Department of Egyptian and Assyrian Antiquities, 1913 The Sacred Beetle John Ward, 1902 Egyptian Antiquities: Scarabs Percy Edward Newberry, 1906 Egyptian Scarabs Richard Wilkinson, 2008-11-18 The scarab is the single most abundant artifact to have survived from ancient Egypt and hundreds of thousands if not millions were made throughout the course of Egyptian history Today scarabs continue to be found on excavations throughout Egypt and thousands reside in museum collections around the world This volume examines these ubiquitous and important artifacts by first considering the unique biology and behavior of the scarab beetle and its incorporation into Egyptian symbolism religion and art The development of the scarab amulet is then considered and the many types of scarab produced by the Egyptians are surveyed Two particularly important classes of scarab the heart scarab and the commemorative scarab are examined in detail Finally the export of Egyptian scarabs and their imitation by the nations around Egypt is examined as a tangible mark of the extent of Egypt's influence in the ancient world and of the importance of the scarab itself Egyptian and Egyptianizing Scarabs Andrée Feghali Gorton, 1996 Scarabs are common finds in Punic sites around the Mediterranean In this study the author presents a simple typology for the scarabs that will provide a guide to classifying these finds She indicates their own kind on other Mediterranean sites and investigates the grounds for their dating and their origin The study is selective being based on the major groups of finds from major Punic sites and from many minor ones It offers some provisional answers to the many questions that beset studies of east and west of Greek and non Greek in the 8th 6th centuries BC and sets the scene for further detailed study of the many scarabs from non Punic sites that do not fall within this typology Scarabs: An Introduction to the Study of Egyptian Seals and Signet Rings Percy E. The Late Middle Kingdom and the Second Intermediate Period were the heyday for scarab seals with names in Ancient Egypt During this time names of kings and non royal individuals occur on hundreds of scarabs and their impressions making scarabs one of the primary groups of written sources for the period This book explores research paths opened by confronting the textual evidence provided by scarabs with the stylistic and typological traits observable on them in an effort to recontextualize these miniature decorative objects most of which stem from mass scale undocumented plundering in the late 19th and early 20th century The book takes a new perspective on scarab production in Egypt showing that different types of scarabs were produced concurrently and the production of scarabs was not limited to a single centre at a given period It amends the methodology of studying Middle Bronze Age scarabs in Egypt to acknowledge that artisans purposefully reproduced certain scarab styles The study contributes to the ongoing discussions on the chronology of the Second Intermediate Period Egypt's interconnections with the Levant and the role of foreigners in Egypt in the Middle Kingdom
