Eighth Green Man And Other Strange People:

Environmental Consciousness Stephen Hussey, Paul Richard Thompson, 2004 Across the globe environmental questions feature more and more in today's social and political agendas In Western countries environmental campaigns target issues at home and abroad They have a special urgency which draws in an astonishing range of field campaigners from young militants to rebel aristocrats This book examines the roots of contemporary environmental consciousness and action in terms of both popular experience and tradition The global reach of this book reflects the character of contemporary environmentalism It examines a geographically and thematically diverse range of case studies including British environmental campaigners in the Brazilian rainforest ecocriticism and literature the environmental movement in Kazakhstan and medieval church iconography The common theme linking each chapter is that environmental consciousness and activism are shaped through people's life stories and that their memories are shaped not only through individual experience but also through myth tradition and collective memory Containing a wealth of empirical source material Environmental Consciousness will be invaluable for sociologists and historians alike It offers a cutting edge illustration of how narrative and oral history can illuminate our understanding of an uncertain present Stephen Hussey is a research associate at the School of Education at the University of Cambridge His previous publications include Childhood in Question and his next publication will be a book for the wider market entitled Headline History Paul Thompson is research professor in sociology and director of Qualidata at the University of Essex He is also founder of the National Life Story Collection at the British Library National Sound Archive and founder editor of Oral History His previous publications include The Voice of the Past The Edwardians and The Work of William Morris
