have sporadically commented on the role played by this sector it has not been the object of serious academic research aimed at providing a balanced nuanced general assessment of its overall impact This issue of Cairo Papers hopes to address this gap in the literature on Egyptian cinema After discussion of the role played by the public sector in trying to alleviate the financial crisis that threatened the film industry this study investigates whether there was a real change in the general perception of the cinema and the government's attitude toward it following the June 1967 Arab Israeli war

African Filmmaking Kenneth W. Harrow, 2017-05-01 This volume attempts to join the disparate worlds of Egyptian Maghrebian South African Francophone and Anglophone African cinema that is five formations of African cinema These five areas are of particular significance each in its own way The history of South Africa heavily marked by apartheid and its struggles differs considerably from that of Egypt which early on developed its own Hollywood on the Nile The history of French colonialism impacted the three countries of the Maghreb Tunisia Algeria and Morocco differently than those in sub Saharan Africa where Senegal and Senegal had their own great effect on the Sahelian region Anglophone Africa particularly the films of Ghana and Nigeria has dramatically altered the ways people have perceived African cinema for decades History geography production distribution and exhibition are considered alongside film studies concerns about ideology and genre This volume provides essential information for all those interested in the vital worlds of cinema in Africa since the time of the Lumière brothers

Encyclopedia of Arab Women Filmmakers Rebecca Hillauer, 2005 Arab women filmmakers Who are they What drives them What are their experiences in a male dominated profession How do they function within the contexts and constraints of patriarchal societies The answers are complex and sometimes surprising as complex and surprising as the vastly different films these women direct In this unprecedented book Rebecca Hillauer assembles a comprehensive and penetrating look into the history of Arab women's filmmaking as well as the political and social background of the countries Egypt Iraq Lebanon Syria Algeria among others from which these artists emerged In addition to the biographies filmographies and discussions of their most important works lively in depth interviews allow us to hear from the filmmakers themselves Collectively these women who hail from a wide range of professional religious and social backgrounds provide a varied and vivid picture of what it means to work in creative and journalistic fields in the modern Arab world For Hillauer the subject of a film its genesis and the personal story of the artist who created it reveal far more than a particular approach to cinematography Arab women filmmakers and their main characters who are often semi autobiographical not only afford us a look at seldom seen facets of Arab societies they personify an alternative women's model one that is far removed from western clichés Broad in scope and rich in insight Arab Women Filmmakers is a must read for cineastes as well as students of film feminism and the Middle East Water on Sand Alan Mikhail, 2013-01-10 Making environmental history accessible to scholars of the Middle East and the history of the region accessible to environmental historians Water on Sand opens up new fields of scholarly inquiry The Cinema of North Africa and the Middle East Gönül Dönmez-Colin, 2007 Twenty four essays on individual selected films many by scholars and writers based in the region It explores established film cultures such as those of Turkey and Iran and also nascent cinemas such as those of Israel Palestine and Syria Selected films include Cairo Station Egypt 1958 Umat Turkey 1970 The Runner Iran 1989 Once upon a time Beriut Lebanon 1994 Chronicle of a disappearance Palestine 1996 Circle of dreams Israel 2000 Ten Iran 2002 and Uzak Turkey 2003 Page 4 of cover New Approaches to Islam in Film Kristian Petersen, 2021-04-26 Many global film industries fail in expanding the role of Muslims on screen Too often they produce a dichotomy between good and bad Muslims limiting the narrative domain to issues of national security war and terrorism Naturally much of the previous scholarship on Muslims in film focused on stereotypes and the politics of representation This collection of essays from an international panel of contributors significantly expands the boundaries of discussion around Muslims in film asking new questions of the archive and magnifying analyses of particular cultural productions The volume includes the exploration of regional cinemas detailed analysis of auteurs and individual films comparison across global cinema and new explorations that have not yet entered the conversation The interdisciplinary collection provides an examination of the multiple roles Islam plays in film and the various ways Muslims are depicted Across the chapters key intersecting themes arise that push the limits of how we currently approach issues of Muslims in cinema and ventures to lead us in new directions for future scholarship This book adds new depth to the matrix of previous scholarship by revisiting methodological structures and sources as well as exploring new visual geographies transnational circuits and approaches It reframes the presiding scholarly conventions in five novel trajectories considering new sources exploring new communities probing new perspectives charting new theoretical directions and offering new ways of understanding conflict in cinema As such it will be of great use to scholars working in Islamic Studies Film Studies Religious Studies and Media Commerce in Culture A. Flibbert, 2007-09-03 Commerce in Culture is an innovative study of how states have responded to the globalization of the film sector Concerned with more than film content or substance the book exposes the ongoing political and economic struggles that shape cultural production and trade in the world The historical focus is on Hollywood's engagement with rivals and partners in two leading developing countries Egypt and Mexico beginning with the birth of their national film industries in the late 1920s State and market institutions evolved differently in each context acting like national prisms to mediate international competition and produce distinctive results As filmmaking has become a dynamic focal point in the new economy Commerce in Culture reveals a vital but neglected part of the global terrain      Transnational Arab Stardom Kaya Davies Hayon, Stefanie Van de Peer, 2024-01-25 Building on the work of star studies scholars this collection provides contextual analyses of off screen representation as well as close textual analyses of films and star personas thereby offering an in depth study of the Arab star as text and context of Arab cinema Using the tools of audience reception studies the collection will also look at how stars of film stage screen and new media are viewed and received in different cultural contexts both within and outside of the Arabic speaking world Arab cinema is often discussed in terms of political representation and independent art film but rarely in terms of stardom glamour performance or masquerade Aside from a few individual studies on female stardom or aspects of Arab masculinity no major English language study on Arab stardom exists and collections on transnational stars or world cinema also often neglect to include Arab performers This new book seeks to address this gap by providing the first study dedicated entirely to stardom on the Arab screen Structured chronologically and thematically this collection highlights and explores Arab film screen and music stars through a transnational and interdisciplinary set of contributions that draw on feminist performance and film theories media studies sound studies material culture queer star and celebrity studies and social media studies

Midnight in Cairo: The Divas of Egypt's Roaring '20s Raphael Cormack, 2021-03-09 A vibrant portrait of the talented and entrepreneurial women who defined an era in Cairo One of the world's most multicultural cities twentieth century Cairo was a magnet for the ambitious and talented During the 1920s and 30s a vibrant music theater film and cabaret scene flourished defining what it meant to be a modern Egyptian Women came to dominate the Egyptian entertainment industry as stars of the stage and screen but also as impresarios entrepreneurs owners and promoters of a new and strikingly modern entertainment industry Raphael Cormack unveils the rich histories of independent enterprising women like vaudeville star Rose al Youssef who launched one of Cairo's most important newspapers nightclub singer Mounira al Mahdiyya the first woman to lead an Egyptian theater company and her great rival Oum Kalthoum still venerated for her soulful lyrics and other fabulous female stars of the interwar period a time marked by excess and unheard of freedom of expression Buffeted by crosswinds of colonialism and nationalism conservatism and liberalism religious and secular values patriarchy and feminism this new generation of celebrities offered a new vision for women in Egypt and throughout the Middle East      Mamluks and Crusaders Robert Irwin, 2024-10-28 Mamluks and Crusaders Men of the Sword and Men of the Pen brings together a series of studies based mainly on medieval Arabic sources of Middle Eastern history and society in the late Middle Ages Several of these studies deal with the confrontation between the Mamluks and the Crusaders Others deal with aspects of Mamluk society and culture in Egypt and Syria from the 13th to the early 16th centuries There are articles on such matters as Crusader feudalism and Mamluk iqta Crusader and Mamluk currency the last years of the Crusader states Mamluk faction fighting the size of the Mamluk army the image of the Crusaders and other Europeans in Arabic popular literature a neglected source on the sex life of the Mamluks the ritual consumption of horse meat by Mamluks and Mongols the table talk of the Mamluk Sultan Qansuh al Ghawri the deployment of gunpowder and firearms in the Middle East gangsterism in Cairo and the shared interest of Ibn Khaldun and al Maqrizi in the occult Finally several studies deal with questions of historiography in both Crusader and Mamluk studies

Tropical Dream Palaces Odile Goerg, 2020-02-01 Many studies focus on film in Africa Few however study cinema as a leisure activity one that has influenced several generations and opened up spaces to dream discuss or contest Movie theatres offered a break from the daily routine as places of escape and of education Cinema was also potentially subversive offering an alternative to colonial discourse Tropical Dream Palaces seeks to trace this history in a West African context of broadening horizons on the one hand and of censorship and control on the other It fills a historiographic void following cinema's arrival in the region in the early twentieth century up until the Independence era and also looking further afield to Central Africa and its different models Goerg addresses questions of film distribution in colonial times of screening venues their implantation spread and different categories while also focusing on audiences their gender or age the acquisition of a film culture and the impact of screening foreign images Her book draws on extremely varied sources to paint a broad picture of this cinematographic landscape archives the accounts of African and European spectators or administrators novels autobiographies the local press interviews and iconography

Conscience of the Nation Richard Jacquemond, 2008 Artfully combining social and literary history this unique study explores the dual loyalties of contemporary Egyptian authors from the 1952 Revolution to the present day Egypt's writers have long had an elevated idea of their social mission considering themselves the conscience of the nation At the same time modern Egyptian writers work under the liberal conception of the writer borrowed from the European model As a result each Egyptian writer treads the tightrope between authority and freedom social commitment and artistic license loyalty to the state and to personal expression in an ongoing quest for an elusive literary ideal With these fundamentals in mind Conscience of the Nation examines Egyptian literary production over the past fifty years surveying works by established writers as well as those of dozens of other authors who are celebrated in Egypt but whose writings are largely unknown to the foreign reader Novelists and poets scriptwriters and playwrights critics and journalists all have battled with and tried to resolve the tensions inherent in the conflicting forces of self and society

The Perils and Promise of Moroccan Cinema Kevin Dwyer, 2025-03-13 Based on extended field research and meetings with members of Morocco's film world this book traces the development of Moroccan cinema over the past three decades Drawing from his extensive work on Moroccan cinema Kevin Dwyer discusses important aspects of Moroccan film culture such as freedom of expression the role of women cultural diversity the promotion of culture the role of humor the shifting emphasis on the urban autobiographical aspects of films and the development of documentary films Dwyer closely analyzes a significant number of Moroccan films providing crucial details about filmmakers historical context and comparisons with the cinemas of Tunisia Algeria and Egypt

problems of creativity in the Arab and African world focusing on Moroccan cinema and one of its key figures filmmaker M A Tazi Dwyer develops three themes simultaneously the filmmaker s career and films filmmaking in postcolonial Morocco and the relationship between Moroccan cinema Third World and Arab cinema and the global film industry This compelling discussion of Moroccan cinema is founded upon decades of anthropological research in Morocco most recently on the Moroccan film sector and the global film industry and exhibits a sensitivity to the cultural political social and economic context of creative activity The book centers on a series of interviews conducted with Tazi whose career provides a rich commentary on the world of Moroccan cinema and on Moroccan cinema in the world The interviews are framed variously by presentations of Moroccan history society and culture the role of foreign filmmakers in Morocco thematic discussions of cinematic issues such as narrative techniques the use of symbols film as an expression of identity and problems of censorship and the global context of Third World filmmaking
